I realized that I was a fool—I know now. Is there a point in that conversation? It’s her voice wrong against Lelouch’s stern dress. Do you finally go to apologize? It’s been five years. Will you at least let me out for dine? Do you think going out for one meal that will make up for leaving me in the middle of the night? He may feel he’s starting to write his life. At least let me try. There’s silence, and it stretches and stretches like rubber strips.
