Which part of the Weapon Drop was not understood? (courtesy of StickDeath) Last 2007, I heard this website containing a lot of violence in it. So I went to this site called StickDeath.com & I saw a lot of its animations, games, photos, etc. strong violence. It's a good website, though. StickDeath is an animated cartoon designed by Rob Lewis in 1995. At that time, his famous animation was K9, Parashit, COPS & FLIR. During the early 2000s, he began creating series such as Anti Autoheft Appliances, Al-Quida Cam & Superbeast. In the same year, it's revered in games, such as Crack Home Cleaning, SBOX (XBOX version of SD) & SWAT (vintage and tactical ass-kicking). Despite the bad comments of some people, SD was one of the most popular websites during the early 2000s. SD is highly influenced in rock music & some of the favorite bands are Metallica, Fear Factory, Lamb of God & God Scum of Earth. The return of the Martyr car was its last animation in 2005. Since then, its website is still active, although Rob Lewis left the website unprecedented. I hope Rob Lewis reviews SD today. We want to see his new animation. Does anyone know what happened to the creator? The type of site died of flying 07 apparently (the guy who ran the site) left at work on anything else. According to Wikipedia he works on yanide and happiness (the internet comic). Answering yes, I was a fan of good instead the days of youth.so that day, it leaves without nobody can take her place? Why is the site still up if it never updates it? some of this doesn't make sense. Heh too bad I gave 5/5 could have got 2 blam points :(The stupid thing was I bled the breath and gave it 3/5. It seems I did the right thing, because it's gone. Lol yes both go, but these two flashlight were pretty good inheritors what are you now? Do you miss it? Best complaint letter? What is your profession? Have you done anything new since SD, stick related or not? do not?
