Ok guys I finally got a rubber band loom maker thing called rainbow loom loom. You can make an awesome bracelet with it and I am going to teach you how to make a basic bracelet first. You can get a rainbow loom at Michael's or online. It comes with a lathe, crochet hook, c-clips, and rubber bands along with instruction Rubber tapes, rainbow lathes, crochet hook, and c-clips (in my hand) You need to put it to the left side like this. Make sure the arrows are pointing upwards. The arrow will remain pointing up until I tell the other wise. This is how it should look close and continue with the arrow pointing down. Be when you do this. You only need to grab the grab that it comes from. Keep doing this all the way to the end. 1 Make perimeter bands. When the arrows are pointing upwards, loop the tape from the pin of the first center to the first left pin. Next, loop the tape from the first left pin to the second left pin, then the second - the third. Continue the left line until you reach the second to the last pin. Then loop the tape from the second to the last pin diagonally into the last middle pin. Go back to the beginning and repeat this for the other side until you have strips around the perimeter of the fasteg. [2] 2 Make the first explosion. Push all the perimeter lanes down. Then insert the tape into color A (regardless of the desired color) on the pin of the second middle row and the pin of the second right row. Then insert five more strips, going from the middle row pin to each of the surrounding pins, clockwise. This should leave you in the form of a starburst or an asterisk. Push down all the lanes as you go. 3 Make another explosion. Place the tape from the pin of the fourth middle row diagonally to the pin of the fourth right row. Do clockwise strips again until you have another burst with the bottom that coincides with the top of the first explosion. Continue this until all the sico (inside the perimeter) is filled. Push the bars down each time. You can change the colors of the explosion as you go. 4 Place the middle circle strips. Double the perimeter color bar and place it on the final middle pin. Then double the next to put it in the center of the blast. Keep these double strips in the center of each explosion until you reach the end. 5 Start weaping. Turn the looms around so that the arrows are in front of you. Then hook the lower loop of the nearest starburst from the first middle pin and pull it (carefully so as not to unfold the other strips on the pin) loop it on the center. 6 Weave all the explosions. Next, starting from the center of the explosion and moving counterclockwise, use a hook to pull the first half of each tape and loop on the pin that begins (the center, pin, center, center, pin, etc.) take place. Always be careful not to throw away other strips on the pin in the center. You should be left with something that looks like a flower or sun. Do this process for all explosions. 7 Weave the perimeter. Starting from the strap that runs around the lower right and lower central pins, pull the end, which is wrapped around the lower central pin, and pull it down (without unplugging the other straps) and through the lower left pin so that both ends of the strap are on that pin. Then do the same for the tape, which is wrapped around the lower right and the second- left pins. Continue until you finish the entire left side, ending when you hook the last left bar on the last middle Then go back to the beginning and follow the right side of the movement. 8 Add the end cycle. Reach the hook through all on the last middle pin. Pull the new strip, which you hold in your fingers, pull it through the strips, then push the hook through the loop of the new tape so that it is completely wrapped around the hook. Then, holding the hook in your hand with a loop, still around it, pull the entire bracelet away from the cuffle. 9 Add an extension. Add new bands on the chin, about five of them all down on one side. Loop the tape from the first pin on the second pin, then the second pin on the third, the third on the fourth and so on. Then take the first loop on the back of the bracelet (on the side without a hook) and act it as another rubber band, adding it to the chain you started on the fastening. In addition, chain strips from the rear with bracelets all the way to the first tape. 10 Add a C clip. Attach the C or s clip to the last bar on the chin, remove the whole thing from the rag, then cut off the C or s clip on the hook loops. Remove the hook and it's over! [3] 11 Enjoy a new bracelet.
