L. James. This is the fifth installment in the Fifty Shades novel series. The books were originally told by Anastasia Steele, the main protagonist, while Darker: Fifty Shades Darker as Told by Christian is told from the male character's point of view of the events of the second installment, Fifty Shades Darker. The novel was released on November 28, 2017. [1] Summary After breaking up in Fifty Shades of Grey, billionaire Christian Grey attempts to win back his lover, Anastasia Steele, after punishing her. Initially reluctant to resume the relationship, she agrees only under her own terms. As their relationship progresses, Christian's past and Anastasia's boss, Jack Hyde, threaten the couple. Development James announced that she was in the process of writing the novel on September 10, 2016. [3] Reception The Guardian regarded the book as No. 1 on the Top 50 Bestselling Books in the United Kingdom and offered more than 300 000 copies in its first week[4][5] References^ Canfield, David (10 October 2017). Retrieved from E L James' Fifty Shades phenomenon will continue with Darker: 50 Shades Darker as told by Christian. Vintage Books announced Tuesday the publication of the book, pitched as a revisit from50 Shades Darker written from Christian's point of view. This is the in the series to employ a perspective shift, as 50 Shades was framed as Ana's story from the series. Is. originated in 2015, when James' first Christian POV book, Grey, was published. The interior of Christian Grey's head is a fascinating place to be, James said in a statement. In Grey, we got the first glimpse of what makes Christian tick, but in Darker we go deeper, in his most painful memories and the encounters that made him the damaged, demanding man Ana falls in love with. Writing this novel was a journey of discovery, and I hope readers will find what I learned as compellingly as I did. Ultimately, it's always a joy to work with the big team at Vintage. Anne Messitte, publisher of Vintage, added that Darker is full of surprises and that readers are going to see a darker and more haunting version of Christian's character. Originally a Twilight fanfiction, 50 Shades of Grey went on to sell well north of 100 million copies and became a successful movie franchise. James' 50 Shades trilogy concluded with the publication of Freed in 2012, and the author has since focused on reviewing her earlier novels from the perspective of her male lead. Grey sold more than 1 million copies in his first week of release. Darker: 50 Shades Darker as Told by Christian will be released on Nov. 28.
