Sandra McCollom Facebook PageWeitere persona name Sandra McCollom Anzeigen more ways to see many of us believe that it must be perfect to please God. It's an easy lie to buy. In a culture that values achievement and ever higher goals, we feel driven to do more, achieve more and achieve more. The consequences? anger, frustration, and anxiety keep us far from the life of peace promised by Jesus. For years, Sandra McCollom lived in this trap until God revealed to her the wealth of God's grace. I almost tried to die, Sandra shares how she left her burden of anxiety and fear and shows how to experience the freedom of trust on your own with only the perfect power of God's grace. We discovered that they have a formal night on board and we are casual people in McCollom. Seriously, the last time I wore a dress was at a wedding seven years ago. The four of us thought long and hard to buy and borrow the outfits we needed for this formal dinner and make plans, but now we're very happy. Thankfully, our girl was delighted to wear a return dance dress again, so it was a great help. I haven't seen Steve McCollom in tax since my wedding day almost 27 years ago, but wow, he looked handsome! He was like, Wow, this is so comfortable ha! But as always, he was a great sport and we endured a tax for the next four or five hours, like we went to dinner and probably took 100 photos! Let's say we were all ready to get back in our casual clothes by the end of the night. I'm going to share some of our vacation photos with you below (both dressy and casual), and at the bottom I'll leave a link to our 2018 ministry schedule that's now complete, as well as a link to another blog post I wrote four years ago. First, some photos from some of our vacation Disney World: This roller coaster goes from 0-57 miles miles in 2.8 seconds. I look like I'm in a lot of pain, but a few seconds after taking off, when I take my breath away, I'm like, !!! It was shouting. Another photo from Hollywood studio Magic Kingdom now theseCruise. Ha! Steve is trying to see spite on pirate night! My family knew how excited I was to capture these memories and they lovingly went along with the plan! I had a great time on my family vacation, but I must have said five times during the trip, I'm really glad I didn't come on this vacation to find happiness. I said it because I don't need a vacation to be happy. As I mentioned in many of my other blog posts, my joy is in the fact that I am a child of God. I love taking holidays with my family and I always do, but I love my whole life. So my joy didn't change when the vacation was over. I feel that way, so it's sad for those who don't believe in Jesus or who they are, but I don't know what was offered for them through Jesus' finished work. That's why we, the McCollom family, want to spend the rest of our lives sharing the good news about Jesus with the world! Click below to be encouraged by this other blog post I promised you! What does the rest have to do with it? On this page you will have the opportunity to explain the good news of the gospel and make Jesus your Savior and pray for the prayer of salvation!
