Cs 3630 gatech reddit

I have to take a class with Embodied Intelligence. Not entirely sure if I should take CS 3790 or CS 3630. Any suggestions on which of them should be taken and why? Page 2Posted by4 years ago 3 comments imgur.com/a/kpML... How is the class? Just wondering because I have to take CS 1332 as a prerequisite, which is a class not in my current thread for CS Minor I'm going to do (Devices). Page 2 6 comments I wonder if I should drop the CS 3510 because I heard it was quite difficult at the end of the semester, and I don't want to mix it up with Math 3012 if it's going to be a big drain on my time. This is 18 hours of credit, and dropping 3,510 would allow for 15 hours of credit. Page 2 7 comments I'm trying to plan my next years and what classes I'll take and I wanted to know which classes were the hardest in other reviews, so I don't overload myself. Page 2 26 comments Hey guys I need advice on what to take for future semesters. In the summer, I'm going to take Physics 2211 at Georgia State Perimeter College. At the moment I take CS 1332, CS 2340, Math 2551, CS 2050 and Engl 1102. In the next semester I'm going to take CS 2110, CS 3600, CS 3630 and Math 3012. And since I need 6 humanities credits, maybe humanity, as well as a total of 16 hours of credit. Would it be better for me to take physics in GPC, and a few tech classes in the summer to spread the workload? I appreciate any tipsPage 2 7 comments Ayo. I am a potential CS student and already proficiency in the hands of full languages. I want to warm up with what most GaTech classes use to heck it. What do introductory classes usually use? Is it all variable? Hey everyone! For those who have had either class or Zsolt Kira for some other classes, I would appreciate any comments! Thank you. Hey everyone, I'm trying to get a headstart for the upcoming fall semester and was wondering if anyone could send/link to the curriculum for CS 2110. I did some research on Google and found a link to it, but I get a campus VPN error. In addition, any tips and tricks for CS 2110, CS 3630 and CS 3600 will be very welcome! Thank you.
