If you're telling a familiar story, write a simple script for yourself and practice it with story pieces. Remember, it's important to know the story well enough to be able to look directly at the kids and talk expressively. You may need help using the characters of the story on board. Kids love help! Identify one child every time he props and staff director for the story. It can hand over felt pieces to you or move them around the board. But most importantly, involve all children. Invite them to add sound effects and movements to the fun and meaning of the story. Then let the flannel boards take time during the activity and watch the magic as they tell and telling the story in their own words! Words!
