New 40k rules are coming soon for the Forge World devices we've been dying to play with again, as the old Imperial Armor books are now on Last Chance to Buy. Back in the summer of 2017, Forge World published physical books of 8 November 2017. Usually, people can connect Forge World devices on apps like Battlescribe, so there's no real reason to get the books, however. Especially at this time of the 8th edition, where points have been adjusted so much that the books don't really provide an accurate representation anymore. With that said these Imperial Armor (FW books) are up to Last Chance to buy now. And in the wake of GW announcing that they will be re-adjusting point values for their entire 40k FW model line, we may see brand new, updated books grace the New Releases section soon. The Warhammer 40,000 Studio - the diligent people behind rule sets, codexes and extensions like Psychic Awakening books - is hard at work on a new series of tomes that will cover the ranks of Warhammer 40,000 miniatures Forge World produce. These books will include updated data sheets and army rules that give these glorious models abilities and benefits comparable to the rest of the forces in the game. Here's what you can grab while supplies last. Forge World Imperial Armour Book on last chance to buy Index: Forces of the Adeptus Astartes - The Battle Armour section contains 10 datasheets for use of your tank thumbnails; - The Heavy Armour section contains 6 data sheets for using your heavy, super-heavy and attack tank culprits. - The Dreadnoughts section contains 7 datasheets for using your Dreadnought thumbnails. - The Strike Craft section contains 10 datasheets to use your flyer thumbnails. - Battlefield support includes 9 data sheets for using your artillery, drop pods and stronghold thumbnails. - 6 data sheets for the use of your war machines by the Grey Knights, the Inquisition & Adepta Sororita's miniatures; - 26 datasheets to use your Imperial Armour Character thumbnails. Index: Forces of Astra Militarum - 59 data sheets to use your Astra Militarum thumbnails; - 16 to use your Death Corps of Krieg thumbnails; - 11 data sheets for use of your Elysian thumbnails; - 14 data sheets for use of your Renegades & Heretics thumbnails; - 7 data sheets for use of your Imperial Knights/Knight Questoris miniatures; - 3 datasheets for use of your Titans. Index: Forces of Chaos - The Daemon Bound section contains 6 datasheets for the use of your demon engine thumbnails; - The Hellforged section contains 18 data sheets for use of your tank, artillery and drop pod thumbnails; - The Eyrine Cults section contains 7 datasheets for using your running photos. - Lords of Ruin section contains 5 data sheets to use your Chaos Lord thumbnails; - The Children of the Warp section contains 12 datasheets for using your demon's thumbnails. - 7 data sheets for the use of your Traitor Questori's miniatures; - 3 datasheets to use your Chaos Titans thumbnails. Index: Xenos - 18 datasheets for using your Eldar/Aeldari thumbnails; - 2 data sheets for use of your Dark Eldar/Drukhari miniatures; - 23 datasheets for using your Tau Empire thumbnails; - 11 datasheets to use your Necron thumbnails - 19 data sheets for using your Ork thumbnails; - 8 data sheets for using your Tyrantide thumbnails. With everything covered above, the package offers a one-click-to-buy option for all their content. Again, keep in mind that these books are old. since the start of the 8th edition, Forge World device points have changed quite a bit as well as some data sheet is being completely changed as well. (Remember custody of Caladius?) Just keep that in mind before you grab these as there is nothing new inside--these are not the new FW books that were confirmed as coming from GW. With these books coming out the door, could it be for any reason other than FW starting to rewrite the books as updated versions? How do you keep track of your FW devices on the tabletop? Start your review of imperial armour index: Forces of the Astra Militarum New dude looking to get into 40k. As the question says, do I need both sets of rules to play as IG? I am currently looking to get forging the world Death Corps of Krieg models, and so do I need forging the world codex too? Or is the army and everything in the older codex covered by the newer Astra Militarum? ThanksPage 2 15 comments
