So, why not use corals as a theme for an anniversary party? Here's how ... Santorini, Greece. Photo courtesy of Chris, Stock.Xchn9 Photos A second honeymoon is a wonderful way to celebrate a wedding anniversary, especially when it's a big one, like the 35th. But if you want to celebrate with friends and family, hitting everyone off in Greece, Tuscany or Hawaii is going to be more than a tad expensive. So why not use this honeymoon destination as inspiration for an anniversary party at home? This Greek feast includes lovely little plates, a little music - and maybe some Abba - and a lot of fun. Photo courtesy of Victor Iglesias, Stock.Xchn9 Photos Celebrate with an anniversary party that recalls dating your heyday, back to those days of disco. The light, retro fun of the 1970s or 80s theme party is reminiscent of those days when hair was big, fashions flashy and music incredible - and would fall in love. So moonwalk with you, groove to Madonna and remember that girls - and boys - just want to have fun. Here's <a href= amp;gt;how to throw the retro disco party: An Italian feast. iStock Photo Ah, bella Italia... those days spent in Venice, Venice, Or capri was divine on your honeymoon. Now they will inspire this 35th anniversary, from food - salumi, antipasto and Prosecco, anyone? - music. It's going to be a lot more real. Celebrate your anniversary in tropical style with tiki torches, teriyaki and ukulele melodies. Then bring on the hula lessons. The iconic Las Vegas sign. iStock Photo What happens in Las Vegas, stays in Las Vegas? Not if you met there, got married there or honeymooned in that dazzling desert town. Then this glorious love affair came home. So celebrate your big 35th anniversary with a Las Vegas-style anniversary party at home, with casino games, eclectic soundtrack and even a charity touch. iStock Photo Remember Photo Booths? You climbed in, the camera flashed a few times, and voila, an old-school movie photo emerged with four funny images. Well, these retro booths are making a big comeback. They appear at weddings, wed night parties, dances, and other bashes, where not only snap pictures, they provide hours of fun. And it's perfect for a party for the 30th wedding anniversary. You can rent one, but it's even more fun to make your own. Hero images/Hero Images/Getty Images The 15th wedding anniversary is known as the crystal anniversary. It features a traditional gift selection and a modern gift option. The traditional gift is that of a crystal element, such as a cup or candlestick. The modern gift for the 15th wedding anniversary is a watch. The gem for the 15th wedding anniversary is ruby. Rubies are the second hardest gemstone. They're second in hardness only to diamond. When worn on the left hand, the ruby reportedly brings good luck to the user. The flower of the 15th anniversary of the wedding is the rose. Bouquets of red roses symbolize love and passion. The fourth wedding anniversary is traditionally known as the fruit and flower anniversary, according to About.com. More modern interpretations consider it to be an anniversary dedicated to the gifts of devices. Due to the fruit and flower theme for the fourth wedding anniversary, traditional gifts include bouquets of flowers, representations of the bride's wedding bouquet and fruit baskets. If the most modern route goes, potential gifts include kitchen appliances, hair grooming items and household appliances. Traditionally, the first anniversary is known as the paper anniversary, the second anniversary as the cotton anniversary and the third as skin anniversary. The idea of providing specific gifts related to the year of the anniversary dates back to the Middle Ages. The 20th wedding anniversary is traditionally known as china's wedding anniversary. The modern gift for the 20th wedding anniversary is platinum. Platinum. Gemstone associated with the 20th wedding anniversary is either an emerald or a yellow diamond. The flower that represents 20 years of marriage is lily day and the color traditionally used is emerald green or white. People buy China as a gift for a couple celebrating 20 years together. A porcelain vase with fresh flowers or a special China dinner service are some examples of gifts suitable for this anniversary. Platinum jewelry is another option for couples as it is elegant and long lasting. Fifteen years together as a couple is an important milestone. Crystal is the traditional gift for a 15th wedding anniversary. It represents the clear and sparkling love between husband and wife. The modern gift is glass or a clock, which is seen by many as a symbol of the time you had—and intend to have together. Many spouses feel challenged when it comes to choosing either a traditional or modern gift on this special occasion. Delivering over a Timex can seem less than romantic, no matter how beautiful it is. Here are some ideas that will help you comply with tradition and modern tradition in a loving way. Crystal has a reputation for being thin and requires careful handling. This is true in some cases, not so much in others. Crystal can be a dazzling reminder of the love you've shared for 15 years, a love that's strong enough to last another 15. For example, a crystal paper weight is more solid than it is thin. The same can be said for a crystal ball-and just think of the fun you can have with that compound. The most subtle crystal ideas include stemware, bells, decanter, and jars. You can fill the vase with flowers. The Spruce/Margot Cavin Watches come in all shapes and sizes, from those hanging on a wall to those sitting at a table or desk or safely comfortably around the wrist. Think about the time you've spent together and the many years ahead that you want to spend together and you'll understand the importance of clocks in any form for this anniversary. A handy watch that you will really love and use can be perfect, too. Consider one designed to wear during water sports, golf, or another hobby. Most fitness monitors include time, as well as exercise monitoring. A watch can even swing from your husband's neck into a lovely gold or silver chain. The Spruce/ Margot Cavin It's not all about crystal and clocks. Three gems are usually associated with the tradition of the 15th of marriage: ruby, garate, and alexandrite. If crystal and watches are not directed at you, consider jewelry. According to rubies and garines, the official color of the 15th anniversary is red, although alexandrite is known for changing color. They only turn red at night, but this can be fun, too. The Spruce / Margot Cavin The traditional flower for this anniversary is the rose, preferably a red one. In his language of roses represent passion, love, and perfection. Picture: © The Spruce, 2019 Now that you have the gifts they have seized, toast each other-with red wine, of course-in this new crystal stemware. Maybe you'd like to buy a crystal watch together instead. You can even cover all your bases with a well-designed gift for two. Fill a crystal box with a love poem or note, a little romantic book, love coupons, or a picture of the two of you. You may want to put together a road map describing a journey that the two can take together in a place known for its clocks and crystal. Switzerland and Italy come to mind. The first year of marriage is often considered the year of adjustment. As you celebrate this special 1st wedding anniversary, think of both the subtle and hardy aspects of your marriage and your love for each other.
