Nickname: THX's own disaster movie, THX's Logo of Disaster, THX's Own Personification of All The Evil Logo: We start with what looks like a sunny day in the city. Suddenly, the clouds grew and the darkness covered the city into darkness. Then we cut off some buildings in the city and another thunderstorm caused a power outage. After that, some rain began to drop from the sky, causing flooding that destroyed many buildings. Some winds, tornadoes, typhoons, and hurricanes form to destroy many other buildings. People responded to the weather and ran away screaming like in a disaster movie, then the wind storm began to break and blow away some signs of animals and buildings as the earthquake shook several buildings into rubble. Then the fire struck across the buildings and hundreds of houses, blasting them to the ground. Suddenly we cut off some asteroids and meteorites when they started moving to Earth. Then we cut back to the city where the volcano erupted, spewing lava, destroying some houses, and giant monsters began to appear and destroyed the city with their arms. Now that we are at home, where the family looks into the TV, adapted to the news channel, the reporter says, the Bible of the Bible is happening now! Then the TV turns into a static and the family is scared and runs away from their homes. Then we saw a lot of people running away, scared and evacuated. The Army Control Center is then seen with a man hitting a button to fire a missile. Another man popped up and said, Our missile is launching and there's nothing we can't do. The two men were also scared and ran away. Suddenly we saw people running away as fast as they could across several cities. Then we zoom out onto meteorites and asteroids as they fly through space. The camera then moves to Earth and meteorites and asteroids fly to earth's real feast. Asteroids and meteorites eventually hit the asteroid, causing mass destruction and also making the earth turn red and become a planet full of lava. The planet then vibrates and the light rays begin to come out of it. The planet exploded and the rubble fired from the explosion. Suddenly we see that the destruction has reduced the planet to the THX logo, which will see the zoom in while still, the THX logo moves up to the top and rotates suddenly towards the top left. Then the logo goes out of sight, and after six seconds, the rock that comes from the remains of the destroyed planet will fly through the screen. After the stone passed, the audience was listening, fading away. Finally, the word Lucasfilm Ltd. sound system and copyright notice fade below FX/SFX: a disaster that occurs, people who work, destroy and Music/sound: We start with peaceful music, but when disaster begins to happen, the music then segues into a montage of pieces of music from several disaster films from the 1950s, 1960s, 1970s and 1980s, when the THX logo pops up a theme 5 notes from the close encounters of kindis strangely heard. In the futuristic font with the URL www.thx.com below the slogan, where the color of the text and logo is electric green FX/SFX: all live action Music/Audio: Just press the button in a THX-rated G-rated movie from 2011 onwards, the laughing child will hear when the logo appears. THX certified movies again and seen in some THX certified cinemas and DVDs that have been mostly THX certified and Blu-ray since 2011 This logo is part of the campaign. Example(2011-) Nickname: Calvacade 2011, Calvacade 2, Can you feel it? Logo 2: On the white BG, we see a blue ball floating in the middle. Suddenly the ball starts to bounce and starts to turn blue, bg suddenly the ball starts to glow and then explodes, then we zoom out to see the blue THX logo on the white BG.com. Animation.Music/Sounds: Ball bounces and blasts whoosh sound as we zoom out and re-sounds whoosh as the message fades Availability: Just like the 19th trailer, the panic factor: no unless you don't like the 22st Bomb Trailer(2011-) Nickname: Secret & Moroccan, Tex 4, Tex in 2D, Tex. Still on strike, Tex & Friends logo: THX logo starts up like everyone else, but the logo is in 2D and flashes immediately, then the logo closes and we zoom in to show that the power cable is broken as the culprit. The two stared at each other awkwardly, then repaired the wire, then Tex from trailers 5, 6 and 11 appeared (but in 2D) and pulled the switch that restarted the logo and completed it in normal order, then Tex flew away, but crashed into the logo, which made a black screen with the words The Audience was listening, which would fall into secret. Then the logo fades FX/SFX: 2D digital animation, this is done by Squirrel/Mole Studios animation studio Music/Sound: Deep Notes (which flashes and then opens again with the logo), plus what happens in the logo Availability: In 2012, it is seen at the THX Theater to show another secret squirrel movie. First appeared in June 2011 at www.thx.com.Scare Factor: Moderate sound error and deep note may start partially, but it is intended to be funny.23nd Trailer (2012-2013) Nickname: Logo Anchor YTP, Tex vs. YTP, Why I've Never Seen a new car link 2, Porygon electric military logo, YTP pwns Tex Logo: On rainbow background we see Tex from trailer 5 into the king's castle. Then the YTP character enters the castle and fights texas in a Pokemon style, and the YTP actor sends Porygon away. Follicles begin to seize Texas like in Pokemon episodes Electric soldiers Porygon and Texas were killed by seizures. He resurrected the THX logo and the blue outline also appeared on him, then it faded into the 2010 version of the Broadway logo (the 1983 one was used in 2D printing), then Porygon would zoom across the logo, then the background would flash about every color of the rainbow. Then the logo fades and 1 second later screams out and scares the audience. The screen is distributed into pieces like FX/SFX's Glass: Incredible CGI animations made by hatena productions's internal animation company, Hatena Digital Variant:In Japanese cinemas, the anchored parts are replaced by a black screen with the word 関 In most YTP films, the screaming part is cut off music/sound: the sound of the 1920s, before the Pokemon Battle, Pokemon LeafGreen music for battle and seize part, and Deep Note, loud screams from Ghost Car Commercial, when the screams rang out, the sound exploded, combined with shattered glass, the sound of the screen shattered to pieces: watched in youtube poop films at the time, it was first spotted in the YTP trailer at thx.com The panic factor: up to WTF!- seizure, deep recording, and screaming can be scary without Low ever seen it. Minimum for that model without screaming 24rd Trailer(2015-) Logo: On a time-lapse mountain background, we see the sun setting slowly when all of a sudden flash full screen brightness. It dimmed and disappeared completely to reveal the THX logo, this time with a sharp X point. The shimmering logo and background will fade later FX/SFX: sun settings, flash, shimmering logo of music/sound: Deep note Availability: General can be seen on newer THX and Blu-ray DVDs, including a few theaters. Shock factor: Medium to high due to later dark atmosphere and Deep Note.25th Trailer(2015-) Logo: On a white background, several colored balls come in and bounce all over the screen. Then one by one, they each scattered the entire background. After that, some colored balls splash over the THX logo, making it look like a color painting. /Sound: Flute theme 19 record play as the color ball bounce has been scattered and thx logo theme when thx logo is scattered, the 7-note trumpet theme will play until the logo is finished.
