President-elect Joe Biden and outgoing President Donald Trump held duel rallies in Georgia on Monday to persuade supporters tuesday to turn out for a U.S. Senate election that will determine the balance of power in Washington. When it comes to the biggest pandemic in a century, which separates our lives, the economy and pushes us into a new paradigm, politicising the response is a bad idea. The New York Stock Exchange has made a U-turn after further consultation with regulators.* A new health order banning suburbs around the Berala cluster * Unclear, whether the order will affect other sporting events * NSW hotspots list * Victoria hotspots listResidents from Berala and surrounding western Sydney suburbs have been warned they will be fined $1000 if they put a foot inside the SCG in Australia's third Test before, although crowd capacity has been reduced from 50% to 25%. Ticket holders were refunded and were given priority to buy tickets from the smaller pool for about 10,000 per day. However, New South Wales Health Minister Brad Hazzard said on Tuesday that he intended to sign a public health order banning people from the suburbs affected by the Berala Covid-19 cluster. He listed Auburn, Berala, Lidcombe North, Regents Park and Rookwood as suburbs covered by the ban, and said: Ticket sales were held in a way that would aim to ensure that people from certain suburbs around Berala did not buy tickets. It's in your interest and for the benefit of our community, Hazzard said. But I want to warn the community in those suburbs, if any of you think it's still good to come with someone else who got a ticket or tickets, it won't be good. Because there will be orders, orders over the next 24 hours that will allow NSW Police to fine you $1000 if you put a foot inside the SCG, Hazzard said. You don't have to, you don't have to come to the SCG, so just be aware of that. > if you're from the suburb of Rookwood do no go to cricket pic.twitter.com/wpetclJ6sY> > - casey briggs (@CaseyBriggs) January 5, 2021All remaining public tickets have been on sale since noon on Tuesday. Hazzard was uncertain whether the new public health order would also apply to other sporting events, with A-League, W-League and Big Bash League seasons. On Sunday, 4,538 went to Campbelltown Stadium for Macarthur FC's home game against Central Coast, and 5,273 turned to Central Coast Stadium last Friday for the Mariners' home win over the Newcastle Jets.> People from the Berala area banned cricket. Online ticket requests for zip code to exclude them & police are going to make anyone trying to enter the SCG to show their ID, and fine anyone who has the wrong zip code? > > This is the definition of an unrealized policy.> > — beanflower ☼🌻 (@crazyjane13) January 5, 2021 In response to upcoming health orders, the Jets on Tuesday announced a 50% cap on the 33,000-capacity McDonald Jones Stadium for Friday's double-header W-League/A-League matches against Sydney FC and Western Sydney Wanderers. The SCG is scheduled to host three BBL games later in January. Currently, public health advice is a high level of concern being focused on people coming from that area to the SCG, Hazzard said. But look, everything is reviewed every day. It's almost 12 months and every day it's a review, public health looks at these issues. And Public Health gives the government advice on any of the other issues we take it on. Hazzard felt it was unlikely that a reduction from 50% to 25% capacity would be reversed, despite acting premier John Barilaro saying that Covid's safety rules at the SCG could change up to the very first ball, depending on the number of cases. Barilaro said there would be enough transport to meet the 50% capacity of the stadium to promote social disconnection. He also urged people from regional parts of NSW not to travel to Sydney for the match. The government has come under criticism from the Australian Medical Association for crowds to take part in the Sydney Test at all. Georgia races pit a pair of current Republicans, Kelly Loeffler and David Perdue, against Democratic challengers Raphael Warnock and Jon Ossoff, respectively. None of the Senate candidates won a majority in the November 3 election, which prompted a runoff election. Mr Trump continues to argue, without evidence, that his loss in November was the result of widespread voter fraud - a claim that reviews by state and federal election officials, several courts and the US Department of Justice were rejected. In a call issued on Saturday (January 02), Georgia Secretary of State Brad Raffensperger, D. Trump pressed a Republican official to find enough votes to overturn his defeat, and suggested that Raffensperger would not change the outcome of November, which could undermine Republican participation in the Senate.
