He will also give three cooked pink birds and two super-record rehab pills 2.heading east, and talk to Ogre guards standing by the barricades. Tell him about the dagger, and he'll let you come over the barricades and go all the way and climb down the stairs to enter the dungeon. When finished, you will see Lecturn broken the skeleton and the Ogre coffin 4. Search for the damaged Lecturn and you will find a torn page of the book. 5.Find the skeleton of zombies to appear and attack you. Once you've killed it, find the skeleton again and you'll find the destroyed backpack. Inside you will find Dragon Inn Tankard, knives and rotten food. 6. Use a knife on the Ogre coffin west of the skeleton, then search for a black prism. 7. Head to Yanille (use the Watchtower teleport to get there faster) and go to the hotel. Show the tank to the bartender and he will tell you that the tank belongs to Brent Levahn. If you can't enter it, ring the bell outside, talk to Zavistic Rarve and he'll tell you about dark art. He said Sytik, Sithik Ints is located on the upper bed of the house north of the Wizarding Society (he will not display a yellow dot on your small map). Talk to him and ask him about undead Ogres, you force him to search the room. You'll find three books: H.A.M, Nechromium books and portrait books. You will also find papyrus and charcoal. 10. Read three books, then use papyrus with Sithik. If it's dishonest, find a drawer for more papyrus and draft Sithik again. 11. Use the torn pages you found earlier in the quest with the book. 12.Head back to the hotel, and show the picture you painted to your bartender. He'll also sign a portrait. 13. Go to Go back to Sithik Ints's room and take a strange picture of it on a cup of tea, then go downstairs and go upstairs again. If you don't have Snake Weed and Rogues Purse, go to Karamja (whether by teleporting or by boat) and find herbs (see our Guide to Wild Force Medicine Quest for more information). Use a Rogues purse with a bottle filled with water and then add a snake, you will get a balm of Relicym, which cures the disease if you are infected by zombie disease 17. He'll give you the key to the Ogre door. Battle 18 If you don't have Achey Logs, go to places with Achey trees (see our guide to hunting big birds for more). Cut the tree to get Achey Logs, then use a knife on Achey Logs while holding the wolf bone and finally add a bow string so that the cruel arrow cuts Achey's note into a bow shaft, then adds the feathers to get the shaft unlighted. Finally, add the metal nails to the unverified shaft to get the cruel arrows. 19.When you have enough arrows to defeat enemy level 111, use your armor, food and medicine. Keep in mind that he drains prayer quickly and uses weak range, you should use it to protect it from close proximity 21. Go back to the dagger to get your reward. Zogre Flesh Eaters is a Feldip Hills space quest where you have to go into the crypts of Gu'Tanoth, an ogre relaxation area now crawling with zombies and skeletons. Undead official description works for your life... Giant zombies are here for your meat! The ogre ceremonial dance area used to communicate with ancient ogrish ancestors has been subverted with diseased undead ogres. How did this happen? Can the prize a brave adventurer get from exploring the cemetery of such places? When you talk to him, he advises you to leave the area immediately due to the infection of some creatures called zogres, these zombie giants appear from the ground and spread illness through the ogre ceremonial place, ask if you can help, and he says that underground burial dungeons must be the cause of the presence of ground zogres, zero jumping over the grish obstacles, give two super rehabilitators (3) and cook three chopped birds (if you don't have enough inventory space, these things must be reduced under your feet). Talk to a giant guardian to the east by obstacles. After you mention Grish's mission, he removes the obstacles so that you are in an area full of suddens. Jump obstacles and try to avoid zogres and skogres while running east to a series of stairs down. Take these stairs into the dungeon, the evil roots enter the cave, the skeleton leaning against the lectern, proceeded to the far northwest corner of the dungeon to the area with several giant coffins. When you enter the room, you will see a brief cutscene where the contents of the room focus on - skeletons and giant coffins. Find a skeleton that protrudes on a broken lectern, spawn aggressive zombies, kill it to get a backpack containing dragon buckets, rotten food and knives. If you take too long, the zombies will disappear, forcing you to find the skeleton again. Rotten food can be discarded. Search for a broken lectern to find a torn face with spells used to place the curse in the area of raising the dead. In addition, the page reveals the guild symbol on closer inspection. Keep the page because it will be used later. Find the coffin that the skeleton is facing and unlock it using a knife, then search again to get a black prism. You may have failed to find the coffin several times. Head to Yanille to start investigating your objects. Dark Art speaks to Zavistic Rarve to the Dragon Inn, which is located in the southwest corner of the city, and uses a Dragon inn tanker on a bartender, explaining that the tanker belongs to Brentle Vahn, an immoral client who is often seen by a shady wizard. Talk to Zavistic Rarve on the 12th floor [UK] of the Guild of Wizards or (if you don't have level 66 Magic to enter the guild). Ring the front bell to call Zavistic, talk to Zavistic and show him a black prism and a torn face. He said that although black art practice is forbidden to study, it is not; some Sithik Ints are often seen reading about it. Sithik is on the 12th floor[UK] of the guest house north of Guildford. Go to the top floor of the guest house and into the western bedroom. Siik was sick and now a horse bed, talking to him and he refused any connection to zogres. Find drawers, cabinets and wardrobes on the west side of the bed. He found portrait books, nectar, papyrus and charcoal, and 'h.a.m books,' the bartender confirmed that Siik was the culprit, read the book, and then used papyrus on Sithik to paint his picture on it. When you're done, take a portrait with him. If Sithik appreciates The fact that the portrait is not realistic enough. You can get more papyrus by searching for drawers. If he appreciates the integrity of the portrait, go straight to the Dragon Inn and show the portrait bartender (use the portrait with him). The bartender remembers the sik and returns it as a signed person. The accusations Sithik Sithik switched to ogre Return to the Magic Guild and talked to Zavistic Rarve about some of the items you want him to watch. He passed the evidence automatically, starting with a necromancy book and a torn page, followed by the book 'h.a.m.' This is sufficient evidence for him to gather more information from Sithik, he gave you a strange drug, which you need in Sithik to demand some answers. He flatly refused, so simply washed the medicine into a cup of tea on Sithik's drawer, went down the stairs and back up to find out that Sithik had become a giant, talking to Sithik and he confessed to being an H.A.M member and gave information about zogres he hired Vahn to cast a spell to get rid of the giant, and it was irreversible. The only way to have the disease is to have suffering undead ogres can be harmed by a special type of arrow - 'cruel', which is made from the flat side of the nail - providing powerful grinding power with zogres and skogres, the treatment of illness is the therapeutic use of the purse and snake's rogue. Making ogre composite bows/brutal arrows, get answers from Sithik and speak to Grish, unlock the ability to make cruel arrows. On your own, there is no need to complete the quest, however, you will deal up to half the maximum damage when fighting the final boss using arrows made of other means. It can kill with a conventional 40-level weapon, but it will take a while. If you decide to use cruel arrows and bows, you can save time by buying from grand exchange, as getting the ingredients can take a lot of time. You can make ogre composite bows after having Grish show you how to do it by clicking Save the tree with wolf bones in your inventory, create an unstrung comp bow; To make arrows, use aches tree logs to produce 4 ogre arrow shafts, then fletch them with feathers. This creates a flying Ogre arrow. Use nails on flight ogre arrows to create cruel arrows. The Slash Bash relocation was easily attacked behind this safe spot, back to Grish and told him how Sithik told you, Grish told you that although he could change the ceremonial space, he needed a sacred artifact to move on and give the key to the Ogre door to access the ceremonial room. After that, ask him if there is a more effective way to kill zogres. He showed how to use a composite ogre bow. After your conversation with Grish, you can spin it, climb on to the crushed obstacles again, dodge Sogri and Skgri, and climb down the stairs to the east. Go west to the side of the cave and look for two successive oaker gates. Proceed through these using the door key and down the stairs. Head northeast through zogres, then to the east to the end of the room filled with skulls. Find a stand in the middle of the skull Do not use a familiar summons while fighting Slash Bash, whether he refuses to fight back and is unsurprising. Level 58 zogre named Slash Bash comes out from behind the skull and carries you to attack. He switches between range and melee attack patterns. Using a range, use a composite ogre bow, it is recommended to use at least a cruel iron arrow, while the cruel arrow will cause maximum damage. Melee and magic attacks are more difficult due to slash bash's high defense against everything but brutal arrows. If the fight takes too long, he will stop fighting with you and disappear. If not, use the method of ogre bow / arrow, the battle will be long but simple. Your hits will hit only about half or less than usual, but with 60 protection, no food required. When Slash Bash is dead, pick up two bones, three of our bones and ogre artifacts that he put back to Grish to get your reward. The Song Unlocking Award (Zogre Dungeon), Zogre Dance (Jiggig), needed for the completion of the cultural reference, transcription of the title of quest is a drama in the 1979 film Zombie Flesh Eaters Trivia when asked what he did, Siikic talking about bringing the dead to life again. The player talks about how important he is, referencing how the player comes back to life after being killed. The awards screen still mentions the disease even after the disease is removed from the game. If a player tries to start a pursuit without the necessary requirements, they will have been in a very long argument with Grish about whether the player depends on the job or not.
