Catching fire book quotes

From the moment Quell was announced, there was a plan to get us out of the arena. The winner of the honors from 3, 4, 6, 7, 8 and 11 had varying degrees of knowledge about it. Plutarch Heavensbee has been part of a secret group for several years aimed at overthrowing the Capitol. Add a quote I want to spend every possible minute of the rest of my life with you. — Suzanne Collins, Catching Fire I think it's a bad time to mention I hung a dummy and painted Seneca Crane's name on it... — Suzanne Collins, Catching Fire At some point, you have to stop running and turn around and face whoever wants you dead. The hardest part is finding the courage to do it. — Suzanne Collins, Catching Fire Bird, pin, song, berries, watches, biscuits, dresses that burst into flames. I'm a taunt. The one who survived despite the Capitol's plans. A symbol of rebellion. — Suzanne Collins, Catching Fire So it's you and the syringe against the Capitol? See, that's why no one allows you to make plans. — Suzanne Collins, Catching Fire I wish I could freeze this moment here, right now and live in it forever. — Suzanne Collins, Catching Fire violet_gorilla_79 November 4, 2020 My mother's face floods with relief. Oh. I thought there was a problem. No, not at all, I say. The trouble will begin when my prep team sees how I let my eyebrows grow back. - Catching fire What about you, the girl on fire? Do you have any secrets worth my time? - Finnick Odair HarithaReddi Jun 15, 2020 You could do much worse. -Haymitch Abernathy You can live life a hundred times and never deserve it you know. - Haymitch Abernathy My nightmares are usually about losing you. Peeta to Katniss ♥ This is no place for Girl on Fire Eyes clear, chin up, smiles on. -Effe lowen3 Jan 09, 2018 Sugar cube? Finnick Odair ♥ I need you, Peeta, really. No. C need me, he says, and there's no self-pity in his voice. I realize that only one person will be irreparably harmed if Peeta dies. Me(and me). Yes, I say, knead you. Take it because he's a boy with bread. * Dies laughing * seriously though I love that scene. <3 PRIM!!! PRIM, where are you! KATNISS, THEY WOULDNT HURT PRIM! ITS JABBERJAY! CAPITOL LOVES THE PRIME! Would they do anything to her?! Katniss and Finic at JabberJay Arena That's no place for a girl on fire. Katniss There is no district twelve. - Gale Spark could be enough to set them on fire. - Katniss Everdeen _quotation_badge_criteria_ brown_elephant_18 Jun 22, 2015 My nightmares are usually about losing you. I'm fine when I realize you're here. It was all for the games, peeta says. The way you behaved. Not everything, I say and hold firmly On the 75th anniversary, as a reminder to the rebels that even the strongest of them cannot overcome the power of the Capitol, male and female honors will be reaped from their existing pool of winners. - President Snow pliredcoat February 08, 2014 Do you have any secrets worth my time? -Finnick Odair Quotes marked as catch-fire Showing 1-30 of 44 Really really , the combination of scaves and ointment looks disgusting. I can't help enjoying his suffering. Poor Finnick. Is this the first time in your life you don't look pretty? I say. It has to be. The feeling is brand new. How have you done all these years? he asks. Just avoid mirrors. You'll forget it, I say. Not if I look at you, he says. — Suzanne Collins, Catching fire Peeta, how come I never know when you're having a nightmare? I say. I don't know. I don't think I'm screaming or punching around or anything. I'm just trying to make my way through, paralyzed by terror, he says. You should wake me up, I say, and I'm thinking about how I can interrupt him two or three times on the wrong night. About how long it might take to calm me down. That's not necessary. My nightmares are usually about losing you, he says. I'm fine as soon as I realize you're here. — Suzanne Collins, Catching Fire Bird, pin, song, berries, watch, biscuit, dress that burst into flames. I'm a taunt. The one who survived despite the Capitol's plans. A symbol of rebellion. — Suzanne Collins, Catching Fire Technically, I'm unarmed. But no one should ever underestimate the damage that nails can cause. Especially if the target is not ready. — Suzanne Collins, Mockingjay Whose is it, do you think? I say finally. You can't say that. finnick says. Why don't we let Peet say that because he died today? — Suzanne Collins, Catching Fire You have to go through it to get to the end. — Suzanne Collins, Catching Fire By late afternoon I lie with my head in Peeta's lap making a crown of flowers while he plays with his hair claiming to practice knots. After a while, his hands stopped. What? I'm asking. I wish I could freeze this moment, right here, right now, and live in it forever, he says. Usually this kind of commentary, the kind that suggests his undying love for me, makes me feel guilty and horrible. But I'm so relaxed, and aside from worrying about a future I'll never have, I just let the word slip away. Okay, I say. I can hear all those winter days, before games. I'm not trying to move out. Why should I? His voice whispers. I love you. That's why. — Suzanne Collins, Catching Fire But I feel like I know Rue, and she will always be with me. Everything beautiful brings her to her mind. I see her in the yellow flowers that grow in the Meadow near my house. I see her in Mockingjays who sing in the trees. But most of all, I see her in my sister, Prim. — Suzanne Collins, Catching Fire Shame is not a strong enough word for what I feel. You could live a hundred lives and not deserve it, you know, haymitch says. — Suzanne Collins, Catching Fire As we curve around into the loop of the city circle, I see that a few other stylists have tried to steal Cinna and Portia's idea of lighting their tributes. Electric-light-dense clothing from District 3, where electronics are manufactured, at least makes sense. But what do livestock farmers from Distric 10, who are dressed as cows, do with burning belts? Broiling yourself? Pathetic. — Suzanne Collins Do you want a sugar cube? [...] They should be for horses, but who cares? They have years to eat sugar, while you and I... Well, if we see something sweet, we should catch it fast. [...] You're totally scaring me in that room. What happened to that beautiful dress for the little girl? — Suzanne Collins, Catching Fire I thought she wanted it anyway, I say. Not like that, haymitch says. He wanted it to be real. — Suzanne Collins, Catching Fire I know. I was hoping, I said. Exactly. Because you're desperate, says Haymitch.I don't argue because, of course, he's right. — Suzanne Collins, Catching Fire I don't like self-righteous people, I say. What would I like? says Haymitch, who is starting to suck the scum out of empty bottles. — Suzanne Collins, Catching Fire I don't know what I expected from my first meeting with Peete after the announcement. A few hugs and kisses. Maybe a little comfort. Not this. I turn to Haymitch. Don't worry, I'll give you more alcohol. — Suzanne Collins, Catching Fire It made me realize how I needed to stop punishing her for something she couldn't help [...] because sometimes things happen to people and they're not equipped to deal with them. — Suzanne Collins, Catching Fire So it's you and the syringe against the Capitol. — Suzanne Collins, Catching Fire Chances are never in our favor. — Suzzane Collins You're disgusting, you know that, right? — Suzanne Collins, Catching Fire He could have a choice of all the women in the district. And he chose loneliness. Not loneliness - that sounds too calm. More like solitary. — Suzanne Collins, Katniss fire catcher, got the top spot? Finnick asks, barking me back to reality. — Suzanne Collions Hunger Catching fire Finnick Odair Quote Victory game you famous, losing will mean death. — Suzanne Collins is the perfect weapon — Suzanne Collins, Catching Fire But one day I will have to explain about my nightmares. Why did they come? Why doesn't it ever go away? I'll tell them how I'm going to survive. I'll tell them that on bad mornings, I feel impossible to have fun with anything because I'm afraid it might be taken away. That's when I list in my head every act of good I've seen someone do. It's like a game. Repeating. Even a little tiring after more than twenty years. But there are much worse games to play. — Suzanne Collins, Mockingjay Brady smiles at - Effe Trinket — Suzanne Collins, Catching Fire leather bag full of food and a flask of hot tea. — Suzanne Collins, Catching Fire My heart beats so fast and wildly I can barely hear. — Suzanne Collins I feel that thing again. What I've only felt once before. Last year in a cave when I was trying to get Haymitch to send us food. I kissed Peeta about a thousand times during and after the games. But there was only one kiss that made me feel something that was going on inside. Just the one that made me want more. Instead of satisfying me, kisses have the opposite effect that my needs are greater. I thought I was some kind of hunger expert, but that's a whole new species. — Suzanne Collins, Catching Fire Remember who the real enemy is. — Susanne Collins Collins
