The Beulah Guide Series II is one of the few fly rods to find the sweet spot. There are many exceptional rods on the market by 2020. Some of these rods are what we call Rocket Launchers. The Sage X, Scott Radian and the Orvis Helios 3D come to mind. These rods help the quarry create high-line speeds and are exceptionally accurate in many many On the other hand, there are rods that are short-range sniper tools that are exceptionally accurate to a point and do a great job in protecting the light tip, but fall short when it comes to launching the Long Bomb. The Winston Pure, Scott G Series and Sage LL fall into this category. All these rods are priced at over $700 and do their job indicated very well. No team excels with an endless cast of highly paid superstars waiting for their shot at glory. Most teams depend on the type of character with guts, heart and plenty of skill to kick your ass when asked. The Beulah Series II Guide is this guy. At $295, his contract is respectable, but it doesn't make the owner nervous. Most importantly, he is there for you when you need him or when the star falls out with injury. Bow Meat Eater in the Beulah Guide Series II The Beulah Guide Series comes in weights 3 through 7, with a footer 9 and 10 in the big boy 7 shot. All the wands in the Guide series are designed here in Oregon by the great people in Beulah and are made in South Korea. The management of the work is solid and the attractive dark olive whitespace fit perfectly into the world of fresh water. The 3 wt. is the perfect small power rod. From throwing dries in the Crooked or Upper Deschutes between Crane Prairie and Lava Lake for Brookies, the 3wt. Guide Series will be like the old labrador that travels with you everywhere. For some outside the waters of the beaten path, look to the west side of the Waterfalls that drain McKenzie, Upper Willamette and Santiam. It's as much fun as you can have standing up. A Rio Gold or Scientific Angler (SA) Trout Taper will match the rod very well and provide the delicate touch necessary. The 9' 4wt. Is the enthusiastic dry fly wand of choice in central Oregon. From throwing blue-winged olives into the Metolius or the Fall River, to a large rod for the Crooked, the 4wt. will provide enough power to launch small nymph platforms and small buggers. In general, consider this the lightweight tippet tool to fool cute trout in delicate circumstances. Many browns in Owyhee have been on the losing end of the 4wt. The Rio Gold or SA Trout and SA Infinity lines will make this wand really sing. With this wand, we are now playing ball in Lower Deschutes. As the most versatile wand in the series, the 5 wt. is happy launching attract or dries, weighted denim platforms and small streamers. This rod will be right at home in summer in Lower D come mornings and nights when the fat red sides slurp caddiums in the low light. The rods are quickly tested with the fast burst of speed that a red side exhibits once cheated. The flex pattern forgiven in wand will help keep Mr. Redside buttoned up. Do green drakes hatch at the Metoli in June? The 5 wt will do the job. Do not hesitate to turn this rod into your wand for East Lake, Hosmer or Lava. Whether it's your ants throwing in summer, Callibaetis dries up or the wind drifting from one, the Beulah Series II Guide has enough guts to trade jabs with fish pushing past the 20 mark in the measuring net. If the rod is mainly used to throw small daques consider the Rio Gold or the SA Trout Taper. If you plan to use the 5 wt.com a total weapon, consider the Rio Grand or the SA Infinity or SA MPX. Beulah's Series II guide making a guest appearance at Brown Town Now if casting small dries sounds fun, but throwing garbage for predatory fish really gets the juices flowing, it's the 6 wt. you might want to consider. The 9' 6 wt. is an impressive denim stick for Lower D and can throw Purple Chubby Chernobyl under shrubs that stick out with the best of them. Like the 5 wt., this is a big wand all around and makes up half a good quiver if you like to fish a 4 wt. for most of your dried fly fishing. The fun with this rod does not end in the Lower Deschutes though. The 6 wt. is an excellent streamer wand perfect for throwing some garbage at East Lake for Fall Browns. How about coughing up wind-resistant poppers for Smallmouth on the John Day River? Yes, Please. The tapers Rio Grand and SA Infinity or MPX coincide with the 6 wt. for everyday scenarios. If you plan to lobbing some indicator platforms in the Deschutes, try the Rio Xtreme indicator or the SA Anadro line. For streamer fishing, the Rio Streamer Tip or Outbound Short will stick with the best. And last but not least, if this will be your Salmonfly Hatch W.M.D. look no further than the SA Titan Taper Long. Alaska Steel served hot &amp; Fresh Summer Steelhead on a one-handed 7wt. Metolius Bull Trout rod measured in double-digit pounds. Wickiup Reservoir's omelette that thrives on the margins of baifish. Davis Lake Bucketmouths clearing the surface of Kermit the Frog. A trip in late summer or fall to the Yellowstone River or Alaska. Rods 7 wt. Beulah Guide Series are made for big business. Whether you like throws junk-in-the-Trunk indicator platforms, huck Small squirrels tied rabbit and marabou or Strip/Swing for predators, the 9' 7wt and the 10' 7wt are up for battle. The 9ft7 wt is the total player and is more flexible than footer 10. If there was such a thing as weighing 6.5 this would effectively fit into this category the gap between 6 and 7wt. The longer pole gets the mind for the Big River Nymphr that has the cold and provides more power. A great nymph line for these rods is the SA Anadro with Honorable Mention in the Rio Xtreme Indicator. Fishing streamer with the big stuff is better with the Outbound Short and Honorable Mention at the SA Titan Taper. If you swing flies for summer steel head, pair this one with a 250-grain OPST Commando Head and the OPST Lazar line. Let us know if you have any questions. The Series II guide will not disappoint. My husband has just started fishing with a charity called hero fishing that helps wounded war veterans. I want to bring him his own wand, but I don't know where to start. I know that's a big question, but I'd consider giving a wand for him, since fly fishing is doing him the world of good being around wounded veterans who he can relate to.
