You don't need to get a hard copy of ottawa white pages to look through their lists. Use the electronic version in Canada411.ca. Enter the name of the person you're looking for, and enter Ottawa in the site field. Find workplace listings in Jigsaw.com. Use this comprehensive business communications guide to locate someone at their workplace in Ottawa. After entering a name for the search, select Canada as a country to search, and Ottawa as the metro area. Visit the Ottawa Public Library. The library has public access to Canada Reference, a large database guide of people and businesses across the country. You can use the database to search for names in the library or online on the library's website. You need a library card to access the system. George Diebold/Getty Images Area 578 icon is one of the unassigned symbols of the North American numbering plan, which includes the United States, Canada and some Caribbean countries and American lands. Using a phone number with a 578 area code is an attempt to hide the source of the call. Area codes in the Namb region were first used in the early 1950s, with 86 of the 152 possible area symbols used. As the number of telephone users increased over the decades, the symbols of the additional areas were increasing lying to complement the needs in the densely populated areas of the continent. For example, the area code 917 overlaps with the area code 212 and 718 in the New York City area to accommodate the significant increase in the number of phone users there. The area code 543 is currently in use in North America. The closest area symbols to this one numerically are 541 for Eugene, Oregon, and 551 for Newark, New Jersey. Area codes are managed and processed by the North American Numbering Plan Association or NANPA. What people usually call area codes officially known as NPA symbols. Any set of three digits (000-999) is theoretically an area code but at this time, only 316 of these codes are in use. Additionally, some icons are saved as special marks of some kind. For example, the 800 zone code is used for free calling, where the recipient pays for the call instead of the caller. Ugurhan Betin/Getty Images Area Code 668 is not a valid area code in the United States. However, it is the symbol of the Salih region in Oujda, which is located in northeastern Morocco. Calls received from the area code 668 can be returned to telemarketers, billing collectors and surveyors. The area code 668 is used to hide the valid phone number, making it impossible to identify the call or track the business that makes the call. Phone calls and text messages from this area code can be reported and added to the list of fake numbers. Scam artists are also known for using invalid phone numbers. Numbers.
