Skip navigation. Story on Amazon Prime DaySok, like Moscato wine and Netflix's autoplay feature, chances are you have a love-hate relationship sports bra. (Which is actually the tendency to remain in the hate category until we find one that really supports us.) It's one thing to find something that actually makes us feel cute, but real conversation: At the end of the day, we're just here trying to workout comfortably – we don't bounce around the Peloton feeling like we have a range of free weights strapped to our chests. To save the chest-hurt, we went ahead and scouted the best sports bras on Amazon - and who knows? If we're lucky, some of them are even available during Prime Day. With a $20 sleep hit on a $70 miracle made with bigger busts in mind, Amazon is a veritable gold mine of fitness-friendly brassières. Let's get down to the love side of our sports bra relationship, shall we? At Refinery29, we're here to help you navigate this overwhelming world – and while we get commissions from Amazon, all the goods on our site are independently selected and supported by the Shopping team. Keep up with buzzfeed's daily newsletter! Robyn Lawley is the first plus size model to appear in the annual bikini Bible. This year: She commanded her own photo shoot in the 2015 issue as the first plus-size model to appear in the annual bikini bible. Australian Robyn Lawley is a beautiful American size 12, still slimmer than the average American woman (a size 14). He doesn't look obviously plus size to us, but in a world where size 2 is so regularly introduced as the ideal, he will take Lawley as the size-12 agent of this change to him: his appearance on the issue marks his historic first in Sports Illustrated. RELATED: The best swimsuit from Tested Lawley himself shies away from any label, in an interview with Time magazine. I don't know if I consider myself a plus-size model or not, she said. I just consider myself a model because I try to help women generally accept their bodies. MJ Day, deputy managing editor of Sports Illustrated, echoed Lawley's thoughts, explaining that the magazine simply refers to her as a model, dropping a plus-size tag. She kind of embodies the classic SI girl-she's interesting, she's beautiful, she has an incredible body and I felt that she would be a great addition to the issue,' Day said. It was that simple. RELATED: 8 Ways to Look Beautiful Bare She shows off her stunning figure in the photo spread, with some footage wearing a bikini in her own swimwear line. I never thought this would happen to me, so it's a milestone, Lawley said. When I started my career ten years ago, I had to go to the casts painfully, and people looked at you and said, What the hell are you doing here? ... I want to be there for the average girl who's my size. The swimsuit issue boasts another front, with the inclusion of an advert for swimsuits for everyone, featuring plus-size model Ashley Graham. The campaign for the swimwear shopping site, called #CurvesinBikinis, is yet another sign of the rise of the curvy girl. RELATED: 4 moves from Bikini-Ready Body Holy home run, Batman! Google Calendar just got a lot more useful. The free web-based service has recently added a mammoth library of sports schedules, meaning you can easily keep tabs on your favorite teams games. Assuming you already have a Google Account, just go to Calendar and click New: Sports Calendars in the upper-right corner. Click the Sport tab, and then select the sport you want: baseball, basketball, cricket (!), Football, Hockey, Rugby or Football. In each category you will find almost every professional and college league and association on the planet. Continue drilling until you find the team you want, and then click Subscribe to add the calendar. It's Google Calendar, of course, the new things you get added as a separate, independent calendar, one you can redeem or who you'll have. To add a specific game to your personal calendar, just click it and select copy to my calendar. It's incredibly useful for someone like me, as I like to know when my favorite team is playing, but not the wired-for-sports brain needed to follow my schedule. That makes it a snap. Joe Raedle/Getty Images News/Getty Images The fonts used inside Sports Illustrated are Antenna, Quiosco, Farnham and Receiver. The font used on the cover is copyrighted, custom-made and not commercially available. Impact is the only commercially available font similar to the one used in the title Sports Illustrated. The Impact font is available through Microsoft and is integrated into many versions of Microsoft Word. In the annual swimsuit issue, the magazine cover featured the Lato font, the Reina font, and custom letters. The font of the swimsuit edition cover changes every year. Tutorial 1 - 5 40 results Company size: 501-1000 employees Industry: Environmental Services Time Used: Over 2 Years Review Source: Captterra Prosl I like the fact that I can email, chat, etc. with the team. This allows parents to schedule, schedule, and stats. ConsThis software is good and I don't have any cons. Kelsy of Stone Belt Freight Lines, Inc Time Used: Over 2 Years Review Source: Captterra I've has helped run a local youth sports club for nearly 9 years. During this time, I tested and used several different online registration systems. Most have their own pros and cons, and unfortunately many of them have disadvantages (privacy costs, ease of use, lack of admin security, hidden fees, etc.) that far outweigh the pros. We used it in our club more than 8 years. During this time the club benefited from the continued development of the software, which added useful features to make our admin jobs much easier and faster. As volunteers, we always value time savings!!! SportsSignup allows us to manage registrations for all sports. We register players and coaches. And because we're very concerned for our children's safety, we use the KidSafe Background Check system to check that our coaches and other volunteers don't have a questionable past. Because this system is directly tied to registrations, it is very easy for our volunteers to complete and easy risk management for our team. Our coaches love TeamWall and easyAlert to be in touch with their players' parents. It is very easy to keep up with the super important snack schedule as well as keep track of game and practice changes or cancellations. Also, if you ever get into trouble or just have a question (or two) the tech support department is great. They're always friendly and happy to help. If you don't happen to know the answer or get stumped they are great at doing research and getting back to you for the answer. If a bug is found (which all software has bugs and SportsSignup on rare occasions will have one) they are quick to get it fixed (which is not true of all companies out there). By the way, SportsSignup has just introduced a new website component. Now you can use the software to create the club website. You can also now schedule games. Our club hasn't started using these two new features yet... but we plan to switch over early next year (waiting for the seasons to end some of our great sports before they pass). SportsSignup is an excellent fit for our multi-sport club. If you are looking for Registration Software SportsSignup is worth considering. Our admin staff and parents all highly recommend this software. It's made running our club a lot easier. Robert at West Babylon Soccer Club Review Source: Captterra used our LUSL reg. last year and we are time saving. We use it to make a 4-part reg form. Redundant time consuming paper work is replaced by an on-line reg, which allows us to track divisions with simple clicks & drop time-saving steps. Parent forms are no longer required. Just one click of the mouse allows parents to agree to the parent's acknowledgement form. Coaches don't hunt parents for signatures. Parents have access to the children's team to know who is on the team and the coaches' availability that they always lose. Looking forward to this year's reg. the returning players are already in the system and simply need to click on the button and make a payment. Copy over rosters from last season and make minor adjustments, not begin again from scratch. Cc payments are deposited directly into our account. Don't wait for SportsSignUp to pay us. We had very few setup problems and the support team walked us through process every step of the way and ensured our full satisfaction. ProsEasily tracks registrations counts, payable/claims, email blasts, formations teams, ability to set registration dates, coordinators can view accounts/teams in real time to form teams, or answer account questions. You can easily send payment reminders to pending invoices. A treasurer and registrar are able to work on the same task together in their own homes or separately if they convient each individually. You no longer need to meet at the right time and for long hours. Travel coordinator enjoys an immediate roster of submissions from the LUSL office for approval. Travel coaches are happy because they have immediate access to the league's approved rosters and print them out if necessary for competition and games days. They no longer have to fill game day schedules every week, or track down the travel coordinator to get league approved rosters. Player passes can be printed out on their own computer and you just need players to sign them. Background checks can be monitored and completed through a system. ConsMinor glitches, but the support team was fabulous for quick response and problem solving
