Shenzi, Banzai, and Ed were about to return as Zira's nohsleds, with Cheech Marin reprising his role as Banzai from the original film. In Lion King 11/2, Shenzi, Banzai, and Ed act as local predators who invade Timon's meerkat colony before their allegiance to Scar. Shenzi (voiced by Florence Kasumba) appears in a CGI remake complete with another personality. She is portrayed as a ruthless and cunning matriarch with a no-nonsense attitude and an air of authority. She is also shown to be vying with Nala. Ed was replaced by Azizi (voiced by Eric Andre), and Banzai was replaced by Kamari (voiced by Keegan-Michael Key). However, the two play largely similar roles to Ed and Banzai in the original film, Shenzi, Azizi, and Kamari hear the insult that Scar uses on them. When Scar is defeated and the hyena pack confronts him, Scar states that they can rebuild Pride land if they build an army. Azizi and Kamari say they heard the insult he used on them. Scar claims he tried to deceive Simba. Shenzi You're right about one thing Scar, hyena's belly is never full. Hyenas attack as Scar hits on some of them before the hyenas swarm over Scar and kill him. In the original design of the film, the hyenas were African wild dogs, referred to as Cape Dogs in the film. [6] Their species may have changed to illustrate the fierce rivalry and competition between lions and hyenas in real life, and competition is much stronger than between lions and other predators. Gopher Gopher (voiced by Jim Cummings) is a gopher who works for Zaza as an informant. In the film, he is seen warning Zazu that hyenas have invaded Pride Lands. Gopher appeared in two segments starring with Zazu in Timon & Duint Quint (1995–1999) is a man who is timon and pumbaa archenemy. He's a sneaky, muscular man with black hair, a pink nose and a shoven face; has different outfits in each episode because of the different work he has, but he is often seen wearing a hat. He also has different names that show what his work is (in which everyone happens to start with a C). Quint is a cheater who tricks Timon into stealing the golden nugget Pumbaa found in an episode of Yukon Con, A criminal who stole a suitcase that has $1,290,000 in an episode of How to Beat a High Costa Rica, a bad clock inspector who wants revenge on a timekeeper in an episode of Swiss Missed, a French chef who wants to make a Speedy Snail escargot in an episode of French Fried, etc. In an episode of French Fried, etc. In an episode of French chef who wants to make a Speedy Snail escargot in an episode of French Fried, etc. In an episode of French Fried, etc. In an episode of French Chef who wants to make a Speedy Snail escargot in an episode of French Fried, etc. In an episode of French Fried, etc. In an episode of French Chef who wants to make a Speedy Snail escargot in an episode of French Fried, etc. In an episode of Fried Fried, etc. In an episode of Fried Fried, etc. In an episode of Fried Fr man with honest work, but he still seems to annoy Timon and Pumbaa. Especially in season 2, Quint's face appears to be clean-shaved except for an episode of Escape From Newark, his nose is the same color as his body for the first time. Speedy Snail Speedy (voiced by Corey Burton impersonate Bing Crosby) is a talking grey/bluish snail with a shiny red shell and yellow fedora. Timon and Pumbaa plan to eat him at first, but his ability to talk and ing and his bon viveur, good-humored attitude gets him to be friends with them. Timon gives him the name Speedy because he thinks it would be a brilliant disagreement. Speedy always finds himself in danger of becoming a French gourmet snail and an earring from his shell, and it's always up to Timon and Pumba to save him. In an episode of The Man from J.U.N.G.L.E., Speedy turned out to be a superhero named Super Duper Hero X after Timon and Pumbaa were captured by his nemesis chromosome Quint. Each episode featuring Speedy ends with Timon and Pumbaa talking bye to Speedy when she returns him home, seagull Speedy, and then Timon and Pumbaa try to save him again. Speedy also makes a non-speaking cameo appearance in an episode of Washington Applesauce. Fred Fred (voiced by S. Scott Bullock) is a meerkat who is Timon's next best friend back to the Meerkat colony. He is a practical joker, employing such gags as a hand buzzer, a splashing flower, and a whoopee pillow. He also loved Timon hyena jokes. When Fred visits Timon and Pumbaa, he pulls more practical jokes at the duo, such as impersonating billy goat quards. Timon and Pumbaa, however, don't find Fred's jokes very funny and often overwhelm him. In addition to pulling practical jokes, Fred has to do all kinds of activities like playing Turtle Tennis and fishing for buzzards. In the Meerkat colony, Fred's duty was to guard Duke Meerkat Castle, although on the day the Duke left the colony, he sneaked away to enjoy a snack and convinced Timon that it was now his chance to go on a date with Princess Tatiana. When the colony after the cobra kidnapped the princess, Fred's new duty was to guard the back gate, suggesting he had been demoted for not protecting the castle. Fred appears in a total of four episodes: Tanzania's Zany, Mombasa-In-Law, Once Upon a Timon, and Mind Over Matterhorn. Boss Beaver (voiced by Brad Garrett) is an ill-tempered and cantankerous beaver with a white hard hat. His lifestyle is the exact opposite of the lifestyle of Timon and Pumbaa Hakuna Matata: Boss Beaver likes to work, while Timon and Pumbaa like to relax. He owns a lumberjack and a theme park called Boss Beaver also has three mottos: Makuta Hamaka, which means work hard, safety in the first place and break it, you buy it. Boss Beaver's favorite quote is I'm The Boss Beaver and the reason they call me Boss Beaver and I'm a beaver. In an episode of Amusement Bark, it turned out he had a mischievous son named Boy Beaver who kept breaking things up in his theme park and getting Timon to blame for it. Boss Beaver appears in a total of three episodes. He also makes a non-speaking cameo appearance in an episode of Washington Applesauce. Irwin Irwin (voiced by Charlie Adler) is a clumsy, accident-prone penguin with a green scarf and brown hat.
Timon and Pumbaa befriend him at a boat stop in Antarctica when they see he has two more tickets for the duo to get on the boat. When Irwin leaves his home with the duo, it is revealed that he has apparently hurt all his penguin friends as they are all seen wearing bandages. Timon doesn't like Irwin's clumsiness, and he's trying to get rid of him by cheating on him to play hide-and-seek. Irwin Cause the ship to sink and Timon and he tricks him into playing another game and Irwin accidentally causes the island to sink. Irwin will meet Timon and Pumbaa again at the Hakuna Matata Megamall. Due to his clumsiness, Timon and Pumbaa try to avoid him by hiding in different stores. Irwin appears in two episodes of the TV series, Furious Atlantic and Shopping Mauled. Toucan Dan (voiced by Jeff Bennett) is a dangerously clever criminal mastermind lying toucan who wears a red fez. He's a persuasive liar and a imitator, and he'd do anything to get anyone in trouble. In his debut episode, while Timon is impersonating Toucan Dan so he doesn't have problems with the police, Toucan Dan impersonating Timon, and it makes Pumbaa have to decide which one is the real Timon. Toucan Dan makes his second and final appearance in an episode of Alcatraz Mataz. In that episode, he frames Timon and Pumbaa for stealing a train car full of beak gloss and police throw them in jail. Angry at Toucan Dan, Timon and Pumbaa escape to catch the toucan and make him tell the truth. Rabbit (voiced by Charlie Adler) is a large and tall pink hare that seems very unpleasant, tiring. Debuted in an episode of Mojave Desserted. In that episode. Timon and Pumbaa save their lives when they drown in quicksand and he decides to repay the duo's arm and leg. Angry Rabbit, Timon and Pumbaa hatch a plan to put them in danger and save the rabbit and then leave them alone. Rabbit makes his second and final appearance in an episode of Africa-Dabra!, this time appearing as an unsympathetic and ruthless magician. After Timon pulls him out of the hat, he teams up with Meerkat to become part of his magical act, told him that he had been looking for a partner for years. When he's upset by Pumba, who's destroying magical acts, he's going to break up Timon and Pumba's friendship. When Pumbaa discovers that Timon never said anything about him, he takes revenge on Rabbit by trapping him in a cage and later complaining to him about his disguises. Vulture Police Vulture Police (voiced by Townsend Coleman and Brian Cummings) have recurring characters. They make their first appearance in an episode of The Law of the Jungle, where they arrest Timon for using the Forbidden Stick to scratch his back and take him to Judge Rhino, who gives a series of tests to see if he is innocent or guilty. In an episode of Yosemite Remedy, Timon and Pumbaa go to the police after a criminal raccoon steals their suitcase full of valuables. When they handcuffed the thief, he told them he hadn't stolen Timon and Pumba's suitcase, he found it. Police released him but later arrested him again when he was found. that he really stole the couple's suitcase while he was caught in the act. In an episode of Alcatraz Mataz, Vulture police throw Timon and Pumbaa into jail after they were convinced by Toucan Dan, the police show up and realize that it was indeed Toucan Dan who stole the train car and so arrested the toucan. However, they also throw Timon and Pumbaa back to prison because they escaped when told to regardless of whether they were framed or not. Vulture police make a brief appearance in an episode of Wide Awake in Wonderland. Cheetah and Cheetah (voiced by Rob Paulsen) and Cheetato (voiced by Jim Cummings) are a pair of sophisticated twin cheetahs, reminiscent of Warner Bros' Goofy Gophers, speaking in British accents and using similar phrases (No doubt, How much kind of of you). In order to tell them apart, not only do they have different voices, but also different personalities: Cheetata seems more likely to rethink things. Cheetata first appear in an episode of Cooked Goose, where they are annoyed by Shenzi, Banzai, and Ed getting in the way of their wild hunting, so they try to send them on various wild goose chases. They also appear in Gabon with the wind, where they are convinced by Timon that he is going to catch Pumbaa for them when he is actually going to find his friend so they can both escape to safety. In an episode of Boary Glory Days, Timon and Pumbaa use Cheetata and Cheetato to play the game Predator Tag. While cheetahs chase Timon and Pumbao, the duo outsmpt the brothers by skipping them through the mud pool and falling into it. The three Natives Three Aborigines (voiced by Jeff Bennett) are a trio of tribesmen who are really university students who attend Be Native weekends. They have a leader (also voiced by Jeff Bennett), who is also a university student and who usually precedes what he says with Bungalow, a bungalow. The natives will first appear in Boara Boara. This episode shows that they once had a warthog king of the island, which is not known what might happen to him. Therefore, the natives may not have seen their king for a really long time. When Timon and Pumbaa visit the island, the natives mistake Pumbaa for their long-lost king and make Timon his servant. Everything goes well until pumbaa fire again and realize he is a cheater when he sees that he is unable to do so. After Timon and Pumbaa escape, the three aborigines get rid of their disguises after getting tired of being hit by the leader's staff and returning to university. The leader orders them to return, otherwise they lose their deposit.
The natives will also appear in an episode of New Guinea Pig, where Pumbaa decides to trade his to them. After they fail to get the kly, the three natives are shown with their leader again, where to steal a golden magic tooth that belongs to the beast and Timon and Pumbaa have to get from them. They also make a brief appearance in an episode of Mozam-Beak, when Timon and Pumbaa go to Bora Bora to throw a woodpepoon into a volcano. Mr. Bear (voiced by Jim Cummings) is grumpy, short-tempered but handsome grizzly bear, even if he gets easily angry, like when he's woken up from his nap or when someone gets his food wrong. He also has a romantic interest in a beautiful supermodel named Leslie Lambeau (voiced by Grey DeLisle). He appears in seven episodes, from Slalom Problem to It Runs Well. In an episode of Jailhouse Shock,, Mr. Bear becomes close friends with Little Jimmy, who gets along with Timon and Pumbaa by exploiting him by convincing him that the duo hurt him so he can beat him up. Mr. Bear begins to show compassion for Timon and Pumbaa in episodes of Ready, Aim, Fire and Stay Away From My Honey! In the former, he operated as Smolder Bear (a parody of Smokey Bear), who doesn't like fires and rescues Timon and Pumbaa from cooking to fire Quint. Tatiana Tatiana (voiced by Tress MacNeille) is the daughter of Duke Meerkat and princess of the colony of Meerkat. She only appears in one episode, but she is vital to Timon's past. After Timon leaves his sentry duty post to prepare for his date with Tatiana, the king cobra enters the colony and escapes the princess, which makes everyone believe she is dead and what causes Timon to get banished. After Timon and Pumbaa meet for the first time, they see that Tatiana is still alive and save her from the colony with Timon and Pumbaa, Timon will offer her a hand in marriage. When the Duke forces him to choose between Tatiana or Pumbaa, he decides to be best friends with Pumbaa when they leave the Meerkat colony. Although Once Upon a Timon was supposed to be Tatiana's only appearance, there is a female meerkat that bears a striking resemblance to her in an episode of Timon in Love. The only difference is that Tatiana has blonde hair, while the other meerkat has red hair, and she is not wearing a tiedé. Sharla (voiced by Billy West) is a female warthog who is the leader of the former pumbaa's past. She and three other male warts sounder drove Pumbaa out of the group because of his terrible smell, which was appalling even by warthog standards. A few years later, Sharla and three warts carry a large bag of bugs for the rainy season, but run into a herd of guinea foes who are their natural enemies and Due to the birds' ability to remove their fur in seconds, warthogs take refuge in the shack and make an emergency call that Pumbaa answers. When Pumbaa comes together with his sounder, Timon has come up with ideas on how they can get rid of the bead. However, none of Timon's ideas work, so Pumbaa suggests that he and Timon use a jeep so that they carry a fake bag of bugs (which have firecrackers inside) to disperse the beads, while Sharla and other warts leave the cottage with a real bag of bugs. Although Sharla drove Pumba out of the group, they still have romantic feelings for each other. When Pumbaa comes into the shack, they'll say they've never forgotten each other. Sharla tells Pumbaa that he should stay with the group, but Pumbaa decides to continue living his Hakuna Matata lifestyle with Timon, who the warthog woman understands. Ned The Elephant Ned (voiced by Frank Welker) is a tall and powerful African bush elephant who thinks he is wonderful at everything. They seem to be teasing Timon and Pumbaa if they fail to prove their worth to him. In an episode of Uganda being an elephant, Timon states that Ned is the most popular guy in the jungle and Pumbaa decides to turn into an elephant to make him popular as well. Although Ned is selfish and sarcastic, he gets a change of heart after Pumbaa saves him and his hippo foot from falling off a cliff. In an episode of Bad Luck in Lesote, it turned out that Ned has the good luck of the Club, which lost most of its members due to Ned bringing an unfortunate cup to the club. Since he gets attacked by piranhas after falling into a river after a black panther cub crosses his path, Ned is never seen or heard from again after this episode, meaning he has been engulfed in piranhas. Little Jimmy (voiced by Joe Alaskey) is a cute but dangerous bluebird.
He is similar to Toucan Dan, adding that he is also a criminal mastermind and he may also be dishonest. He also has two voices: his fake cute, innocent voice cast himself as hatchling and his criminal voice to show he is truly an adult. Little Jimmy first appears in an episode of Nest Best Thing, where he tricks Pumbaa into building a bird house for him, which is actually a hideout. Pigeon police appear and arrest Little Jimmy is all mates with Mr. Bear. In order to avenge both Timon and Pumbaa for turning him, he tricks Mr. Bear into thinking that Timon and Pumbaa hurt him so he can hurt them back. Introduced in Lion King II: Simba Pride (1998) by Kiara Kiara (voiced by Neve Campbell as a young adult; Michelle Horn as Kiara when she is a cub in Lion King II: Simba Pride; Eden Riegel in Lion Guard) is the daughter of Simba and Nala, and Kion's older sister. Does the portrait look in The Lion King [quote needed] and is the main character in Lion King II: Simba Pride and The Lion Guard. Kiara is portrayed as a feisty, playful and adventurous princess whom her over-protective father Simba easily fears for his safety. As a cub. Kiara befriends Metal while playing on the outlands, where they work together to escape a group of crocodiles. Unfortunately, their friendship is shortened because they are separated by their respective parents. As a young adult, Kiara is rescued by Metal as part of Zira's plan to avenge Scar's death, but the two lions eventually fall in love. When Kovu is driven out of Pride Lands after ambushing Zira on Simba, Kiara helps him return to Pride Land to unite Pridelanders and outsiders. Then she becomes Metal's wife. The Lion Guard Kiara is seen being trained by her parents to be gueen and has a subtle sibling rivalry with Kion. A few years later, she is engaged to Metal, where she helps him in explaining to Kion about what happened while he was away and what happened to Zira. Simba and Kovua will be named as their successors as the ruler of The Land of Pride.
Metal Metal (voiced by Jason Marsden as a young adult as well as as a cub and an adult in the Lion Guard; Ryan O'Donohue as Kovu, when he is a cub) is the youngest child of Zira, brother of Nuka and Vitani, and Scar is the chosen heir. His name means scar in Swahil, similar to his adoptive father Scar. In childhood, Metal befriends Kiara, although it did not take long because they are separated by their feud parents. However, Kovu's newfound friendship so that Kovu will be able to kill Simba. Since then, Zira trains Metal to assassinate Simba and take his place as king of Pride Rock. As a young adult, Kiara was reschedules for Kiara during a planned trap and Simba reluctantly allows him to stay in Pride Lands. While spending time with Kiara, Kovu begins to fall in love with her, and so, can not bring himself to hurt Simba. However, after Simba is ambushed by outsiders and Nuka is killed, Simba mistakenly assumes Kovu to be behind the ambush and expel him from the Pride Lands. Eventually, after Kovu meets with Kiara and convinces the Pridelanders and outsiders to stop fighting each other, Simba pardons Metal and allows him to become his eventual successor. In the Lion Guard, Kovu appears with his family in their plot to take over Yasiri territory. Kion's going to hear from Metal that Kiara knows him. Years later, Kion and the Lion Guard will learn that Kovu and the rest of the outsiders returned to Simba's pride after Ziri's death. Simba names Metal and Kiara as his successor as the ruler of Pride Country. Outsiders Outsiders are the pride of an offshoot of lions that have been loval to Scar. After an unsuccessful download after Death, Simba drove them to the Outlands. In the Lion Guard, they tried to invade the territory in which the Jasiri clan lives. Kion was hesitant to use the Roar of elders because of what he did to Scar. After being told by the rest of the Lion Guard that Scar used the roar of the elders, who sent them flying into the Termite Outlands' hill top area, which became their base of operations. Zira Zira (voiced by Suzanne Pleshette in Lion King II: Simba Pride, Nika Futterman in the Lion Guard), which means hatred in Swahil, is the mother of Nuka, Metal, and Vitani. She is Scar's most loyal follower, and plots to avenge Scar's death by forming outsiders. She is using Kovu's friendship with daughter Simba Kiara as part of her plan to assassinate Simba. When this plan failed because of Koyu's love for Kiare, Zira will relite a disenuous war against Simba's pride. However, because of the actions of Kiara and Koyu, Vitani and other outsiders realize that I would rather join Simba's pride and turn against Zira, who persists in her revenge. Attempting to attack Simba, Zira is captured by Kiara and falls into a flash flood to her death, despite Kiara's efforts to save her. Zira makes an appearance in the Lion Guard alongside Metal, Nuka, Vitani, and the rest of her pride in an episode of Lions of the Outlands. She tries to convince Kion that using the Roar elders against her and other outsiders would cause her to lose just as Scar did, and to side with her fellow lions. However, Kion is eventually able to see through her scams and drives her and others away with the Roar. A few years later, her death was mentioned by Kiara and Kovu when the Lion Guard returned and met Vitani the embodiment of the Lion Guard. Zira was also originally going to be a friend of Scar's so that their son was entitled to rule Pride. However, this idea was scratched due to the incest theme that would happen to Kiara and Kovu, making Zira the most loval supporter of Scar, Nuka Nuka (voiced by Andy Dick) is the eldest child of Zira and older brother of Vitani and Kovu, His name means smell in Swahil, Jealous of Zira's apparent favoritisation of Metal, Nuka often tries to get her mother's consent, During the Outsiders' ambush, Nuka tries to kill Simba to prove himself to his mother, but is crushed to death by falling logs, even though he eventually gained the attention he craved from his mother. Zira mourned her son's death and blamed Kovu for the incident. In the Lion Guard, Nuka helped his mother in a plot to take over Yasiri's territory. Vitani (voiced by Jennifer Lien as an adult; Lacey Chabert as Vitani, when he is a cub, as well as as a cub and an adult in the Lion Guard; Crysta Macalush for her cub form singing voice) is a middle child and the only daughter of Zira. Although She has prominent appearances in Lion King II: Simba Pride, she makes a cameo appearance in Lion Guard. As a young adult, Vitani is Zira's strongest lieutenant, supporting and acting on her mother's violent plans. With the help of Metal and Kiara, Vitani and outsiders turn on Zira and join pridelanders to settle the feud between the two prides peacefully. After Zira's death, Vitani and other outsiders are pardoned by Simba and return to his pride. In the Lion Guard, Vitani helped his mother in a plot to take over Jasiri territory. A few years later, after she and her pride joined Simba, while Kion and his friends traveled to the tree of life, Vitani formed her own Lion Guard in their absence, where it was also stated what had happened to Zira. As the future king's sister, she believes it is her duty to protect the Land of Pride. She proves that she deserves to become leader of the Lion Guard after bravely challenges Kion despite having a roar of elders, thereby revealing her heroic and honorable attributes thus redeemed from her past villain. Kion will then lend her the position and strength of leader of the Lion Guard. This allows Vitani to use the Roar of the Elders, and she and her Lion Guard are officially recognized as the new Lion Guard Pride Lands. Her name is swahila portmanteau words Vita (War), Ni (I am), and Shetani (She-Demon); portmanteau can be roughly translated into I Am War or Demon of War. [citation needed] Shetani himself was originally her name in the early designs of Lion King II: Simba Pride. but it was softened on Vitani. Introduced in Lion King 11/2 (2004) Ma Ma (voiced by Julie Kavner) is Timon's mother. Generally encouraging and optimistic, she believes in Timon and convinces Uncle Max to give him a job as a sentry or look-out. After Timon fails in his duties, she remains convinced that he can still find a place in the colony, but when he insists he must go, he supports him. Later, he worries about Timon after talking to Rafiki and looking for him. They finally come together at Pride Rock and Help Me fight hyenas digging long tunnel traps them. After Simba becomes king with the death of Scars, Timon takes them and the entire meerkat colony into the jungle of paradise, which he and Pumbaa discovered. Ma is mentioned several times in Timon & Zimwi.
Uncle Max Uncle Max (voiced by Jerry Stiller) is a prominent member of the meerkat colony and a relative of Timon and Ma. He's got a grey headgear and a very big nose. Max is pessimistic by nature and very paranoid, believing that meerkat's fate is supposed to be food for other animals! He was afraid of nothing and ate everyone! Max reluctantly agrees to timon sentry for the colony and try to train him for this job, but there is almost one hyena when they attack. He's happy for Timon to go, but he ends up going with mom to find him. Max appears again towards the end of the film, where he and Ma meet Timon and Pumbaa at Pride Rock, and helps Timon get rid of the hyena digging tunnel. Max finally believes in Timon, and after Timon takes meerkats tai chi. Introduced in Lion Guard (2015-2019) Lion Guard Are the main characters in Lion Guard: Kion (voiced by Max Charles)[7] is a lion who is the son of Simba and Nala. Sometime after Kiara's first meeting with Bunga, Beshte, Fuli, and Ono. As leader of the Lion Guard and second-born to the throne, Kion is gifted with a power called the Roar of the Elders, which causes the great lion spirits of Pride Lands past the roar with him. Kion is surprisingly mature at his young age, unlike his older sister or his parents when they were cubs.
He is also kind-hearted and has a strong sense of responsibility, and does not want to end up like his great-uncle Scar, who used the Roar for evil and thus lost forever. He also shows a strong but open sense of judgment that warms him to cleaners like Jasiri hyena and her clan. However, more cunning neighbors like Zira from outsiders and Reirei's jackal pack have used his gullible spirit to exert their power, only to be soundly subdued when Kion's instincts come into play. Sometimes, when he has doubts, he communicates with the spirit of his wise grandfather Mufasa, who gives him advice when he needs his help. By the end of the episode's Rise of the Scars, Kion travels to the Outlands to save Kiara, and unwitly summons Scar after he uses the Roar in anger when Janja threatens his family. Later in the season, Kion and the Lion Guard discover that Scar has returned while they are in the Outlands to get the volcanic ash needed to treat Simba from a scorpion sting. After returning to Pride Lands, Kion acknowledges to his team that they have a tough fight ahead, but remains confident they will be able to beat Scar. By the end of season 3 of the premiere of Battle of Pride Country, Kion manages to beat Scar once and for all by summoning the Lions of the Past to destroy him with rain. However, in the process, Ushari, a venomous snake follower of Scar, attacks Kion, leaving him with a scar above his left eye and poisoning him. Kion and the Lion Guard then travel to find the Tree of Life to heal him. On the way to the tree, Kion often acts rough and aggressive and loses control of his Roar due to the poison inside his scar, Kion stopped. mufasa of shame, because his scar makes him look scar. Once reaching the Tree of Life, Kion meets the protectors of the Tree of Life, Night Pride, which leads him during his recovery process. While Kion is recovering, Kion becomes closer and develops a romantic feel for Rani, leader of Night Pride, and later gueen of tree life. Only after being encouraged by her, eventually, decides to talk to his grandfather again after a few months and tells him that he was afraid to face him because of his scar and his concerns about turning evil like Scar, but Mufasa is understanding, telling Kion that he could talk to him at any time and reminding him that he would always be there for him. After being healed from the poison, Kion becomes uncertain that he can lead the guard because he can't control the Roar, but then realizes that he was already a great leader even without the Roar. This implementation allows him to completely master the Rev under the leadership of Askari. Kion and his friends return to Pride Lands after hearing Zira plans to attack his pride, but discovers that the two prides have come together and Zira's daughter Vitani has created her own Lion Guard in their absence. Kion decides to hand over the role of the Lion Guard and the roar of the elder Vitani and her lionesses, ending with him and his friends' Lion Guard Kion and his friends will then return to the Tree of Life, where Kion will get married to Rani, which makes him king of the Tree of Life and his protector, along with his friends, who have also joined The Night's Pride. Bunga (voiced by Joshua Rush) is a honey badger, Kion's childhood best friend and the bravest member of the Lion Guard. He is also the adative nephew of Timon and Pumbaa. Bunga is proven to be very adventurous and he rarely acts seriously or even sits still, as he is always on the move, working out unlimited energy and enthusiasm, and doing even the most serious situations into fantastic times. Although it makes him a great friend and playmate, it lands him in trouble more often than not. According to Kiara, Bunga is brave, bordering on a stupid but prized member of the Lion Guard however. In the finale, Bunga joins Night Pride. Fuli (voiced by Diamond White)[7] is a cheetah, one of Kion's friends and the fastest member of the Lion Guard, as well as his first member. She is quite proud of her running skills and shows extreme joy for being able to outsmn a pursuer of any kind. Despite being friends with Kion, she is a bit of a hatred of lions for lording over Pride Country, was skeptical of Kion roar elders, and hates water. Despite these negative qualities, she was willing to join the Lion Guard with her friends to defend the circle of life when Jania and his clan invaded Pride Land. She is also the first female animal to ever serve in the guard, as shown in season 2 The rise of the scar. In Season 3, Fuli occasionally takes command of the quard from Kion when his scar affects his rational thinking. In the finale, Fuli joins Night Pride. She and a male cheetah named Azaad fall in love at the end of the third season. Beshte (voiced by Dušan Brown)[7] is a hipp, one of Kion's friends and the strongest member of the Lion Guard. Being one of pridelands's most popular animals, Beshte is proven to be kind-hearted. His friendliness applies to everyone, how he bes like a big brother, to the younger members of his herd, a friend of animals of all different kinds, and the protector of Pride Lands as a whole. Beshte can also be sensitive, he is particularly t-like when his friend Kion is unable to use the Roar of the Elderly. For an animal so big and full of life, Beshte has a suitably large heart and never fails to treat his friends with kindness. In the finale, Beshte joins Night Pride. It (voiced by Atticus Shaffer)[7] is a cattle egret, one of Kion's friends and the most erent sight of the Lion Guard, as well as its only non-mammal member. He is one of the group, is friendly and group-oriented. He is used to spending time around other animals and is content to be part of the Lion Guard. It is also proven to be blunt as he is able to unload his feelings without a sugar-coating. He is by far the most realistic member of the group as he always thinks things up before jumping in As for his role on the Lion Guard, Ono is brave and has a knack for following the rules. He listens to Kion's orders without a doubt and proves that he is courageous and thrifty, greatly helpful when it comes to scouting out of the situation. His principles are clear in his ability to fight with full heart for the circle of life, and he is a valued member of the Lion Guard for his intelligence and ability to see things from afar. During the final confrontation against Scar, Ono saved Bunga from falling into the volcano, as a result of suction too much smog, which resulted in almost loss of vision. He relinquished his position as the hottest sight for Anga, but still remains as a member of the Lion Guard after Kion awarded him the new smartest title. He joins the quard to find the Tree of Life in the hope that it will heal his eyes. After reaching the Tree of Life, Ono begins his healing process and eventually regains his sight, even if it is not as sharp as it used to be. In the finale, Ono joins Night Pride. Anga (voiced by Bryana) Salaz) is a fighting eagle who first appears in the Season 2 finale, where teams with Ono stop the Mzingo Committee from setting fire to pride grounds. She is a serious and no-nonsense bird, giving her the impression that she is cold and hostile. In fact, she is kind and caring, and her cold exterior is just her way Like most birds, she admires Hadithi to the point that she barely able to contain her excitement whenever she is involved, which is one of the rare occasions Anga loses her composure. In season 3, she will become a member of the Lion Guard after injuring Ono during the Battle of Pride Grounds, taking his position as the team's most erent sight. Anga's catchphrase is Anga lenga, which means Aim for the sky in Swahil. In the finale, Anga joins Night Pride. Kiara's friends besides Kiara, she has a friend's name: Zuri (voiced by Madison Pettis), meaning beautiful in Swahil, is a lioness cub and one of Kiara's friends. She seems to be in vain about her appearance as she constantly grinds her claws at the trees to keep them shiny. Unlike his friends. Zuri is delicate and timid. She shows considerable anxiety and fear in the face of simple circumstances and harbors deep disgust for grubs. In the finale Zuri joins Night Pride. Tiifu (voiced by Sarah Hyland in Season 1 and Rise of the Scar; Bailey Gambertoglio in Season 2) is a lioness cub, and a friend of Kiara's. She is shown to be kind and patient, as can be seen when she is soothed by the exaggerated Zuri. She is a great rule-follower and trusts the judgment of her friends, showing faith when she leaves Kiara to bring help, as Janja invades Pride Land. In the finale, Tiifu joins Night Pride. Askari (voiced by Michael Luwoye) is a lion and leader of the original Lion Guard who was second-born of the unnamed king and gueen and a distant relative of Mufasa, Simba, and Kion. His spirit teaches Kion about how the roar works during Kion's journey to the Tree of Life. Night Pride and love interest Kion. She first erd the Lion Guard as intruders after Bunga accidentally caused a landslide and Kion accidentally lost control of his Roar, which blew away her younger brother Baliyo but eventually greeted them under her grandmother Janna's insistence. Although her trust with the Lion Guard was strained after she learned that they had been unwitly followed by Makucha, Chuluun, & Ch series. Her name means Queen in Hindi. Her and her Night Pride's catchphrase is With strength & Ranj's younger brother. His name means Strong in Nepal and Strong in Hindi (Bali) and his catchphrase is Lada'i!, which means Fighting in Hindi. Surak (voiced by Lou Diamond Phillips) - Surak is Janna's second-born son Rani and Baliy's uncle. His name means Footprint in Hindi and his catchphrase is Jogina! Nirmala (voiced by Miki Yamashita) - Nirmala's Night Pride is a healer. She is the one who leads Kion in his recovery process. Her name means Pure in Hindi and her catchphrase is Aramakaro., which in Hindi, the word is divided into three parts (araam, aa, and karo), which means come to relax. According to both Nirmala & amp; Baliyo, Aramakaro also means Relax. Janna (voiced by Shohreh Aghdashloo) - Janna is a former Queen of Night Pride, mother of Sâhasí and Surak, and grandmother of Rani and Baliyo. She died of old age. In Return to The Land of Pride, her spirit is seen with the spirits of Mufasa and Askari when Kion married Rani with his Lion Guard agreeing to help Night Pride protect the tree of life. Its name means Paradise in Arabic and Life in Hindi (jann). Sâhasí (voiced by James Sie) - Rani and Baliyo's late father, Surak's older brother, and Janna's firstborn son. His spirit appears where he advises Rani. His name means Brave in Hindi. Ãnanda (voiced by Grace Young) - Rani and Baliyo deceased mother. Her spirit speaks to Rani along with Sâhasi, where she gives advice to Rani. Her name means Joy in Hindi. Ullu (voiced by Vyvan Pham) is an Indian scops owl that lives on a tree of life. She is an adviser to Night Pride and reports something is going on near the Tree of Life. Makini Makini (voiced by Landry Bender) is a young mandrill who is Rafiki's new apprentice. She is free-spirited and loves to learn and look at her mentor. But he has trouble being calm and easily lying, which was the cause of Scar's resurrection. Nevertheless. Makini prides herself and her position and is friendly and welcoming to everyone she meets. She joins the Lion Guards on their way to the Tree of Life, although she inadvertently reveals the Tree of Life of Makucha's existence. After the death of Queen Janna, Makini is a rani royal Mjuzi. Vitani's Lion Guard Vitani's Lion Guard are a group of lionesses who take the role of the Lion Guard during Kion & amp; his Lion Guard's absence, due to their journey to the Tree of Life. Led by Metal's sister Vitani, who is the fiercest member of her guard, her Lion Guard is the first Lion Guard to be led by a female lion, have all female members, and be led by an older sibling instead of younger (due to Metal being the next king, even though she is younger than the Vitani, although Vitani is still the second born child). Once Kion and his Lion Guard returned, they and the Vitani erded each other for enemies (with the former being warned that Zira's pride was attacking the Pride Lands, unaware that the war was over). However, after Kiara and Kovu stopped the fight, Kion and his allies are told what happened, and Vitani realizes that it was she fought, she didn't recognize him because of his scar. Although the initial battle was resolved, Vitani guards and Kion guards shared the rivalry at first, but eventually became friends as time progressed. In addition to Vitani, the rest of her Lion Guard consists of: Shabaha (voiced by Fiona Riley) is the bravest member of the Vitani Lion Guard, known for her level of madness. Jania comments that her fighting style is similar to Bunga (much to his liking); But as Bunga's courage leaves him dimwitted, Shabaha's makes her a little unhinged: she often laughs maniacally amid the challenges. Her catchphrase is Bila hofu!, which is Swahili for Fearless! Kasi (voiced by Savannah Smith) is the fastest member of the Vitani Lion Guard, noting that Fuli's level of calm. Although without the benefits of cheetah speed Fuli, Kasi has more constant endurance (like she is a lion) and agility (partly due to her thin build). Her catchphrase is Haraka, haraka!, which is Swahili for Hurry Up, Hurry Up! Imara (voiced by Rachel Crow) is the strongest member of the Vitani Lion Guard, due to her tenacity. With a subgroup build, she proves almost as strong as Beshte is seen when she is able to slightly push back Beshte during their first encounter, and when they are competitive by pushing elephant-topped rocks. Her catchphrase is Misuli! (pronounced musuli!), which is Swahili for Muscles! Tazama (voiced by Sophie Reynolds) is the most erent sight in the Vitani Lion Guard, as well as a supporting team player. Although unable to fly like Anga or Ono, Tazama is able to see in the dark (something Anga and Ono can't do) and has a certain level of T-tinge Ono (using his rules in challenges against Anga). Her catchphrase is Hiyo kali!, which is Swahili for This is Awesome! Aardvarks appear in Lion Guard: Muhangus (voiced by Khary Payton) is aardvark and the leader of his shoal. Muhanga (voiced by Russi Taylor) is an aardvark who is Muhangus's friend. Aardwolves The following aardwolves appear in Lion Guard: Mjomba (voiced by Charlie Adler) is a grumpy and impatient werewolf who is the leader of the pack. He has a huddled back, bushy black eyebrows, grey coat and darker grey features. His inner ears are pink, and his nose is black. Like the rest of the pack, he adores termites. His name in Swahil means uncle. Ogopa (voiced by Marieve Herington) is a blue-gray coat and black marks, as well as a narrow muzzle and black nose. Her yellow eyes are large and framed by a few eyelashes and her inner ears are pink with a pair of hair sprouting from each. Like the rest of the pack, she adores termites. She is easily frightened and tends to jump to conclusions. She also tends to add afterthoughts after she gives her opinion on the subject. Haya (voiced by Ogie Banks) is and shy werewolf. He has a dark grey coat with longer hair on his cheeks and black marks, and his inner ears are pink with a few hairs sprouting from the pack, he adores termites. Like Ogopa, he tends to add afterthoughts after announcing his opinion. The Arab Tahr Group of Arab Tahr resides on the tree of life; Cek (voiced by Jeremy Ray Valdez) is the leader of his flock, Rama (voiced by Tiffany Espensen) is married to Cek, Baboons, whether they're olive baboons or vellow baboons, appear in Lion Guard; The Big Baboon (voiced by Ford Riley in Return of the Roar, Dee Bradley Baker in later appearances) is an olive baboon and the leader of his army. Gumba (voiced by Jacquez Swanigan) is a young olive baboon who is part of the Army of the Big Baboon. Uroho (voiced by David Adkins) is a sneaky yellow baboon who is the leader of the Travelling Baboon show. Mwevi and Mwizi (both voiced by Dee Bradley Baker) are a duo of yellow baboons who are part of Uro's Traveling Baboon show. Bears, whether they are giant pandas or polar bears, appear in Lion Guard: Heng Heng (voiced by Tiffany Espensen) is a giant panda that lives on the tree of life. Tangaagim (voiced by Rafael Firecracker) is a polar bear who lives on the tree of life and is the leader of his sleuth. Binturong (voiced by Rachel House) is a sneaky and arrogant binturong crime boss who lives in a stone forest and has to eat tuliza until bunga ruins her tuliza pile with his smell, causing Mama Binturong to chase him with the intention of completing it. In The River of Patience after overhearing & amp; the Night Pride, Mama Binturong joins them to assist them in their cause. Cape buffalo Vuruga (voiced by Virginia Watson) Cape buffalo, which is the leader of its herd. Kiara once presided over their Royal Buffalo Wallow. Chameleons Kinyonga (voiced by Meghan Strange) is a veiled chameleon who once helped the Lion Guard by spying on Scar in the outlands. Cheetahs Besides Fuli, the following cheetah appears in Lion Guard: Azaad (voiced by Behzad Dabu) is the proud cheetah that the Lion Guard meet in his canyon during his journey into the tree of life. He later helped them to the Tree of Life, where he had previously visited and led them on the fastest journey to Pride Country, where he will later meet Simba and Nalo. Civets that appear in Lion Guard: Old Civet (voiced by Matthew Yang King) is an unnamed older great Indian civet that the Lion Guard met near Dragon Island during his journey to the Tree of Life. Tompok (voiced by Johnny Yong Bosch) is banded palm civet that the Lion Guard meet in the woods during his trip to the Tree of Life. The following crocodiles appear in the Lion Guard: Pua (voiced by Gerald C. Rivers) is an elderly Nile crocodile who originally led a crocodile float until he is defeated by Makuu in the mashindano battle for the position of alpha male. After defeat, Pua leaves the float that lives in Pride Country after defeating the previous leader of Pua in battle. He is proven to be commendable and loves to bask in the attention or circle of life, and certainly not for authority (except his own), seen by both Pua and Kion as weak and cowardly. He seems to only respond to strength and power as he was overwhelmed by the Roar elders and put in a second Kion request to leave Big Springs while trying to save face. In season 2, Makuu decided to become a better leader for his float, reforming from his trouble-making ways. Kiburi (voiced Common) is a former member of the Makuu float. Like the less experienced Makuu, he saw no reason why crocodiles should be mindful of other Pride Lands animals. After the crocodiles were accidentally woken from the dry period of the Aestivation of the Lion Guard, Kiburi led most of the float in an attempt to seize the bodies of water. He later called on Makuu to mashindano, having made an alliance with Ushari and a plan to remove Simba. After being defeated, he and his three supporters were expelled from Pride Lands, and became part of scar's growing collective in the Outlands. In some later episodes of season 2 and season 3 opener, more crocodiles have been known to be part of the Kiburi float in the Outlands. After Scar's defeat, Kiburi reluctantly accepted Yasiri as leader of the Outlands. Tamka (voiced by Nolan North) is a brutal but unintelligent crocodile loyal to Kiburi. Nduli (voiced by Jorge Diaz) is an optimistic crocodile loyal to Kiburi. The Deer Kiril (voiced by Danny Jacobs) is a Siberian musk deer that lives by the tree of life and is the leader of its herd. Dolphins Lumba-Lumba (voiced by Tania Gunadi, singing the voice of Kimiko Glenn) is meet near Dragon Island during their trip to the Tree of Life. Eagles In addition to Anga, the following eagle appears in Lion Guard: Hadithi (voiced by John O'Hurley) is a legendary African hawk-eagle who pretended to have invented Hadithi S	Spin. Elephants Following elephants appear in the Lion Guard: Ma Tembo (voiced by Lynette Dupree) is an adult African bush elephant with broken right tusks that reaches the leadership of its father Aminifu herd after his death. Like her father, she is always a game of laughter. Even if Simba makes a mis situation by dwelling for good. She is similarly gracious to Nala and Kiara when they are the only members of their family to attend an elephant concert. The Ma Tembo herd lived in kilio valley until it was destroyed by a fire caused by outlanded	ers in the Kilio Valley Fire. Mtoto (voiced by Natalie Coughlin in

Bunga Wise, Justin Felbinger in later episodes) is the elephant calf that adores Beshte. He seems innocent with little understanding of the world. His playful nature often gets him in trouble, although his intentions are usually good. Mtoto's Mor	m (voiced by Russi Taylor in Follow That Hippo!, Virginia Watson in later episodes) - an unnamed African bush elephant that is part of Ma Tembo's herd. Zito (voiced by Nick Watt) - a grouchy and impatient African bush elephant that is part of Ma Tembo's herd. Johari (voiced by Ace Gibson) - an African bush elephant that is part of Ma Tembo's herd.
