Living check to monday by lynn

Lynn Richardson's book The Living Check until Monday represents the resiliability of the inner-city edginess, ivy league achievements and undeniable corporate credentials in the resolute killing of the pint-sized Mortgage Guru. An impressive bilingual skill in both urban colloquialism and financial services vernacular, Richardson's book is humorous and educational, and offers a no-nonsense approach and applicable, immediate solutions right now to problems. This book is great for book clubs, investment clubs and youth/adult financial literacy programs. Stock Image From this entry: Lynn Richardson Enterprises, Inc., 2005. Paperback. Condition: Good. Living Check to Monday is a tool that gives people common sense though not usually practiced strategies that will take them out of debt and provide a path to financial security. --Les Brown: Motivational Speaker, Author, International Media Personality

Lynn, thank you for writing living check monday. I keep it on my bedside table, next to the Bible! It is short, easy to read, and the principles you teach are very easy to apply. I thank God for you! --Glenda: ArkansasLiving Check until Monday is a tool that gives people common sense though not usually practiced strategies that will take them out of debt and provide a path to financial security. --Les Brown: Motivational Speaker, Author, International Media PersonalityLynn, thank you for writing Life Check on Monday. I keep it on my bedside table, next to the Bible! It is short, easy to read, and the principles you teach are very easy to apply. I thank God for you! --Glenda: Arkansas Known to Thousands as a Mortgage Guru, Lynn Richardson is more than just one mortgage and a real estate professional helping families achieve the American dream. The author, broadcaster and motivational speaker is a globally recognized mortgage and wealth education expert who not only wants to change the way Americans money, he wants to change the way they treat it. This. For more than a decade in leading roles in the banking and real estate industries, Richardson's reputation as an authoritative, transformative finance teacher resonates on a global scale, and has helped catapult thousands of trapped debt-building habits into a wealth-building lifestyle. The Chicago native began his career in 1995 as a financial aid adviser at the School of Art Institute in Chicago, before landing increasingly leading roles in the mortgage industry. After joining American Home Mortgage in 1999 (then the CNI National Mortgage), Richardson was promoted to assistant vice president in 2003 and consistently ranked among the top one percent of more than 4,000 loan officials nationally. Richardson's relentless desire to help direst credit-qualifying cases resulted in him closing more than $100 million in mortgages during his early years in the industry. Her approach to wealth creation helped a woman with four bankruptcies and two foreclosures become a successful home owner and real estate investor in just nine months. In 2003, he created Wealth n Real Estate, the flagship talk show he continues to host at the nationally recognized Chicago station, WVON 1690 AM. In 2006, Richardson joined JP Morgan Chase for the regions chosen as Vice President of Business Development and quickly reached the Vice President of National Strategic Partnerships. Later that year, Richardson was hand-selected to be coordinator of the Delta Challenge Home Ownership Initiative, a signature economic development program for an international women's public service organization, Delta Sigma Theta Corporation, Inc., Richardson's management, resulting in more than 100,000 consumer touch points worldwide and 35 million closures of Chase, a 389 percent increase over the past three years. In 2007, Richardson was responsible for implementing the Chase/AKA Keys Homeownership initiative, which leveraged the influence of the oldest black corporation to further create home ownership as a foundation for building wealth within the African American community. In August 2008, Richardson was named national homeownership Advisory Council chairman of the Hip Hop Summit Action Network, a nonprofit, non-partisan national coalition founded by entertainment and fashion mogul Russell Simmons and civil rights activist Dr. Benjamin Chavis, which brings together artists, leaders and advocates against poverty and injustice. In this office, it serves as a fresh vote for $5.9 billion. He joins hip hop celebrity panels of misguided urban professionals and young adults in free seminars organized around empowerment topics. At the same time, he launched HBCU Health, Wealth n Real Estate Tour thanks to his partnership with State Farm and Ian Smith's 50 million Challenge. Richardson received a bachelor's degree in business management finance from Loyola University, Ill., and is a licensed Real Estate Salesman. Its members include Delta Sigma Theta Corporation, Inc. The National Association of Real Estate Brokers, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, By Jack, Jill and the American, Inc., and rainbow push coalition. He and his best friend Demetrius have been married for 13 years. They have three daughters, and they're calling home in the south Chicago suburbs. Start your review of Life Check Monday: A Real Deal About Money, Credit and Financial Security I bought this book after attending a dynamic and life-changing workshop led by MC Lyte and Lynn Richardson. This book, however, left me puzzled. Maybe it needs an update. Information about the seminar is a book, but I felt much more informed after attending and was looking for a compliment reading. However, you should still read, but you need to hear from him personally. I bought this book after attending a dynamic and life-changing workshop led by MC Lyte and Lynn Richardson.
