These modified and related relationships are manufactured and entered on the date ___ by ___ and ___. The purpose of the relationship should be to develop, maintain and promote the growth of both sides. Create a space that supports and champions each other's stories. This agreement may become invalid only after the meeting in person, consisting of oral communication with eye contact. Hands should be shown. Both sides should sit. (B) The intentions of both parties entering into this agreement and relationship are as follows: Loving completely without manipulation or control. It will be fully defined as loving with honesty and integrity, pulling in good faith from the heart and seeking a better life for the other side. Loving is not to hate. Both agree to perform love with their best abilities, with the intention of building something real and lasting. Real and lasting must be defined as honest love with healthy intentions until love is no longer honest or healthy, after both sides can say they have done everything in their power to keep love honest and healthy. (C) Intimacy. Both sides agree to see intimacy as intelligence. Both sides agree that orgasm is not the goal during sexual encounters. There will be no pressure on either party to give or get an orgasm. The study is defined as deepening souls. Not just sexual activity. Both sides agree to make efforts to these studies knowing that new definitions will be created. If one party is unwilling at any point to have sex, even if the other party has been aroused, the party's choice should not be held against him or her. It is stirred up by the party's own responsibility to take care of this arousal. However, you need some form of communication from a participant who does not want to have sex. The duration of communication is determined by an individual. Eye contact is not required during communication. Kisses will be needed every day. While the duration and type of kiss will remain open, at least one six-second kiss will be a daily recommendation. Both sides will realize and understand each other's love languages, based on Gary Chapman's 5 languages of love. Receiving gifts, quality time, words of affirmation, acts of service and physical touch. This understanding should be taken into account when the way one practices intimacy does not match another. Both sides have the right not to disclose their sexual history. The choice to withhold their sexual history will not be conducted against them. Or be a measure of love in a relationship. Constantly mys about your sexual history will not be tolerated. (D) Actions. Both sides will do their best to love without their past. Do your best will be determined by the person according to where they are in their mental/emotional space and inner journey. This depending on external vitality and events. Loving without his past should include, but not limited to: Not comparing past relationships to this current one. Aware of old patterns of love, both in thought and behavior, that are unhealthy and take actions to change them. Do not pressure or hope for a partner to be either behaviour in a way that is not honest to him or her. Both sides are responsible for working on commitment issues, mom/dad issues, codendencing issues. Work on is defined as attending a therapist, counselor or attending seminars and meetings. Workshops can be online, but should be alive. Reading self-help books alone does not meet the minimum requirement to work further. (a) Communication. Both sides agree to try to understand before trying to be clear. Both sides should actually listen, not think about the answer, and the other says. The speed of the impact must be inserted before either party says stupid shit they will regret. Both sides express their feelings. Don't hold them for fear or habit. Both sides understand the importance of expressing themselves. It's the difference between doing life with someone, not around. Both sides are making a conscious effort to express themselves. (b) Ownership. Both parties make an effort to own what is their own. This includes uncontrollable emotions, feelings of jealousy. This applies to words and actions that contribute to conflicts in relations. In addition, events that have occurred in the past that have been held by each side in a certain way, which can contribute to the unhealthy dynamics of relationships and models. Both sides agree to own their own triggers as well as negative energy. 2 External self-government. Both sides agree to work on their relations with their bodies. Both diet and exercise. Both have to agree not to stop their workout routine because they are off the market. Both should understand that their connection to their bodies and comfort in their own skin directly affects relationships, and each of them is responsible for working on that connection and comfort with themselves. Both sides agree to practice self-service. This includes mental, emotional and physical health. It is not superfluous or performed only when life is good. It is the obligatory and responsibility of every person. Mental and emotional health may include but are not limited to therapy, self-help books, life coaching, meditation, spiritual practices, etc. Physical health can include but is not limited to daily exercise, healthy eating and good hygiene. (a) Work. Both sides must put in the hard work and do everything in their power to pursue their passions and dreams. Hard work is determined by a natural person. But an eight-hour working day would be a minimum requirement. either party is unemployed or on life transition, three months maximum time to get on your feet is not provided without a bitch from the other side. During this period, the unemployed must make an honest effort to stand on his feet. Raising a child will also be included in the hard work. Video games are not allowed. Sixteen hours of working days are not allowed. If both sides disagree, it is necessary (temporarily) for better relations and quality of life of both sides. Both sides agree to share and maintain each other's work/entrepreneurship experience. Not to judge or control your dreams. Complaining, whining and acquitting cannot be tolerated. (b) Date night. Both sides agree to make an honest effort on the night of the date. Things may vary. No minimum or maximum amount of days or money is required. Netflix and cooling should only be extended twice a month in the date night category. Date night should require both sides to put the effort into putting on some pants and making an effort to look sexy AF. NO CLAUSE Mental tolerance, emotional and physical abuse should not be tolerated under any circumstances. Any form of abuse violates this agreement. Separation is obligatory. Both sides are strongly encouraged treatment. NO clause both parties should understand that there is no guarantee in love. Feelings can change. Parties can drift. Loving someone -- is a daily choice. In a few days it will be easy. In a few days it will be difficult. Both sides understand the risk of choosing to love each other, perhaps a heartbeat. LOVE HARD CLAUSE Both parties should love hard. Loving hard must be defined as making an honest effort to love everything. Not to lose yourself in a relationship. To show yourself. Be vulnerable. Have healthy boundaries. Communicate and express feelings. To understand that you can and are likely to be attracted to other people, but it is very different from loving and building a relationship with someone. Loving without an ego or fist. Loving with an open heart. Often goodbye. Always be a student to love. Believe and pursue magic. Magic cannot be determined.
