The Astral Ore block is not counted towards this number. The limit is: Small world: 400 jubin infected with Astral Simple World: 600 jubin Astral-infected Big world: 800 jubin infected with Astral 16% of the world centered on spawning point of protected players from falling meteors. Meteors will not land in 25 jubin players, NPCs, or chests, or directly on a platform. Edited Notes | edit source] Map Background. Trivia[edit | source edit] Surface Astral Infection theme is The Heaven-Sent Abomination, composed by artist DM DOKURO. This theme is original theme used to play in biome: Heaven's Hell-Sent Gift. If additional mods of Disaster Music are powered, the biome theme of Space will play for the entire Astral Infection. The theme of The Underground Astral Infection is The Treasure In Abomination, which was also composed by artist DM DOKURO. Astral infections can infect several blocks not affected by Rasuah, Crimson, or Hallow, including Dirt, Snow, Clay, Kelodak, and Desert Fossils. The naturally hooded bound Nightcrawlers in this biome are original vanilla NPC clones, who drop the same item when caught with Bug Net. The Astral infection used is only a mini biome known as the Astral Meteor, which does not infect any jubin when it is hit and has a different yellow and pink color scheme. Lore[edit | edit source] Astral infections come from the depths of space, which on the remains of an eroded and broken planet. How those planets destroyed remains a mystery, yet the footsteps of dark matter tell the story of chaotic force. When shattered, debris scattered across the galaxy and collided with other celestial bodies. Wherever the meteor soil, the surrounding ecosystem becomes modified, slowly twisting and escalating to the infection immediately. This is all carried by one species of pathogens, carried by meteors, and renewed by chaos to serve a new purpose. Dark stone giant monoliths begin to rise from the ground. The trees are rotting, replaced by pole-like tumours serving as further breeding venues for the virus. Organic creatures quickly change beyond recognition as microbes enter them and fold proof through their bodies, twisting them into self-mockeries that live and die to protect and spread the infection. The pillars sniffed out thick violet haze that peeled off the perforated land and diffused the system of any life that roamed nearby, escalated vision and stinged exposed meat. Control of the virus does not stop on the planet and its inhabitants. If any entity is strong enough to take this infected planet, then they also fall victim to infection. Their entire astronomical body became a breeding venue for its new parasites. The original hosts could continue to travel cosmos - but the purpose of their existence was reduced to spreading the virus across the universe as another disease vector. All over the cosmos, carried by phage, this area of infection is not uncommon. Many of the worlds have fallen to the virus, and grow dark, as the virus devotes the planet to its core. As it continues to spread, it overcomes any balance to the natural order. The weak gets strong, hunting hunters. But in the end, the end result is the world turned into a nightmare for all, ruled by fear. freak out.
