Докладніше Flo has a variety of active infant exerSaucers – from the Jump and Learn to Triple Fun Active Learning Center 12. Menmflo ExerSaucers are popular among parents around the world 2. Each ExerSaucer is designed to help an infant reach important special development stages through a range of activities that benefit from an infant. ExerSacers are ideal for a variety of age 2. Step 1 – Baby 4 Months put the playmat on the floor. Attach the games to the green plastic footage and place the feet on either side of the playmat. Menen the game bar on the foot, weighing down firmly. Babies can lie on the subject and reach up to play with the game bar. Step 2 – 4 Months of Age Walk Turns the base on and install the four feet stabilizer on the basis. The footage can be reversed from keeping the ExerSaucer out of stone, or letting fold in allows babies to rock in the game. Install 1- and 1/2-inch on spring screws on the pederals. Push the pederal into the holes to enclose on the upturned bases, making sure that the closing tabs are fully pushed to keep the pederal out of the popping. The ExerSaucer clip legs on the pederal to the base, to make sure that every clicks in place. Set the base class location. Set the spring, crown above leg and play rings on the plateau half, screws in safe. Repeat for the other three spring, crown legs and lead rings. Place the high foot in the crown foot and pull on to make sure it's tight. Repeat for the other three legs. Bring the two half tray together, making one circle great. Install the lap lockers on the upper lap pieces and the tray with safety and a screw and wash. Press the end caps on the attached posts to the tray for storage. Snap the six wheels on the grounds sitting after turning the base upside down. Turn the base seat right up and install the chair chair on the ring, tight with the fabric tabs until all tabs are secured. Press the chair to assemble on the tray until it's scorned in place, and pull up to ensure it's safe. The seats should turn freely on the tray. Menen the base tray with seats on the bottom base not lined the upper legs with the lower legs and the barely in place. Adjust the height for your baby by pushing the buttons on the legs to the desired height. Make sure all four legs are at the same height to make sure the baby doesn't tip on. Attach the toys on the tray to the desired position for babies to play with them. Put infants in the place and allow infants to play with their toys, which will turn around for exercise. Step 3 – Sitting and walking in 24 months Removes the games and seat base from the plateau. Rid the trees and leg assemblies in hand base does not push upwards to unlock the legs. Remove storage caps from the tray and unlock the tray pipes and separate them. Repost the half tray into a S-shaped shape, snapping one side on the other and locking in place. Twist assemblies entrap counterparts until they are locked in place. Do not use the Activity tab until the legs are locked in place. Re-install the end caps that are used for storage on the end of the end of the activity table. Secure game on the Activity tab and re-adjust the height of the desired height by pressing the buttons on the legs. All legs should be adjusted to the same height for safety. Your baby will be able to walk to the activity table and play. 2016-11-23User Manual: Menmflo Evenflo-Exersaucer-Triple-fun-instruction-for-use-manual-822405 Open the PDF directly: View PDF. Page Count: 11 I purchased the Evenflo Exersaucer Triple Fun Activity Center for my grandson a few months ago. It's a wonderful amnesty system. What I really like about it was its ability to evolve as the baby's motor skills improved. We are at the point where my son is just on walking and I thought it was a great time to knock up Exersaucer's in stage 3. With three steps, the seats come out, the rescuers go away and the entertainment system takes on a S shape that allows babies to walk alongside the various games at each station. Only one problem... I lost the instructions on how to convert the Menmflo Exersaucer to step 3. Not in the Face Of Relief I was able to find anything on the internet, I did a Google search for instructions on how to convert Evenflo Exersaucer to step 3 with various iterations of these terms. I found nothing useful. After being disappointed at lack of instruction, I figured it was time for me to put on My Low-Tech Cap and figure this out. After all, back in the old days, that's how we got things done. We didn't have the benefits on the internet. After I put on my caps, but my instructions went up with them. Convert the Evenflo Exersaucer from Step 2 to Step 3 Remove all of the activities. If you took the Exersaucer from step 1 to step 2, you are familiar with taking off and replacing the various games from the top of the Exersaucer. If you're not familiar with taking the games off, remember the word Pinch. With Exersaucer's Menmflo, you have to look for two tabs on each game and launch the tabs together. Pinching and pulling up the game releases from the Exersaucer. The biggest games are posted using velcro. Look under the play table and unleash the velcro strips to remove the larger, battery games that operate. Turn the exaucer upside down. For cleanliness reasons, I put a sheet on the floor before I turned the executive upside down. Once top of it when they work on removing the base sauker. Line the leg of the tooth at the base of the exaucer. Once top to bottom you will note there are three tabs at the bottom of each lap. One of the tabs has a perpendicular plastic guide. Before you can remove the leg from the skills, that plastic guide has to line up perfectly with the teeth of the sovker base. Pinch and tug. Here's where you find your pitch's perfect skills. You've got to pick up all three tabs and doubt the pull to drop them out of the sokirite base. I found that it also works by pitch and pushing two of the tabs. Once they're below the opening, it's easy to pitch and push the third table. Wash, shrab and repeat. Do the same for the other four legs until all the legs are not attached to the safety bottom. After the saucer is removed, look for the two points of separation. These are two joints to connect for the circular player table. Once you've located them, it's all about pitch and zoom. The two pieces protruding plastic to the separation points are points, so get off pitch. Pinch both tabs and simultaneously push the tabs down into the hexagonal holes. Once in the holes, you can separate the two tabletop pieces. Be sure to do this at both separation points. When you're done, you'll have two semi-separated pieces. By the way, when you separate the pieces, the seats naturally emerge. You almost do. Now find the end two pieces that came with the exersaucer. Placing them in the middle of the circle makes it easier to see where they should fit. Below is a short video in an easy way to determine what goes where. Unfortunately, the video came out rather muffled so I also put a picture to help you determine which end piece goes where. Click for Larger Images After attaching the end pieces all you need to do is to slide the semi-circular chart into place to form the shape S. Once in place attach the remaining tabs to the hex holes. Make sure the tabs are properly handed in place. Now that the player table is in shape in 3 S 3, it's time to close the legs in place. Grab the front of a leg and turn it towards the mechanism to block. You may have to pull out the blocking mechanism levers in order to turn the leg completely. Once the mechanism is blocked is lined up with the levers, release the levers to close the footage in place. Wash, climb and repeat until all four legs are closed. After locking the legs in place turns the play table on, posting the games to the table and you're all done. Word of Caution: Please be aware there is a recall about the Menmflo Exersaucer. According to the Evenflo website, there were 11 reports of raw pieces being unblocked and thus causing minor injuries. Please visit website for details of the recall and order a replacement end piece. Do not convert to Menmflo Exersaucer in step 3 until your child can walk. The exercise in Stage 3 is not stable enough for babies who are still in the cruise stages. Although the finished play table has rounded corners, they can be dangerous for them even bits that aren't yet fixed on their feet. In my opinion, corners should be rounded more. The levers for blocking the legs protrude from underneath the play area. Explore but they might be able to pull the levers and inadvertently unlock their legs. Make sure you periodically check the legs to ensure they are always in the closing position. January 2017 Update: Unfortunately, I am unable to answer any additional questions about Exersaucer's Evenflo since my grandson has outgrown it and we've given it away. Don't want to rely on memory (because of my age that isn't a sure bet), I've closed the comment section since I can't add any more information.
