In order to continue using our site, we ask you to confirm your identity as a person. Thank you very much for your cooperation. The world-renowned big-game hunter and story is the protagonist. Intelligent, experienced, and level-headed, Rainsford uses his wits and physical proneness to outsmart General Zaroff. His understanding of civilization and the relationship between hunter and prey changed radically during his terrible days on the island. Hiding from Zaroff, he recalls his days fighting in the trenches of World War I, where he witnessed unimaginable violence. At the same time, the three-day chase turns his life into privilege and simplicity, forcing him to sacrifice comfort and luxury to survive. Read the in-depth analysis of Sanger Rainsford. Russian Cossack and compatriot who lives on Ship-Trap Island and has a men's hunt. General Zaroff's high cheekbones, sharply defined nose and pointed military moustache accentuate his mystery and ferocity. Cultivated in a voice and a deliberate, slightly accented way of speaking, his royal bearing and rare aristocratic air lays his dementia and sadism. Hunts human beings to experience the most satisfying excitement. Read General Zaroff's in-depth analysis. Rainsford's friend and travel companion. On the Whitney yacht, she suggests to Rainsford that hunted animals feel scared. Very suggestive, Whitney feels anxious as she sails near the mysterious Ship-Trap Island. He claims that evil radiates in waves such as light and sound. Cossack and Zaroff's dumb assistant. A man of impressive physical stature, Ivan has a waist-length black beard and wears a black uniform. All of Zaroff's captives would rather flee Zaroff than prey than suffer torture and some death at Ivan's hands.
