How to find an inmate already convicted of a felony and convicted in the state of Ohio State Inmates Most states have Department of Corrections websites that allow you to type in a felon's first and last name and pull up inmates in that state. Go to this page for inmates in Ohio. If you need to find an inmate in another state prison system, go here. When you click next to the inmate's name or on a link, it will show you which prison or prison the inmate is placed in. If the inmate is no longer incarcerated but is on parole/parole or discharged, it will tell you that as well. In addition, many state prison inmates show pages of recent mug shots. Federal Inmate The federal prison system has its own inmate locator called the Bureau of Prisons Inmate Locator. Write the inmate's name and it will tell you where he or she is imprisoned and their expected release date. It also lists released inmates at the prison and the date they were released. Federal inmates who have moved from one prison to another will show as No longer in federal custody on the system until they reach their next federal prison destination. This movement can take a few days to several months to complete, so keep an eye on the page to find out where the inmate was taken. ICE Inmate ICE Detainee Lookup allows friends, family members and interested parties to find illegal and/or undocumented immigrants who are in the United States without permission. They are held in detention centers approved by Immigration Custody and Enforcement until their hearing or date they are deported back to their home country. To look up the detainee, users need the full legal name of the person used for their arrest and the country the person claimed they originated from. It also helps to have the A number, which is the number ICE assigned to them at their detention, which you can use instead of trying to type the withheld name. Name.
