There are four different soldiers in your army. Spearmen: they are suitable for defense and are designed with a combat bonus in the fight against the cavalry. Your team can't be deficient. Archers: These will be your primary defense as you stand by the wall in battle. Besides, they own the combat bonus versus spearman, so it's really essential. Swordsmen: This is the basic unit in your army. They play as the backbone as they are useful for the defense as well as the offense and have no weaknesses. However, they don't have a fighting bonus against others. Cavalry: Calvary strikes directly and punches a hole in enemy lines. They're the first in your army because of their deadly effectiveness. Thanks to their manoeuvrability and speed, they can attack from behind, attack side-by-side and be devastating. Also, you can use them against the archers. Overall, you need to upgrade all soldier types alike so that the army will have balanced strength. And when you reach the maximum upgrade level of 10, your army will be much more effective in siege battles. When the enemy comes, you need to make sure the defense is good enough to defeat them. The optimal method, in this case, is to upgrade the wall up to the maximum level as soon as possible. So, you can have your own most solid defensive line eventually. In addition to the wall, the towers need your attention. Specifically, you need to upgrade them and be above the archers. Last but not least, catapults are only useful when fighting elephants. So sooner or later, you're going to have to focus on them. There are colonies full of increasing defensive power. You can see their strengths through their numbers. Each time you lead your army to invad colonies, you can attack three legions and 6-unit slots in each legion. For example, you can choose between four central units, one hero, and one siege unit of the legion. For the rest, you can add other heroes or mercenaries. Initially, the enemy will use a few soldiers to gain reinforcements. In this case, you can use the power of the general in the cooldown, and you can win sooner. Once you have taken over, you will be able to upgrade them to enhance your income. The shop in this game is very simple. Here you can buy more crystals for the demand for card packs and commanders.
