Notes: With the launch of Phase 6, Naxxramas brings some insanely powerful items for shadow priests who are mostly off-pieces for other classes. Since Shadow Priest does not use tier 3 pieces, many pieces end up like Shadow Priest Prio, as other classes will value Tier over off-pieces. This is a good thing for us shadow priests! Our Shadow Priest DPS Pre-Raid Best in Slot equipment page will explain the best dungeon items, reputation, craftsmanship and early PvP that you can get to be as efficient as possible before stepping into your first attack. Classic Shadow Priest Pre-Raid BISClassic DungeonsMolten Core and Onyxia's Lair are two of the earliest and easiest attacks in the WoW Classic, added at the Phase 1 launch. Classic Shadow Priest DPS Molten Core BISMolten Core LootBlackwing Lair is a Level 2 attack that follows Molten Core, added with phase 3 launches. Classic shadow priest DPS Blackwing Lair BISBlackwing Lair LootAhn'Qiraj is a Level 2.5 attack that follows Blackwing Den, added with a Phase 5 launch. Classical shadow priest DPS Ahn'Qiraj BISAhn'Qiraj LootShadow Priests can equip differently in PvP, including Warsong Gulch, Alterac Valley and World PvP Classic Shadow Priest DPS PvP BISClassic Shadow Priest DPS PvP GuideFire Resistance, a statistic that mitigates incoming magical fire damage, is very useful for some classic Phase 1 WoW encounters in Molten Core and Onyxia, especially if you need additional survival. Below you will find the best fire resistance equipment that can be obtained outside Molten Core, so you can grow and equip equipment as you progress through the attack. Keep in mind that much of the equipment before the Fire Resistance attack is lacking in other statistics, so while your survival may increase, your attack performance will otherwise decrease. We will create additional gear lists for other types of resistance as more attacks are unlocked. Classic shadow priest DPS Fire Resistance GearNature resistance becomes useful starting with phase 5 Classic due to Ahn'Qiraj bosses. Equipping items with nature resistance reduces the damage to nature you take, which is very helpful on bosses with predominantly damage to nature. Unlike Fire Resistance, there are not many objects that provide resistance to nature. Below you will find a list of items with nature resistance equipment, so you can grow and equip equipment as you progress through attacks when needed. Keep in mind that many pieces that offer resistance status are not offensive, which means you trade an entry for survival. Classic Shadow Priest DPS Resistance Nature GearFrost Resistance will come in handy in Naxxramas, specifically Fight Saphiron, first boss Frostwyrm Lair.Checkout our Frost Resistance guide to equipment to see what your options are before and after entering Naxxramas: Classic Frost Resistance GearWoW Classic Frost Priest Resistance GuideUnlike second class, Shadow Priests are not so dependent on their weapons for dealing damage on any level of content. Just as priests don't Use your weapons to attack enemies, weapons for priests serve more as a stat stick, naturally providing a high amount of useful statistics for priests such as Spell of Damage, Endurance, and Intellect. There is no real difference between what types of weapons shadow priests can use, because all weapons are basically stat sticks. You should stick to the weapons that give you the most statistics. However, while leveling, you will want to at least keep your Wand upgraded as you level it – Sticks are a very effective way of dealing with damage without consuming any Flaws and can help save time between killing enemies. While this is important for all casters while leveling in the Classic, this is all the more important for shadow priests, because their pity is quite weak early (before reaching shadow talent milestones such as Fouet mentally) and the highly improved early discipline talent Spécialisation Baguette.Sticks are also very important for the Covenant of Priests even after reaching level 60 - Priests can use sticks to regenerate flaws whenever Paladin applies Sceau de sage to the mob. More details about shadow priests' weapons can be found in our Guide to the Best Weapons for Priests. Anathème is the best priest weapon for Phase 1 and Phase 2 of classic WoW. The quest to obtain begins from L'Oeil de la divinité of Majoromd in Molten Core. When you complete the required line, you will receive Bénédiction at first, but you can change it to Anathème. After that, you can replace between both attitudes every 30 minutes. Getting this weapon is quite challenging on the priest's healing abilities, so we created a detailed guide: Getting benedict/anathemis in wow classic: Eye of Divinity For Priests.In WoW Classic, each class has access to both dungeon and tier sets, during their character progression. Sets are pieces of equipment that, when equipped together, provide additional benefits to your character. These sets can also require multiple pieces of armor to be fitted, with some requiring up to eight different pieces simultaneously to provide different benefits. In this section, we will explore these sets for shadow priests, discussing their viability and how important it is to acquire them in a long gear scheme. The availability of these sets depends on the current stage.looking to learn more about the priest's equipment sets? Check out our Guide to Shadow Priests Armored Kits! Tier 0 - Habits du dévot - Available in gameDevout is available during stage 1 as a dungeon set, collected from various high-level dungeons, such as Blackrock Spire, Stratholme or Scholomance. This set offers absolutely nothing for a shadow priest, as you will soon see from many tier sets. In the Classic, tier sets are mostly developed for a specific role within each class set. Priests are generally considered the best healers, so all priests setovi setovi healing and can be ignored for most shadow priests. This set has only 23 Spell Damage, from a 4-piece set bonus, which is pathetic. Tier 0.5 - Habits du Vertueux - Virtuous will not be available until stage 5, with the release of Ahn'Qiraj. To get this Dungeon Set, the priest will have to already collect the full Set of Piety and embark on a long quest to upgrade the Pious to Virtuous. Although the upgraded version is much better itemized for Shadow Priests (finally some Spell Damage on the gear), it's far too late. By stage 5, Atours de vignesang offers much more valuable statistics for shadow priests, Spell Hit. And the amount of effort that would go into acquiring a virtuous set doesn't reward a shadow priest, definitely skip this. Tier 1 - Habits de prophétie - Available in TheProphecy game is Prêtre's first Raid set, Tier 1. The entire set was acquired at Molten Core, but again, this set was designed primarily for Healers, offering absolutely nothing for the Shadow Priest. Most pieces in the set, such as Robe de prophète, Bottes de prophète and Gants de prophète don't even offer Spell Damage. This is a strict increase only for healing, which is strange, as some pieces increase damage to magic, such as Mantelet de prophète and Collierette de prophète. I think if the set was entirely Spell Damage and Healing, it would be useful for Shadow Priest.Tier 2 - Habits de transcendance - Available in the gameTranscendance is easily the most tier set for all Prêtre in the Classic. As expected, Blizzard designed this set entirely around Healing Priests, completely disregarding the Shadow Priest. This time, however, each piece offers only Spell Healing, adding 0 Spell Damage from across the set! In a strange way, level 2 is actually worse for a shadow priest than level 1! Tier 2.5 - Vêtements de l'oracle - Oracle's garments finally offer something valuable to the shadow priest, although the bonuses set apply only to healing. Each piece in the set provides Spell Damage and Healing, finally giving something for Shadow Priests. The head, Tiare de l'oracle, also gives a 1% Spell Hit, which is pretty hard to come by. So is a decent amount of MP5. Ultimately, the chest piece, Habit de l'oracle, offers a unique Furnishing Bonus, reducing target resistance to ALL MAGIC by 10, increasing Arcane, Fire, Nature, Frost and Shadow Damage dealing with the target. Which, in a PvE Raid environment, would increase raid's entire spelling bee damage! Tier 3 - Habits de foi - The final tier set in the Classic, Faith, goes back to the old and boring, nothing for Shadow Priests, but at least we got 1 set, Vêtements de l'oracle. Just like Transcendance, this entire set offers only Spell Healing, again providing a whopping 0 Spell Damage, which is unfortunate because an 8-piece bonus would be cool for the Shadow Priest to But that's the way things go in the Classics. Hybrid classes are often dragged into a single specific role due to rigid tier sets. Classic WoW has many items that can be used to help you fight, whether you are dealing with more damage, help trap (or escape) from enemies and even save some gold for repairs if your death is imminent! Below we have some examples of useful items that you can get. Chiffon removes one bleeding effect when used, which can be very useful because there are a lot of bleeding that last for a long time. You get this little thing from Searing Gorge quest Incendosaures? N'importosaures, plutôt. Crâne de malédiction imminente: This off-hand item increases your speed by 50% in 10 seconds, but at a cost: It will drain your health and can kill you. It can be used to escape from enemies or to save gold on death without endurance! This item is a reward from the Badlands search le savoir perdu. Poussière magique puts enemies to sleep for up to 30 seconds. This item can be very useful for escaping from enemies or reversing battles in PvP or PvE combat. You can get them by killing Diable de poussières in Westfall.Charme des flots is another CC item, allowing you to smate the enemy for three seconds. It's not as useful to escape as Magic Dust, but it can still stop enemies dead in their tracks to secure your murder. Falling off the rare mob of Prince Nazjak in the Arathi Highlands.Chouette chronomètre increases the speed of movement by 40% in 10 seconds. You can use this to escape from the mob, hunt enemies easier and more. Get this item from Badlands quest Ça promet d'être dur. Tubercule de navetille cures as much as a health drink, without sharing cooling with actual alchemical drinks! You can gather Whipper Root Tubes in Felwood after gaining the opportunity to do so in pursuit of Purifie Gangrebois/Purifie Gangrebois.The Shadow Priest Best in Slot guide provides top recommendations for your character. However, you may be interested in searching for upgrades on your own, as Classic has many items that provide similar benefits for your character. You may be interested in objects with some effect, or you really don't have luck with drops and want to find a good upgrade from the search instead of the recommended one from the dungeon. The classic Wowhead database offers several powerful tools that allow you to browse all available items in the game, filter by a number of parameters to narrow down results, rank them by the best combinations of statistics, and create your own personalized gear sets. Item Filters: In the database of classic wowhead items, you can view each item from Classic WoW. To further filter the results, you can narrow it down for parameters such as:Type and Level: Look for a specific type of item, such as all Cloth Helms + Gloves or all rare You can further narrow things down for their required level, if you are interested in twinkling or Upgrades. Phase availability: There are six stages of content in Classic WoW, with many pieces of gears coming from PvP, dungeons or raids in the later stages, so we've organized all the items by their stages. For example, here's a filter of all Cloth Armor added in phase 5 (Ahn'Qiraj). Stats: You can filter the gear by each statistic in Classic WoW, ranging from primary statistics like Intellect to defensive ones like Fire Resilience. For example, here is a filter for items that provide Shadow Power and here is a gear filter with Spell Hit.Source:There are filters for all types of sources, including drops, created items and tasks. For example, here is a list of all sticks from tasks that require a level 40 or higher to equip. Stat weights: Also on the Classic Wowhead Item Database page are Stat Weights, so you can sort filtered lists to place the most improved items for your stat preferences at the top of search results. Here's an example of shadow priest's DPS chest stat weights. We've created preset stat weight combinations for each class, but you can also click customize to create your own settings. Gear Planner: Classic Gear Planner lets you create your own gear setting, including spells and talents that change statistics. You can even name and save the set to Wowhead, to share it with anyone.
