The state of Texas has a 3,240 mile highway crossing a state filled with cars, motorcyclists, agricultural vehicles and commercial trucks carrying from livestock to the state's main oil and coal exports. The number of jobs for commercial truckers continues to grow both in Texas and across the country, and if you are attracted to starting a new career as a truck driver, you must first obtain a commercial driver's license. To start your journey and get a CDL, you will need to pass a written knowledge test and any additional tests you choose to add approval on topics such as air brakes, Hazmat, tanker, combined car, multi-trailer, passenger car, or school bus driving license. The more endorsements you have, the more job opportunities you may be open to you. Your initial written exam and approval test will have questions all based on the 2021 Texas Commercial Vehicle Drivers Handbook.How to PrepareYour the first step should be to read the cover directory to cover and take a lot of notes! The handbook is chock full of information, so don't scare, but keep yourself focused. If your mind starts to drift, take a break or a short walk, then go back to reading. There are hundreds of possible questions you could ask on your CDL written test and you need 80% to pass, but if you study carefully, you can know the answers to all the questions with ease. Once you've read the guide, take a look at your notes, and if you see any areas that are still foggy or unclear, go back and reread these sections of the guide. It is important that all information is dedicated to memory, not only to pass the test, but also to make sure that you will be a safe driver on the road, to protect everyone who will share the road with you. The last steps Before you head to take your CDL written test, it's helpful to read the guide and your notes again to keep it all fresh in your mind. You can stay calm and confident knowing that you are on your way to a new job as a commercial trucker. Home - Texas - Get a FREE TX CDL Texas Guide If you're not a TEXAS resident please?
