The perfect girlfriend cast

Picture: Shutterstock relationships are easy if you've already made all the mistakes. Idealists can say that an ideal relationship should be about interdependence, but if you go down that road, once each of you changes, the other will feel that something is missing. Being too disabled is a quick way to turn into a relationship nightmare for any partner. It's also important to share interests, passions and predictions. If politics is your fight, you better be with someone who sees eye to eye with you, or at least someone with an open mind. If you like fantasy movies, you better be with a fellow geek or someone patient and understand your strange love of orcs. If you're a gym rat, your partner would better love cabbage, or at least don't care because your average dinner doesn't involve Alfredo sauce and a bottle of wine. Do you know how to throw your partner the perfect party? Can you get on with their families and their friends? There are so many variables in a relationship that a speciality of how everything comes together will take a long survey and an elaborate system to analyze this whole date. The good news is you're lucky because this quiz is just that. After more than a decade off the air, actress Tracy Ellis Ross reveals that she was reunited with her best friends on screen for a special episode of the hit TV show, Roughly Black. Membership Cast | Frederick M. Brown/Getty Images Ross, who stars on the show, took to her Instagram page to give her followers a glimpse of their reunion. She hasn't worked with her friends Jill Marie Jones, the White Award and Golden Brooks since the company was canceled in 2008. Season 6 premieres black on Tuesday, September 24 at 9:30 p..m.ET. On ABC. Ross promises that the episode in which her former teammates won't disappoint. Companies were canceled after 8 seasons of membership debuted at UPN in September 2000. The series followed the lives of four friends as they navigated the ups and downs of life while supporting each other. Joan (Ross), Maya (Brooks), Tony (Jones) and Lynn (White) were popular with viewers who finally have the experiences of powerful black female characters attached to them. Cast of Companies in 2004 | Darien Davis/CBS Photo Archive/Getty Images The series was successful and was one of the highest-rated shows on television among African-American adults ages 18-34. Despite its strong ratings, as UPN merged with WB and began broadcasting on the new network, the CW, the show's marketing began to decline. After eight years, the CW announced they were canceling the show. The show produced 172 episodes and left fans with unanswered questions after the show ended without a suitable finale. According to YBF, the series would have planned to end the series correctly, but was not given the opportunity after the network cut power. Corporate fans are pleading for closure in movie form with so many hangers-on in the unexpected final season, fans have been left wondering if they'll ever get closure. Like the Sex and the City movies that came out after the end of the series, corporate watchers craved the same thing. Source: Twitter producer Mara Brooke Akil spoke to Vulture about the possibility of bringing companies to the big screen. Akil explained that she supported closing the series with a movie, but funding it was a challenge. I already have the script. We can do an epic story and we can make a lot of money, but I want to knock on doors and beg to do that story it's no longer where it is, she said. He deserves someone to see the value in him and write that check. That's what this is about. People often think I have the power. I have a lot of creative input, I know the vision of it, but I need the money. Cast Eagle Companies appearing on ABC's Black-ish Companies continues to air in siddation and while fans wait to see if a movie really will happen, they now have the chance to see their beloved friends reunite for a special moment. Source: Instagram Ross With entertainment weekly about her excitement for their reunion and the timing of it all. The timing was perfect to be able to bring friendship to a whole new audience. We haven't all been on camera together since 2006, Ross tells EW. Companies ran for eight years and meant a lot to so many people. The ability to merge the worlds of blacks and societies was surreal to me — and so much fun. These are women I grew up with and loved very much and it was easy to tap back into the magic of our chemistry and how much we love each other. It was giggles on top of giggles on top of giggles. Entertainment Weekly The episode, titled Feminist, will air on October 8. And focus on Ross's character, Beau, and introduce her daughter and mother-in-between to her feminist group when she learns they don't believe in the idea of feminism. 1 out of 16 then: Mary-Kate and Ashley Olsen the pint-sized patties were cast as Michelle Tanner when they were just 9 months old. Growing up on set, the Olsen twins used to refer to their work by the names of their characters, to prevent them from getting confused while filming. 2 out of 16 now: Mary-Kate and Ashley Olsen the twin sisters have had very successful careers since Full House ended. Together they formed the production company Dulstar Entertainment, which was responsible for hits such as The Adventures of Mary-Kate and Ashley and Thin New York. The women have now also taken time out to attend NYU and have since become a major fashion icon. 3 out of 16 Then: Dave Collier on screen Uncle Joey was known for his quick wit, funny impersonations, and his lifelong friendship with Bob Saget's character Danny. Off-screen, Collier was also known for his funny personality, his collection of different voices, and his lifelong friendship with Bob Saget. So, basically, he was playing himself. 4 of 16 NOW: Dave Collier Dave's Love Life (Alanis Morissette reportedly wrote the furious breakup song, You Oughta Know, about him) has been more in the spotlight than his career since appearing at Full House. A good thing for Uncle Joey, he found love again and celebrated his wedding last summer with some of the cast members in attendance. 5 out of 16 then: Jodie Sweetin Judy's role as middle child Stephanie Tanner was written specifically for her after producers saw her play on another TV show. Her adorable plus the character for her character's excellent einners (pin a rose on your nose!, anyone?) made her one of the most beloved TV characters of the decade. 6 out of 16 now: Jodie Sweetin Sweetin has had quite a few growing pains after Full House. She was married three times and she also struggled with drug and alcohol addiction. But after a stint in rehab, she made a full recovery and is now the mother of two daughters. Sweetin documented her troubles in her memoir Without Spinning. 7 out of 16 then: Bob Saget clean And a dad writer. Danny Tanner, wasn't always played by Bob Saget. In the show's unscripted pilot, the role was played by John. Fortunately, Saget eventually got the part. We can't imagine anyone else as the family's favorite patriarch. 8 out of 16 now: Bob Saget Saget has continued to host America's funniest home videos for 8 years, as well as delivering the voice of would-be Ted Mosby on the popular TV show, How I Met Your Mother. Currently the treasure of Fuller House, full house's reboot will premiere on Netflix in 2016. 9 of 16 then: Laurie Loughlin's character Loughlin, the beautiful Becky Donaldson-Catsopolis, was originally hired for just six episodes. But her chemistry with the actors plus the appeal of her audience prompted the producers to turn her into a series regular. 10 of 16 NOW: Loughlin After Full House ended Loughlin starred in the short TV show Hudson Street, alongside Tony Danza, as well as starring and appearing in several other films and TV shows. Today, John Stamos claims Loughlin is the one who escaped. Unfortunately for Uncle Jesse, Loughlin is a happily married mother of two. 11 out of 16 then: Candace Cameron pit 13 out of 16 then: Andrea Barber played dj's weird BFF and the family's neighbor, Kimmy Gibler - the character everyone loved to hate. Tying fact: She originally auditioned for the role of THE DJ. 14 out of 16 now: Andrea Barber Barber retired from acting after Fall House ended, claiming acting was more of a childhood hobby for her. After graduating from college and raising a family, Barber reprimated her role as Kim alongside Collier for a hilarious skit or died in 2012. 15 out of 16 then: John Stamos Who can forget the heartbreaking Uncle Jesse? He had a great smile, perfect hair, and he played in a band. Even more detresitabe: He asked the producers to rename his character from Cochran to Latsupolis to honor his Greek heritage. Heritage.
