In December 2018, I moved the site to a new and more powerful server and converted the site to a responsive layout, which long came. The content remains the same – the only thing that has changed is the ability of the page to adapt to a smaller device screen. If you encounter any bugs or issues, please let me know astro@cafeastrology.com. In March 2019, I added the option to apply their pronouns to a free natal chart report because of reader recommendations. I am very happy with this supplement! I tried my best to insert this pronoun properly into the text, but I have to assume that I made some typos and if you have time, please let me know astro@cafeastrology.com. For those who want to change their pronouns, I'm very sorry but I have no edit option, making it necessary to re-enter your chart. It may be worth noting too that since I update a pronoun, I made some little edits for the texts around it. I recently also added print options for some free reports on reader recommendations because the pages aren't well formatted for printing. With this option, most parts of the report you prefer not to print or store can be deleted. This also serves to download reports as PDFs. Buttons for printing and saving reports are found near the bottom of the Month to N Node. It was previously labelled the Asc Node to Go Up Node but this point is more often known as the North Node today and too many people confuse it was a small label change, I felt it was important because it was brought to my attention that people thought the page this gives them the result of the modifier, looks sometimes at the actual Ascendant and other times the Asc the calculator is unstable. This was probably more of an issue before I swapped the label for my first home from I to I Asc in the last year. I I very happy to make this explanation.
