Updated to version 1.4.0.5.2.1! Pixel style of the wonderful world, Terraria mobile version of the game image and touches the computer version and the same, using very sophisticated 2D pixel images. Join a lot of modern image technology, such as soft lighting changes and so on. The most beautiful part of the game or different bPhonephere has a different color, every time you enter another bPhonephere, you will feel the obvious changes in the picture: some are sunny, some forest cloudy and dark. The same is true of music in games, with different sounds in different environments, but most of the time you need to hear on this title screen and the background music of the popular theme song everywhere. No matter when the pace of the game is very easy and the electronic tone is pleasant, which is the game's greatest feature, the overall level of many games being much better than many, any fortune can give people a deep impression. An especially high level of freedom. The purpose of this is very simple, you can walk around aimlessly, build a broken home, live a relaxed life. You can also move towards the challenge boss, collect resources, kill a small boss, attract the NPC, build their own castle and village, embark on a brave adventure. In addition to acquisition and synthesis, the second feature of the game is of course the high plasticity, without any major lines, developing a completely free world. On the left is the snow and ice, walking to the right is the vast desert, down is a dark hell, up the island sky, the whole world can destroy and build, go to hell and have to cut through the earth, go to the island and put the tower of heaven... The game world is also divided into day and night, eventually how to make the game by the players themselves decided to create their own. You can get resources from a variety of places to build your own castle, snak your tools, equipment, furniture and other groceries. Every inch of the earth game can be destroyed, as long as you have free time, you dig the whole map into a pit no one pipes you. Of course, as the game deepens, the resources needed to find a more dangerous place. It is a great deal of freedom, but the main line is also a very clear and outstanding game. Terraria's main fun is natural purchase and In terraria's world, almost everything you see can be crushed, and fractures fall as matter. As long as the material and conditions are sufficient, anytime, anywhere can be squirted. And don't think this is a medieval fantasy story, as the game progresses, laser swords, circuits, bombs and other high-tech can also be used. As for how to sniff, it's the core fun of the game, and discover all the time and create new things, everyone explore it! In fact, the only drawbacks of a mobile version I think is nothing that shrinks the content, but bad action. Although the game was very thoughtfully optimized, but still can't solve how to put items or elements in the desired location, as well as a variety of good multi-angle moves, it also set the jump button on, it could be the biggest failure on the action. However, it can still by virtue of its degree of freedom and very rich content, as well as a good understanding of the pace of the game, makes rare works very fun of excellence. In addition to operating outside the gaming experience and pc version is not much different. Even if the content shrinks, but the game still provides enough time to kill the huge content. There is no doubt that this is a shui work to miss. If the gifted player can weigh in with a handle... This touchscreen operation is really uncomfortable. - APKAward.com similar to Minecraft's 2D fireplace, Terraria MOD APK (Immortal, Infinite Item) builds its name by modifying minecraft's craft and build a game and was successfully applied to the 2D RPG platform. However, after unexpected success, 505 games decided to partner with RakNet and CodeGlue to develop a mobile version of the game in August 2013. The game immediately attracted a large following, and was priced as one of the top paid games in the app store. Game, discovery, battle! These are the main activities when you participate in the open world of Terraria. Through these activities, you will be adventurous and explore an open world full of imaginary, strange creatures, fighting zombies, demon eyes... You will start the game by chopping up some trees, building shelters, then going mining and other resources. You'll need to search for materials to create weapons, armor and use them to fight hundreds of different types of monsters Games. There are more than 400 weapons from scuffle, long range, spells, and summons, ... Alternatively, you can also choose a serenity of life by building homes for NPC, fishing, animal riding, finding Bay Island, and many other things waiting. Unlimited creativity in tria, you can be anyone. Wizard? Investigator? Knight? Creativity has no limits. By harnessing resources and developing characters, you can create any character the way you want. Anything in the game can be destroyed and exploited its core resources. You can collect stones, wood, iron by destroying the stones. Predators and bones can be found by killing monsters and predators. The main goal of the game is to explore, create and adventure. Explore every corner of a vast, strange world with many strange landscapes you've never witnessed. Besides, construction and manufacturing is also a factor that causes the game to attract millions of players every day. With the resources you collect, you can create everything that helps your life in the game. Build weapons, clothing, vehicles, walls, bases or even a village. Of course, you can't end this one way early. It needs your patience and creativity. Survival in the open world, like a day on Earth, the Terraria world also has a day/night cycle. If you are a new player and want safety, remember a basic rule, which is not to explore at night. Tonight is the time of monster and zombie activity. If you don't have a lot of weapons and armor strong enough, there's nothing you can do but escape. During the day, you can travel freely, utilize resources, explore caves, kill some weak monsters. Terraria game modes are different from terraria computer version, mobile version has no Mediumcore or hardcore modes. Everything will be set to the most basic level, Softcore.Softcore when playing at Softcore level, the level of punishment for players who die is relatively mild. You will only lose about 1/3 (sometimes 2/3) of the item in And about half the gold character you have. This punishment is relatively easy if you compare it to Mediumcore (you will lose all items in your suitcase and gold), or hardcore (you will be banned from the world). In addition, Terraria Mobile still maintains 2 levels of difficulty of the game, Pre-hardmode (easy level) and Hardmode (difficulty level). Pre-hardmode, as it's called, Pre-hardmode is a relatively simple game mode to bring the experience to beginners. In Pre-hardmode, the number of creepy enemies (randomly produced) is relatively low, and enemies often have less blood and less warfare. Players will easily learn about the game mechanism without worrying too much about the enemy. Hardmode with a greater and more common number of slugging enemies, Hardmode is a condition for those who like to experience fighting as well as blood, attack and enemy numbers increase sharply. You will need to use all your knowledge and skills to survive in this situation. In addition, the boss at Hardmode is even tougher in greater numbers than normal mode and if you are passionate about fighting, hardmode will be a perfect situation. So you think you're ready for her Hardmode? Talking about graphicsSame brings the graphic style of RPG games from the 80s. It's not exactly the legendary, more modern RPG style, like the Stardo Valley. If you played through stardew valley, then you'll probably recognize some similarities in the Terraria.MOD APK design version of terrariaThe MOD APK feature Immortality: You're almost immortal, except to die underwater and die of poison.
