This subreddit is my first post (and reddit for a while) but I was wondering if the special edition was worth the money. The war pressure season looks really nice but I don't know if it's worth spending ~$100 for ... personally I just want artbook because the soundtrack is really connected to release the soundtrack online later and the steelbook is nice but the money is not worth the imo. This seems to be really high demand though and I can see why; Although it has been out of stock almost everywhere and is sometimes stocked for a while always selling in a pair of page refreshes. I'm not sure if I want to buy special editions, but :) (EDIT) I want to know other people's thoughts on the topic: I really appreciate all the opinions and thoughts left down the comment, thank you for your understanding!! Personally for me I even think warfare pressure sticks with normal pressure with all the benefits of getting seasons ... It's also a nightmare trying to get special edition right now and I'm already too busy with other things ... (Even with NowInStock alerts I've always tried pre-ordering special edition which has already sold out in a few minutes) In the meantime I hope you wish the best for the whole future and enjoy fe3H!!!
