I scream all about love While they treated you like a dog When you were the one who made it so clear all these years ago I say everything about it, how to give They do not act with great integrity But point the way to the truth when you say All you need is loveLiving with good and evil I always looked to you Now we are left cold and sad by someone devil best friend Someone who offended all these years ago They forgot everything about humanity And you were the one who supported the wall All these years agoSa's was the one who imagined it all all these years agoAll these years ago In the darkest night I send a prayer to you now in the world of light, where free from lies and everything else that we despised You have not forgotten everything about God He is the only reason why we exist Yet you were the one who said it was so strange All these years ago You said it all, although not many had ears All those years ago You had control over our smiles and our tears All these years ago.
