Michael lewis marketing suite toolbox

If you're a real estate agent (especially a Keller Williams agent), you may have already heard of the Michael Lewis Marketing Suite. His company provides marketing and marketing collateral for Keller Williams Market Centers to help agents increase brand awareness and improve their local image with the MLMS Toolbox. If you don't have login credentials, ask your Market Center Coordinator and get access to the MLMS Toolbox. Michael Lewis, the CEO and Creative Director of Michael Lewis Marketing Suite, originally created the toolbox to help agencies in Southern California improve their branding. He had success there and started to expand. Now Keller Williams agents around the world are using the MLMS Toolbox to enhance their images. So let's say you have all your beautiful new marketing materials. What next? How do you generate real estate leads with them? Before you use your new business cards, brochures, etc. That's how you find them. Build your landing pages. First, you want to create landing pages specific to the type of leads you're looking for. Are you trying to recruit new agents? Find buyers? Sellers? Whatever the case, you want at least one dedicated landing page for each campaign. In this way you tailor the message specifically to your prospects. If you need some help with this, check out my guide to creating landing pages. Set up your digital ad campaigns. Then you want to drive traffic to your landing pages. The best way to do this is through digital advertising. Any ad network can work depending on your audience. You need to do some research to find out where they are, and then choose a network or multiple networks to target them to. Facebook can be an effective channel for any purpose, even without partner categories. One option is to use Facebook's lead generation ad format. These lead gen ads open a form that is pre-filled with all the information Facebook already has on them, making it easier for them to fill out the form. You need to use an offer to entice them to fill out the form, and you need to use a tool like Zapier to automatically email them what you promised in the ad. Nurture Your Leads. Once you've generated the leads, your work isn't over! Start by getting in touch with them, with the ultimate goal of meeting them in person. As soon as you meet in person, the MLMS Toolbox comes around the corner. Take your polished materials, and show looking like a real pro. Michael Lewis/CEO/Creative Director – Michael originally developed the Marketing Suite for a small group of market centers in Southern California in an effort to improve their local image. The results of his efforts were felt immediately and from there Michael's quest was to develop a Suite of products for agents that were easy to use and not cost prohibitively expensive! What eventually evolved was an in-house marketing department for Keller Williams Market Centers..... one that improved their value proposition, as well as their local image. Michael's extensive background in graphic design, marketing and real estate, gives him a unique perspective that allows him to create dynamic, powerful pieces that resonate with the end user. His creative genius combined with his passion to share, support and give back can be seen in his products and felt by all those who use the Suite! Trish Reinert/Business Development Director – Trish was first introduced in the Marketing Suite when an office she is an owner/agent in started using the Suite. As a former team leader, regional operations manager and current owner/agent, she immediately saw the value in the Suite for agents, market center leader teams and regions! Trish's background with KW, as well as its wide network across the country was a natural fit for the Marketing Suite Team. Trish works closely with regional directors, operational clients and team leaders to bring the Suite to their local markets, ensures proper implementation and training, and acts as a channel between subscribers and the Michael Lewis Marketing Suite Team. Scott Nicholson / Digital Manager / Customer Service Specialist – Scott's background in digital media, web content creation and training was a perfect addition to the MLMS team. Scott oversees and manages the training components the Suite, works closely with our web design team and acts at the point of contact for MLMS Market Center Coordinators. Scott's desire to serve and attention to detail are an ideal fit for our customer service division, which he proudly directs. Support you need. Trouble-free.
