Go and Do (4:32)Download video: 360p 720p 1080pView these following resources from past youth topics: As part of Sunday night's face-to-face event for children and young people, David Archuleta sang the 2020 Youth Theme Song, Go and Do, based on The Scriptures Find in 1 Nephi 3:7. Archuleta, who is best known as the runner-up on the seventh season of American Idol, not only performed a song never heard before, but also shared his personal testimony about the Book of Mormon.Archuleta explained that as a child, he was often called socially awkward and felt that he was worthless, but his bishop's invitation led him to read the entire Book of Mormon when he was 12 years old. I didn't understand everything I read, but I felt from that experience that I approached and got to know Christ in a way I had never experienced before, and I was able to get to the end of the Book of Mormon, Archuleta said. And I decided to kneel down and pray and ask if it was real, if it was true. And I was surprised because I not only got the answer that it was real and it was true, but I also got an answer where God said: My son, I know you. I know who you are. And 12-year-old David, who didn't think he was worth anything and didn't think I was worth God's time, I realized that He knew who I was and cared for me, and that I had a purpose. The song perfectly shows that the Lord prepares the way for all to do what the Lord tells them to do. I'll go and do it. I will stand up for the truth. Although the world may close him, I will close his place. I know that if I follow him, follow him with faith, He will ease my burden, and He will provide a path, the lyrics read. Archuleta does not appear in the video, which was filmed in New York, but he can be heard singing the song in the video below.
