Sasha alexander age

Sasha Alexander was born on May 17, 1973, in Los Angeles. She began acting in seventh grade when she achieved the lead woman role in a school production of Baby. Sasha went on to perform in high school plays and moved to New York during college to perform in summer stock and Shakespeare festivals. Sasha was in a number of independent films after graduating from the University of Southern California film school before going on to land lead roles in a pair of short-lived shows: Presidio Med, who played Dr. Jackie Colette, and the ABC drama Wasteland, in which her portrayal of an overworked publication with the dating scene in New York helped her create a re-owning , Dawson's Creek. Sasha received critical praise and widespread media attention playing Gretchen Witter, the sister of Pacey Witter (Joshua Jackson). The series revolved around the dating life of Pacey and his friends, Dawson Leery (James Van Der Beek), Joey Potter (Katie Holmes) and Jen Lindley (Michelle Williams). Sasha guest star as district attorney Robin Childs on CSI: Crime Scene Investigation, and interviewed Joey Tribianni (Matt LeBlanc) as a Soap Opera Digest reporter on the hit NBC comedy, Friends. The talented actress then became the very popular Caitlin Todd on the drama series NCIS: Naval Criminal Investigative Service as a special agent investigating naval crimes. Her character's unexpected death at the end of the second season shocked the show's fans. After leaving the series, Sasha landed roles in big-budget films such as Mission: Impossible III (2006) with Tom Cruise, Yes Man (2008) opposite Jim Carrey, and in the ensemble comedy He's Just Not That Into You, with Scarlett Johansson, Bradley Cooper and Drew Barrymore. That same year, she also played in the independent film The Last Lullaby with Tom Sizemore. She was named best actress of the 2008 San Diego Film Festival for her role as Sarah in the film. In 2010, she guest starred on the drama series, House M.D. as sexy new neighbor Nora, the object of doctors Gregory House (Hugh Laurie) and James Wilson's (Robert Sean Leonard) affections. This was also the year Sasha impressed with her current role as the brilliant, stylish and eccentric medical examiner Dr. Maura Isles (2010-2016) on the crime drama, Rizzoli & Isles. The show is based on characters created by best-selling author Tess Gerritsen and also stars Angie Harmon as Detective Jane Rizzoli. Sasha's performance on the show resonates with viewers and critics who have asked New York Daily News to list her portrayal of Maura Isles as one of the most memorable TV characters for 2011. While filming Rizzoli & Isles Sasha guest star on Shameless as Helene Runyon change it in a big way play a professor professor in an open marriage and have a relationship with her student. SpoilerTV says Sasha Alexander is shining in the role. While on hiatus from Rizzoli and Isles in 2011, Sasha produced the hilarious comedy Coming & Going with her husband, writer and director Edoardo Ponti.Sasha married Edoardo Ponti, son of Sophia Loren. They have two children: Leonardo Fortunato and Lucia Sofia Ponti.In November 2014, Sasha launched TAKEHOLLYWOOD (co-founded by Edoardo Ponti & Sylvain Perret) to allow aspiring entertainers and film enthusiasts to come together on a unique social media and online learning platform. DATE OF BIRTH May 17, 1973, Los Angeles, California, U.S. NAME Suzana Drobnjakovic Serbian and Italian descendant Suzana S. Drobnjakovic, who would later be known as Sasha Alexander,Sasha was born on May 17, 1973, in Los Angeles, California. She has a brother named Alexander. In seventh grade, she started performing in school productions and later performed through high school and college. She then moved to New York to perform in the summer stock and Shakespeare festivals. She received a BFA degree in directing the University of Southern California's School of Theatre and Television. I went to film school at USC for directing and I graduated to want to make movies. I performed when I was younger, mostly stage, but when I got to college I really wanted to expand my knowledge of filmmaking and I just loved movies. Sasha AlexanderSasha was also a figure ice skater and dancer but had to give up going pro due to injury to her knee. She was also a singer and in a band at the age of 14 called Everything Nice. Sasha Alexander started acting by the time she was in seventh grade when she found herself as the main female in her school's production of Baby. What she didn't know was that her male co-star would circle out on her just a few hours before opening night. Determined to let the show go on, Sasha used her comedic skills and threw herself into the role. The audience response was overwhelmingly enthusiastic and a star was born. Sasha went on to perform on high school and college plays and traveled east to New York from her native Los Angeles to perform in summer stock and Shakespeare Festival productions. It was here that her portrayal of Katherine in The Taming of the Shrew earned her the honour of studying with Cicely Berry and the Royal Shakespeare Company in London. Sasha graduated from USC's prestigious School of Theatre and Television, where she studied directing in an attempt to glimpse her behind-the-camera skills. All the while, she has continued to add to her acting resume with appearances in several award-winning independent films, which premiered at festivals across the country. In addition to her acting career, Sasha also wrote variety of productions, including Lucky 13 (2005/1), a comedy she co-wrote, produced and stars in with Harland Williams and Lauren Graham. Sasha has currently moved base from L.A to North Carolina where she co-stars with her friend James Van Der Beek on the TV drama Dawson's Creek (1998). Sasha Alexander is the actress' stage name.
