Educate yourself before using 5/5 Hair color removal using bleach is a complex process, even if you are a professional, so trying it out at home is even more risky. It is not a product that it's not an understanding of how color lifting works and why you need to understand temperature and bleach chemistry. Also, heat should be used from the end of the hair to the root to get the same amount of lift, so you don't end up with blonde roots and orange ends. Loreal is a great brand and I have been using both its professional and regular products without problems for years. If you want to try whitening your hair these days do your research before you do. That's why people go to school to become professionals. Absolutely awful - don't worry! 1/5 I don't usually use box bleach kits but decided to try this as I've never seen it before. HUGE MISTAKE! I followed the instructions exactly, let it sit as directed, and finally washed it off just to find it looked heterogeneous and horrible. At the top of my head was blonde, but everywhere was a gross copper-brown. It definitely lightened my hair, but not at all, as the box showed. Huge disappointment and a waste of money. Didn't do anything 1/5 I was so happy to bleach my hair with this, but I didn't even do anything to my hair. it's literally the same color as it used to be, I had it for 30 minutes and it did nothing. Don't buy it! 1/5 Bought this today and it doesn't bleach my hair all one color it's two tinted bad, and I didn't have any color before using the product to do it either. I tip to the root so my roots won't get any easier, but it's done nothing. This twice I gave loreal a try and both times I was disappointed! Never again. I would like to read other reviews that had the same exact problems!! I WANT THE MONEY BACK!! I have a receipt and a box. Very disappointed in the product, as many others were apparently. Horrible 1/5 Directions were confusing, bleach was chunky and powdery, then washed it after 45 minutes and it did absolutely nothing. Okay, but not a perfect 3/5 I have really dark brown hair. I expect dark blond hair after bleach. But I have brown hair. COLORISTA - Bleacher from L'Oreal Hair lightening kit.
