Footprints in the sand can't be done by sitting on the shore. Honestly, nothing like that. I have read all your books on .NET and SQL Server good. All your articles are nice. You know what stings me.... you are not yet an MVP codeproject and this is surprising. I understand. in the list and I doubt how reliable the project code's MVP list is. hemasarangpani wrote: Honestly nothing as such. I have read all your books on .NET and SQL Server good. All your articles are nice. You know what stings me.... you are not yet an MVP codeproject and this is surprising. I see people on the list and I doubt how reliable mvp code work list is. Agreed! Probably Shiv needs a bigger signature, as some do. modified 17-Jul-19 21:02pm. No matter I think long queues are problems.... I like to write about codeproject, great platform. Footprints in the sand can't be done by sitting on the shore. Hi Shivprasad, I appreciate your efforts, but ... I have a suggestion for you that your articles should be reviewed by someone for grammatical errors before posting to any website. It gives a bad impression on you. Please take this seriously. Greetings, Rajesh modified on Friday, July 17, 2009 5:15 am Hi Rajesh, Yes, I agree with what you say. Let's criticize Siv, not his country. His country had nothing to do with his English. I'll try to take it seriously. Footprints in the sand can't be done by sitting on the shore. Pranam sirji, Congratulations hamare taraf se MVP ke liye. Hamare career mein hamne 5 bar work badle, sab apki dua se. Ab ghara banaye hai, 50 hazar salary ho gayi hai. Dil se thank you Mr ji. You're not my hero, you're my God. Hi Mr. Julunder Ji, God is a huge title. I'm happy/sukhi as I am, has too many commitments. It's good to hear you benefit from me. Visit my 500 videos on WCF, WPF, WWF, Silverlight, UML design patters @ I'm one of the many hidden people whom you've helped unknown through your books and seminars. I read your first book ~9 years back and have been buying all interview versions (.net/sql/architecture/project management etc.) ever since. Your book always tell me what I'm missing in terms of technology and where to upgrade. I like the simple language of the book and the aspects it covers. You must have gotten a lot of commitment and giving attitude when you need to have started this without any return (missing almost all developers). Continue and appreciate your contribution to the software development fraternity. - Tittle [Message Deleted] Thanks for the change. Don't worry, I didn't mean anything. Thanks for your inputs I'll see for applying the same. Visit my 500 videos on WCF, WPF, WWF, Silverlight, UML design patters @ totally agree with you sir. I wouldn't really know what sh't is to you, but you've won the CP MVP award and that's good Your. Congratulations!! Follow your bliss. - Joseph Campbell Congratulations rajesh, you're CP MVP too. Visit my 500 videos on WCF, WPF, WWF, Silverlight, UML design patters @ I'm not sure why this message has gotten '1' voted, since it's just a compliment to an MVP emeritus. Vasutevan Deepak Kumar Kumar HomepageTech Gossip Forests are wonderful, dark and deep, but I have promises to keep, and miles to go before I sleep, and miles to go before I sleep! Hi shivprasad, I'm new to the .NET field just graduated in the U.S. I used to read all your articles and book your interview questions on .NET I don't have a job yet, but I hope I'll get it soon. Thanks for all your articles. They help me a lot. Prob because all the examples on the one page I read were completely wrong. I would suggest reading the Go4 and not using the design of Shiv models pages. Shiv – sorry if this feels like it's a personal rant, but you shouldn't post stuff up that could cause others to fail in interviews etc. You must have someone check your examples first before posting. @handled1: What happens to design pattern examples. It's so easy to understand. It's in your mind how to apply it to your work. And I feel so good from going through all the tutorials and design standards and because of that now I work at a very good MNC Company. If you think there is something wrong, then why not mail him back so that he can make the necessary changes and everyone take advantage of it. Keep it up. Sive.
