I plan on adding good pictures and stories in the near future so please check back. In the 1980s, I started hunting with the Jack Russell Terriers. Then, I introduced Patterdale/Fell Terriers to Dr. John Lowery. I bought Asphalt, Tiny, and Trixie (Nuttall farmed dogs). I started getting more involved with dogs and I bought Arnie and Crackers patrick o'shea. Patrick brought them to work at the Irquois Hunt in Lexington, Kentucky. They were bred from the famous Cotswold Hunt in England. Patrick went to England again, this time leaving me five or six dogs I bought from him. I was blessed to own these dogs. They were the most exciting line of dogs I have the pleasure of working with. Arnie died jan-1-08... However I have line bred these dogs so close Arnie will live on for many generations. I still have a lot of Nuttall Blood on most of my dogs. I am the most re honored Brian Nuttall, I admire his knowledge, but most of his integrity. Gunner is a line bred chocolate man off Nick Stevens' bloodline.. He is also my old Arnie in his pedigree twice. I have been looking for several years for a crossline that wasn't huge and bulldoggy. That's what I needed to keep going... After I found out that the old Arnie was carrying my blood. Nick Stevens is one of the real terriers in England and has always wanted a noble man in the Stevens bloodline. I have a young male gunner named WHO YO DIDDY Im breeding back some of my whores... she's out WHODAT GIRL Im happy with the pups we're getting by. NEW NICK STEVENS BOOK The Nick Stevens STORY You can DARCYBOOKS.COM these books go fast and become keepers. If you are interested in working on earth terriers this book will keep your attention til ready. What they hunt for inRacoon does a lot of damage running loose through barns and fields. I was in a barn where very expensive equipment was destroyed. Not only is the equipment used as a toilet, but also the seats are ripped off, then climbed to the ceiling and walls and destroy the building itself. Another bad thing about raccoons is that they like to kill and eat chicken. One farmer told me about his chickens, which he kept as pets, making sure they were all in his pen every night. He came out one morning, and all his chickens were dead. The raccoon reached over the chicken wire and took the chickens apart. He didn't leave until they died. If there are no barn coons going to hide in the trees, and sometimes especially in Ohio, go for groundhog holes. Groundhog, Groundhog can do as much damage as raccoons, only in different areas. Groundhogs like to eat in the garden, especially beans. Nothing can be so frustrating that farmers work around the clock for months to prepare the soil and then plant the crops and then watch them grow and then they are eated by the groundhog. These farmers really want to have their groundhog moved. Relocate.
