Are angels real yahoo answers

many people have wonderful stories out there... I met a young woman who had seen an angel... she said it was absolutely a beautiful creature... so beautiful that because she is quite a gifted artist ... she drew her angel... I saw that picture... Wow! It was a beautiful creature! I've seen angels in my dreams... but they do not like to show me their faces I can just see their dresses... and the other colors that shine from their dresses! But they've given me some great help, and carried me when I needed some HELP big time!!! There was another story that I heard... a little girl had fallen from a slide ... and this angel (boy) had come out of nowhere, and picked her up, and carried her to safety... (she had knocked the wind out of herself) and then he just disappeared! She still refers to him as her angel!... so I would love to hear your stories... please!thanks! Update:In must say, your stories are so inspiring to me! Keep them going fast! Love them, a lot! Thanks to everyone for sharing with me! In 2003 I wrote one of my angel meetings and put it in my articles section of my website if you care to read it. He cares about all the beautiful creatures on earth... even a sparrow. He even worries about how we feel about sand dollars to send one of his angels to deliver a gift of love directly. I'm not sure if it was actually an angel or whatever, but one day I drove down a highway on my way to pick up my grandmother for a doctor appt. I followed behind a semi pretty close and it was really windy. As we approached part of the road that had a really steep drop off the side of the road, I heard a voice next to me screaming back from the truck, NOW! It scared me a little bit, so I did. When the truck reached the steep fall, a large gust of wind hit it and caused it to start swinging all over the road and then go down into the pass. I pulled to the side of the road and was waiting for the police along with other motorists who had witnessed the accident. The officer laughed at me when I told him why I had backed out of the truck. But I believe to this day that if I hadn't heard that voice or not listened to it, I would have died as a truck driver. It is still to this day the scariest thing and the strangest thing that has ever happened to me. Several years ago I was going through a very horrible time. I was accused of something I didn't do, my child was facing a very serious operation, I was losing my hair and vision and I thought my mind would explode with all the grief I went through. During one particular night I couldn't sleep, I cried and was very upset. I went and sat in the tub hoping that the bath would calm me down enough to get some sleep. When I was just getting out of my daughter walked in and said, Mom I want you to stop crying everything will be fine. I know because the angel told me. I asked her when he told her and she said: Right now, he told me to come get you that's why I'm here. She grabbed my hand and pulled me over to her bed, and when she held my hand in her she said, Mom you'll be ok. Look over there he's here for you, and when I looked where she pointed there was this huge light and in it was a great angel with a colorful dress and and this awesome light around him and fill into the room I was in shock. My daughter smiled and said, Mom, I told you I could see Angels, and this one came for you. It's a vision I value to this day. I wish I may have that drawn it helped me immeasurable words can not describe the peaceful feeling glow of this light and the beauty of an angel. It was incredible and helpful to me. Hi! I commune with the Angels, and Angelic Realm on a daily basis, so my mind is full of them. Once, a lady said to me that she was backing out of a parking lot in a supermarket. She put in reverse, but then saw a flash of white for some reason, and stopped. She found a feather on the dashboard, then heard commotino outside as a man rushed up to the back of her car and took a child. There had been a child in her blind spot and she would have run him over! She is convinced that this was divine intervention. Another tale is that my father was in retreat, and was in a chapel alone in the dark asking for help on his spiritual journey. A figure walked out of the shadows to him in chivalrous armor and a large blue cape, and handed him a sword. This, I took to be Michael, warrior of Mercy, working with those who seek to live within god's laws. After that, my father felt protected and strong. Myself, I have had countless meetings with angelic beings-I talk and commune with them every day and ask for their help, guidance, and also offer to be a vessel through which they can work. So of course my life is captured by these creatures many times. I have seen many angels- other people's guardian angels, and also some Angels whose names are known (Gabriel, Raphael, Ambriel and many more). If you want to talk further about Angels, then you can contact me at missytetra@yahoo.co.uk and I welcome your contact! Learning about and communing with angels is a blessed thing. In love and light, Tasha xsry, this is not my story, but it is the story of a close friend great-grandmother. she came outy of the church one day and she went to get in on her car that was parallel parked along the curb on the side of a busy road (sorry if it doesn't make sense) just as she went to put the keys in the door, a boomong, demanding voice tha no also seemed to hear, and it said back away from the car so she stepped about 15 feet back until she stood up against the church wall. next, another car swerved (sp) off the road and totaled her car; a crash that would have killed her. she believes that the voice of God himself, not an angel, but who knows? hope I helped, sorry that it wasn't exactly whaat u were looking for big questions! Source(s): friends great-grandmother (she is still alive to this day) My mother told me this story and knowing that she was not particularly religious I am inclined to believe that it really happened. My mother grew up mostly in Kentucky, in a beautiful rural area. She said she was hopelessly lost one day and went into the woods and it got dark. She was 6 or 7 at the time and got really scared and started crying. So she said she felt someone take her hand (even though she didn't see any) and the hand led her out of the woods. When she was safely back, where she recognized her surroundings, her hand let go. I also heard a story about a child who got caught up in a flood. He was trapped in the rushing water and would have been crushed to death against a wall, but out of nowhere a man appeared next to him and grabbed hold of him. No one saw where he had come from or how he himself had gotten into the water, but he was there and saved the boy by using his body as a shield. when a rescue team got them out of there the man disappeared with a trace.it feels good to know GOD has its angels looking out for us. A few weeks b4 my grandfather's death he was in the hospital. My mother and my aunt spent the night in his room with him. My mother slept on a cot with her back to the whole room and my aunt slept on the other side of my grandfather but faced him. Some time at night my mother and my aunt both woke up at the same time. My mother told me that when she woke up she felt that some things were behind her and was scaring to see. Then she heard my aunt say come here. My mom walked over to her and my aunt asked her did you see it. My mother said no, but I could feel it. My aunt told her that when she woke up she saw this incredible beautiful angel just hovering over my grandfather. She said she had never seen anything so beautiful... I believe in it. Angels can come in the form of dogs. They provide happiness, enjoyment and healing. I've heard of many cases that a dog will die not long after its owner. The job here was done.my car got a whole in its tire and I needed to change it, well out of no one where a car pulled up and a man came out, he helped me change tires I thanked him a lot and he got back in his car.this was by a shop he didn't go to the store When he was done. He just drove up changed my tire and drove away. Not so, but felt the presence of one. Several years ago I had an unusual experience about an uncle, a distant relative who lived over a thousand miles away. While driving my car, I suddenly felt the unmistakable presence of this relative, whom I hardly even knew. He was more like someone I'd heard of than someone I knew. It was very it felt like I was momentarily lifted right out of my physical body. I thought being suspended somehow beyond space and time, bathed in a love so intense It felt like I just could have disappeared into it at any time if it would have let me. It only lasted a few seconds, but it seemed to last forever at the same time. I know how crazy this must sound. The experience was so strong that I was initially afraid that I was losing my grip on reality. I finally managed to chalk it up to an over active imagination. Three days later I got a call from my aunt telling me that this uncle we're talking about had gone into a coma and died the day I had the experience. It felt like ice water had been poured down my back when she told me this. I had lost no real ideas about God or faith and had become a bit of an atheist. Needless to say this experience made me reconsider some of the conclusions I had come to. I feel blessed to now understand that even in our darkest confusion something loves us so much that it went out of its way to help me and bring me back to a state of absolute certainty about Gods love for us. During the experience it seemed like there was a small amount of information that I somehow got access to. One thing that I came away from this experience understanding beyond any shadow of doubt was that any idea that God is unhappy with us or would judge or allow us to be punished for some reason is simply impossible. I can't explain the love I felt with words. They simply don't make words big enough or complete enough to do this. The only way I can begin to convey this love to you is to say that there simply wasn't anything else there. Nothing but love. No hint of judgment, no dissatisfaction of any kind. It is as if God sees us as perfect as we were the day we were created. It is only in our confused idea of ourselves that we seem to have changed. I hope it's of some help to you. Good luck. Love and blessings. Your brother don don
