To take over a planet with a cheater, use an imgood imposter to bring your prestige to 100% on that planet, and then create a urmin imposter to make that planet part of your empire, and then warp to another planet and then warp back. Okay, first in to create a new game. Press the tab several times (it should hlight keys) to keep hitting the card until it shows you a little sqaure invisible keys. qquickly (hlight does not take long) hold the shift and try to click the one on the left (bottom left I think), and when you click it description of civilization should be like this: Resistance is futile. you have max resourcxes and a giant cube with unlimited rekaehrge prices. Everyone hats in (even planet vex!) have fun! In cardon press right control untiul it's a wormhole thing (right control selcts stuff in the system) anyway, hail wormhole generator. u should be brought elsewhere. The planet is called a pirate sanctuary. There's also a wormhole generator. Just don't let it explode. It's your only ticket. If it blows up, it's a shame, because you're stuck there. have fun! see a guide to more explanations, but here are the basics: say hello to the planet. look under the small picture and it will say something like: 5bil population 800 power, so what you have to do is reduce the power to 0. If you do, the population will leave and the planet will become uno tonslised. On the interstellar map, uninhabited planets have a yellow ring inside their circle, and the center is black. Once the planet is unoleved, you can set up your own empire there by transporting the capsule to the surface by moving your ship across the planet, and then pressing t, if you have at least 100 team experience. but keep in mind: shrink the planet By 0 you must first destroy all the buildings of the planet, and then the ships. Once you destroy all the buildings the message will tell you that a large fleet is entering the system, and be warned, they are pissed. It will take you some time to kill enough ships (if they don't kill you) to reduce the power to 0, so you may want to go to Hof Maso and buy a Neg'Var. You're going to need some $, and you can use a maxlat impostor, but I'm very much against it. Oh, and after the power's at 0 you'll need to warp around a little while pop's at 0 and then colonize the planet. Finally, to get 100 visiting team experiences, go to Vulcan, greet the university with the option of training the visiting team and continue to buy it. that's all for now, (Author's website) 2game site Free forum | © PHPBB | Free support for the | Contact | | Forumotion.com Vara 4 broken mirror 2 are the same as No.1 - press F8 open cheat window and type:maxlat - increases your latinum to maximummaxdur - increases duranium to max.ilovetocheat - raises prestige to 100 and raises latinum and duranium to max (if you have more than 100 pre The prestige and use this cheat prestige will fall!) imgood - raises the prestige in the current system to 100imbad - makes prestige fall to - 100everyone loves me - raises the prestige in all systems to 110getinthebooth - makes the Earth empire rule the entire galaxy! XD (try to welcome a planet with more than 100 prestige with this enabled cheating)(Try messing with the game editor to facilitate the game, harder, personal, etc. Tip: if you use the ship's editor to make the starting ship powerful, you won't have to buy a powerful boat like the dominion battlecruiser! be careful with the editor because it can cause a delay)after you type the desired cheat move the cursor to the bottom of the screen and cheat will enable - sometimes a random message will appear on the screen, just close it and start again.
