A gardener's expertise is generally trained and then can specialize in a field. Think of creating a garden design, maintaining special trees or decorating gardens. Because an expert has trained himself further and therefore has more experience and professional knowledge, an expert often charges a higher hourly rate. One of the advantages of an expert is that you have quality assured. He keeps his knowledge and knows everything about his speciality. You are sure that the garden work is done in a good way. 2. Self-employed or large horticulture company? When you're looking for a gardener for your garden you'll see there are many zpp'ers and big companies. One advantage of a self-employed man is that this gardener is often cheaper. For example, gardeners don't have a high cost for renting an office building or a lot of administration costs. That doesn't mean a zpp'er is better than a company. One advantage of a landscaping company is that they employ many professionals and often all are specialised. For example, you don't have the power to use a different paving company to spook your roof. 3. Location of landscaping company Please note that when comparing free offers, please also note the location. Location affects the level of front driving cost. The further they have to drive for their property, the higher the front running costs. The cost of walking up front is calculated per kilometer and often you pay an initial amount. By choosing a gardener from the area to save you on front driving costs. 4. Mali's quality marks are two main quality marks that can be assigned to a landscaping company. The first quality mark is Gronker. When artisans are awarded green label certificates, they demonstrate quality and craftsmanship. You can also be sure that Mali is well experienced and well trained. The second quality mark is Tuinker. Every gardener with tuinKeur label shows professional ability, professionalism and good service. You can read more about groningen.nl and tuinkeur.nl online. A trade union trade association for horticultural companies is VHG. On VHG's website you can read more about this association. 5.
