(680.4 g)Inches Muzzle Veloth 200 FPS Safety Cross Bolt NOTE: Follow these steps carefully and in order. Failure to do so can result in serious injury and damage to the air gun. Release the slider The zipper latch is located on the left side of the air gun. Use your right thumb to release the hook by pressing the zipper latch. When released, the slide will be pulled back about 1/4. See the animation below. Cocking Pistol Point barrel the air gun up and grab the back of the slide with your left hand. Pull the slide back as far as it goes until you hear a click. The slide should now be 2 inches from its original position. Firmly grab the barrel of the gun with one hand (make sure your fingers are away from the barrel hole to prevent injuries) and push the slide on the other side until you hear the other click and it locks in place. The slide should return to its original position. The air gun is now vacuumed and ready to load or fire. SAFETY After the airgun has been cocked, always put it on safe, involving safety. To do this, press the safety on the left side of the air gun, thus locking the trigger. See the animation below LOADING NOTE: Follow the previous steps before attempting to load ammo. The barrel section will not tilt until the air gun has been cocked. Do not attempt to open it as this will cause permanent damage. NEVER shoot a pneumatic gun with the barrel section open. To load the air gun, press the loading button on the front of the air gun. This button is located directly below the barrel, and when pressed, the entire barrel section will tilt to reveal the two loading ports. Check out the animation below to load the BB's Point air gun down and load up to 18 BB into the SQUARE loading port (NOTE: To quickly and easily load the BB into the air gun one at a time, a speed loader is recommended). BB's are stored in stock and released one at a time and placed automatically in a barrel during a cocking sequence; Be sure to tilt the barrel up while cocking the air gun to allow bb to feed properly. To load airgun pellets pellets are loaded one at a time. To load, place the pellet directly in the barrel (bottom round hole). Push the pellet into the barrel until the pellet skirt is completely clear with the barrel seal. The short rounded end of the ammo seal will help you Granules. Be sure to use only .177 caliber lead airgun pellets. NOTE: Remove all BB before loading and i pellets, darts or screws. Never place pellets, darts or screws in the square bb loading port as this will damage the air gun. To load darts or airgun screws, screws and darts are also loaded and shot one at a time. Push the screw or dart directly into the barrel (bottom round hole) and make sure the dart or bolt flight is completely free and free from barrel sealing. The long, pointed end of the Marxman chair will help you sit down properly with darts or screws. Use only .177 caliber airgun darts or screws. Firing Prepare to fire When loaded, snap the barrel section down into place. Your air gun is now twisted, loaded and ready to shoot. Before shooting, press safety to fire, oil on the right. Aiming and firing safely you and others with you should always wear shooting glasses to protect your eyes when shooting with a gun. Always aim at the air gun in a safe direction. Do not shoot on hard surfaces or water surfaces. A pellet can bounce or ricochet and hit someone or something you were not going to hit. Always choose your destination carefully. It is best to shoot at the target zones of paper, which are attached to a safe backdrop. A heavy blanket should be hung behind the target trap to prevent a ricochet if you miss the backdrop. The backdrop should be checked for wear before and after each use. Replace the backdrop if the surface is worn or damaged or a ricochet occurs. If you are sure that the area around you is safe, pull the trigger to the fire. MAINTENANCE Taking care of your air gun should be oiled after every 200 to 300 shots for maximum efficiency. This lubricates an important firing mechanism and prevents damage to essential parts. To oil the air gun, keep your fingers away from the trigger and hold the air gun upright and without being caught, as shown in the diagram. Place a few drops of SLIK 50-1 ore in a barrel. Leave the air gun in this position for at least an hour so that the grease reaches all the necessary parts. After heavy use, the air gun may lose some of its power due to wear on the barrel seal and/or piston assembly. In this case, it will be necessary to return the air gun in order to replace the parts and service. Service.
