heart rate monitoring system, but that may also not be 100% accurate. However, with most watches these days, they are not always entirely accurate anyway. If you can handle the timing, this watch could be a perfect addition to your workout needs. The built-in GPS will let you see where and how far you've run and is waterproof for up to 50 metres for ten minutes to watch swimming. It also has vibration alerts to let you know about progress and activity steps. This is the best option for all athletes, so be sure to add it to your gear. Built-in Gps Waterproof up to 50 meters for 10 minutes 24/7 Heart Rate Monitoring Exercise-Free Phone Vibration Alerts Synchronization with the app takes some time It's not always accurate with Heart Rate Monitoring Runner If you're looking for a high quality watch to track your runs or any exercise you can do, this Garmin watch is perfect for you. Source: Casio This is a great choice for anyone who is on a tight budget and wants a digital sports watch. The Casio watch has a battery life of ten years, so you won't have to worry about it dying on you. It can also set two different time zones, which is perfect if you are traveling and need to get home. This watch is waterproof for up to 100 feet, so it's also a good option for anyone who wants to time their laps. The viewing angle is limited on this watch, so looking at it from a side view for all the numbers to disappear, it's a good thing to be aware about when working out or needing time. With a battery life of ten years, this watch will take quite a long time, even if you use it frequently. It also has the ability to set two time zones, and is water resistant to 100 meters to make any swimmer happy. If you want a cheap option to pick up, which allows you to time, then this is a great one to pick up. 100-year battery life Dual resistance cheap but great this watch may be simpler than Garmin, but it is still a great option if you want to track times and be able to have a watch. Source: Armitron If you are looking for a thin watch to fit your wrist, then the Armitron sports watch is perfect for you. Even though it is marketed for women, it is excellent for anyone who needs a smaller, digital watch. The thin oval housing is made of 23-millimeter resin and helps to resist the 100-metre water of this watch. There is a background light on this product, so you can wear it outside even at night. It has been said that setting the time on the clock is a bit complicated, so be sure to read the instructions carefully. If you use this watch often, the color can disappear from the tape as well as the casing. Once you've got the time setting figured out, this watch is a great, slim option for any runner who is looking for something on the light side. It is 100 meters waterproof, so you can have this small watch while swimming. It also has a backlight to make running at night easy and next to no hassle. Slim oval case Backlight 100 meters waterproof Hard to set time Color fades Perfect for small wrists This thin design is not only intended for women; is a stylish choice that can look good on any wrist if you like a smaller option. Source: PALADA If you are looking for a special watch for background light on it, then this is the watch for you. The backlight is LEDs, and the numbers are great, so you'll quickly see the calendar when you're outside running at night. It is also waterproof for up to 50 metres, so you can watch your laps in the pool. It says that time to accelerate after the initial setup, so be sure to keep an eye on it if it races forward. This will not affect the timer you set for your run, but only the actual time set on the clock. If you agree with having to work around that, then this would be a great choice to pick up. With LED backlight, you can see how long it's working out. The numbers are also pretty high, so you won't have to stare into the darkness to see where you are at. If you are looking to swim, this watch is waterproof for up to 50 meters. LED backlight Large numbers Water resistant up to 50 meters Day and night If you like to work at night as well as during the day, this watch will allow you to see times in any lighting. Source: Fitbits can be quite expensive, so why not pick up a watch that is cheaper with the same look? The LETSCOM fitness monitoring device is perfect for tracking everyday activities, such as steps and sleep quality. It also has a heart rate monitor, so you can track beats per minute throughout the day. This watch will let you know what text messages and phone calls you're receiving without having to pick up your phone. The downside is that you can only connect your watch via and no other device. This may be a bit of a pain, but you can always reconnect the watch and sync it when you're done with the other devices. If you are looking for a watch to track your daily activities, then this is a great option for you. It will track the steps, the quality of sleep, and the training route when you have it connected to the phone. It also sends you a notification for any calls or text messages you may receive throughout the day. Track everyday heart rate monitoring Notifications for calls and messages Can't connect other Bluetooth devices Simple and stylish With a similar look to a Fitbit without a price point, this is a great choice if you want a large tracker with a simple design. Source: Armitron This matte pink watch is a perfect addition to any outfit, and is perfectly designed for any woman in your life, or you. With a golden rose-top tone and a case of pale pink resin, this is a beautiful watch that will get the work done. It also has a backlight so that you will be able to see time throughout any workout or exercise. This device is also waterproof for up to 100 meters, so you can watch while you're swimming. Time is hard to set on this watch, so you have to be careful when going through it. Be sure to read the instructions carefully so that you can get it on the first attempt. Once you get the set of time, you will be able to enjoy the beauty that this watch offers. The background light will make sure you can see your times and what day it is. It is also perfect for any swimmer because this watch is waterproof for up to 100 meters. Beautiful matte pink finish Backlight Waterproof up to 100 meters Rose Gold, yes, please With beautiful color and simple design, this watch will accentuate any look and wrist of anyone whenever and wherever you wear it. Sports watches are a great addition to any runner, swimmer, or player in the world. The best you can pick up is Garmin Forerunner 35, it can track your heart rate and you don't need a phone to watch your workouts. It is an excellent companion for any activity and you can see the race with the built-in GPS tracking device. If you're looking for something smaller or simpler, there are plenty of options on this list to choose from.
