May they stay and stay with us sometime. Jamaican Prime Minister Norman Manley, Winner of the Nobel Prize Martin Luther King, Jr., Olympian Jesse Owens, Pravda Thurgood Marshall, United Nations Ambassador Andrew Young, Singer Lionel Richie and Atlanta Mayor Maynard Jackson, New York Mayor David Dinkins March 31, 2020 My Brothers of Alpha: My Continued Moling and Thoughts Are With You, Your Families and the Communitys, you serve as we all deal with the COVID-19 pandemic that is spreading through the global community. The good of our fraternity is my constant companion. These past weeks have tested our strength, faith and stamina. While we are in difficult situations as President-general, I am very pleased to see that the Fraternity of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Inc., confronted every situation with the faith, determination and courageous leadership set by the Alpha men. Our brothers take care of their families while providing leadership in their communities. Wellness calls of fraternity, district and regional prayer services, emails of sacred councils, virtual fraternities, virtual chapter meetings, countless emails and phone calls keep our Fraternity in a masterful way. These are unprecedented times and we need each other more than ever, because we are the brother's guardian. I recently participated in both Alpha Ohio Prayer Day and the ANCA Prayer Service, and i have gained tremendous spiritual power through calls. The prayers and scriptures shared by our brothers raised my heart and spoke to my soul. In all times, but especially now, it is important that we never forget that prayer changes things. In this spirit, I encourage each of us to reserve time to pray for each other. We recently lost three brothers from Omega. Every brother has embellished our great fraternity in his own way. Two brothers, Te-Andre Brown (Beta Nu) and Basseyy Offiong (Epsilon Xi), were campus leaders and graduated from their universities in 2020. Brother Brown sacrificed his life when he saved his student. Brother Basseyy, the celebrated campus leader, lost his life before Coronavirus. Brother rev. Dr. Joseph Lowery, 98 years young, has dedicated his life to fighting injustice and discrimination for current and future generations. Our hearts are heavy with the sadness of his passing and the passing of so many others. We must cherish their legacies by waking up every morning and thanking God for his grace and mercy. We must also pray for our brothers and loved ones who face the daily health challenges associated with the coronavirus. Together, we must help them fight this disease by burning prayers, by doing everything we can to prevent the spread of the virus and knowing that a better day is coming. I encourage all of us to take this time of soliy, to reflect on our personal priorities and to celebrate our blessings every day and every day. As alpha men, we must take the time to prepare. After the coronavirus pandemic, our leadership will be needed more than ever. Reconnecting our communities, providing leadership for our school systems, advocating for marginalized citizens, promoting the 2020 census and staying focused on the pending election cycle are all critical areas that require alpha leadership. Know that the management of our brotherly affairs continues as we take care of our loved ones and the communities we serve. In the run-up to the days ahead, I call on the Alpha Brothers to follow the mandates issued by state and federal officials by staying home, regularly contacting the Brothers – especially older brothers and widows – and taking care of themselves. I would like to commend the brothers of Dr. Ronald Peters and Dr. Duane Dyson and members of the Covid-19 fraternity unit for informing the fraternity on key issues. For your continued safety, my brothers, please read carefully each of these communications. I would also like to thank the interim chief executive, Gregory Phillips, and the staff of the corporate staff for their work during this challenging period. Brothers, join our national chaplain, brother Jonathan C. Jay Augustine, JD, MDiv, for the solemn Alpha Word on Wednesday – a moment of spiritual breath in the middle of the week. A prayer call is scheduled for Wednesday, April 1, 2020 7:06.m., EST. The call information will be circled today from the company's headquarters. The brothers who work together (Brother brother brother) will endure this pandemic of the storm and together witness the bright sun of the new day without the coronavirus between us. The man whose life is spent services and not in persuading. It's a pon whose majesty shines like May morning. – Peter Clarke Onward and Upward Always, Everett B.
