By Tom Lappas on March 12, 2020, Henrico public schools will be open on Friday, but then closed to students for two weeks, and possibly longer, starting Monday, March 16, to prevent the spread of the COVID-19 virus, Superintendent Amy Cashwell announced this afternoon. Teachers and staff members will report to their schools on Monday, but then they too will be out until March 27. But Cashwell said virtual learning experiences (digital and non-digital) will be available to students of all grade levels starting Tuesday, March 17. Details, Cashwell said, would be available in a post-parent-guardian message. The Citizen has learned that these plans for elementary school students – called distance learning plans – will include a number of home learning activities, designed to allow students to have experiences similar to those they would have at school. A student package at each grade level will contain links to a variety of additional optional exercises and resources. Parents and guardians will be asked to complete their work on a schedule that works best for the family. The school system is also designing plans to ensure that students who rely on meals served to them at school are assisted while the school is away, Cashwell said. While schools are closed, school officials will clean and disinfect schools and buses, he said. The school system created a page on its website providing all COVID-19 updates; see it henricoschools.us/covid19. If students return to schools after this two-week break, they will do so only for a week; the school system's scheduled spring break is next week, April 6-10. By Citizen Staff ? on November 19, 2019, officials at the Henrico Schools are seeking public opinion on the two school system calendar proposals for the 2020-21 school year. Both options would start school after Labor Day (September 8) and provide planning, clerical, and professional learning time for teachers, as well as observance of religious holidays. Comments from the public will be considered as the calendar committee recommends a version and the School Board adopts a final schedule. two versions of the winter direction calendar rest differently. Version A has a shorter winter break, but includes six student holidays throughout the year. Version B includes two weeks of winter holidays and four year-round student holidays. For details on both versions and vote for your preference, visit henricoschools.us/calendars/. Highlights of version A (2020-21): • First day of September 8. • Winter holidays: Wednesday, December 23 – Friday, January 1 (return to school on January 4). • Spring break: April 5-9 (covers Easter). • Last day of school: June 18. • Four days for students: January 29, February 15, April 2 and June 18. • Six student holidays: 28 September (Yom Kippur), 2 November (parent-teacher conferences), 3 November (Election Day), 13 November (Diwali), 12 March and 13 May (Eid al-Fitr). (Student holidays and half days are also days of clerical or professional learning for teachers.) Highlights of version B (2020-21): • First day of school: September 8. • Winter break: Monday, December 21 – Friday, January 1 (return to school on January 4). • Spring break: April 5-9 (covers Easter). • Last day of school: June 18. • Five half-day student days: January 29, February 15, March 12, April 2 and June 18. • Four student holidays: 28 September (Yom Kippur), 3 November (Election Day), 13 November (Diwali) and 13 May (Eid al-Fitr). (Half-day days and student holidays are also days of clerical or professional learning for teachers.) While Virginia's school divisions now have the option to start the school year before Labor Day, Henrico Schools are not considering that option by 2020-21. Opening before Labor Day will be considered for future school year calendars. The School Board is expected to adopt a final timetable for 2020-21 at its meeting on 12 December. Meeting.
