Legendary marketer club reviews

I first heard about Legendary Marketer about a year ago through a big YouTuber review, and i immediately thought it was a scam. Something about the vibe I was getting just didn't jive with me. So I wrote it and forgot that it existed only a few months ago. It wasn't until a year later that I met ceo David Sharpe, and I started singing a different tune. He is a good man! A rare person in the internet marketing space who takes care of his employees, students and branches. So I bought some of the products. They have good things there, and many of them are free or basically free. My favorite by far was the Legendary Marketer's 15-day challenge. For $7 they guide you through building a partner company in 15 days. Includes daily video training Daily tasks Daily quizzes Call your mentor At the end you literally have your partner company, products, emails, all ready to go. Join the Challenge I want to take a moment to talk about what would make this a scam. For me, cheating is when you don't deliver what you promise. I often hear people accuse training like this of cheating them, but on further research you can come to discover these people just don't work. So let's look at this disclosure on every page. So you have to remember that they are an educational platform. They are not there to do the work for you and make you rich. They are built around giving you skills that will help you get rich. Join the legendary 15-day What Is Legendary Marketer Challenge? Legendary Marketer is essentially a series of in-depth training materials on building a successful online business. It focuses on affiliate marketing. This training takes the form of written articles, video content, online events and events in person. It also covers various aspects of the online business, such as affiliate marketing, coaching, consulting and even selling your own digital products. Okay, that was a boring explanation. Does that sound like almost any other online business right? Let me give you something real. Legendary Marketer is essentially an ecosystem of online affiliate marketers and online business owners. They extrude huge amounts of training content and have a large community that supports each other. Few companies have done as well as the one in creating online traffic that can inspire, teach, and help you succeed. Who is the legendary marketer for? After going through a lot of their content, they definitely focus on beginners in the online business space. They are not there to get you from $10k per month to $100k per month, they are there to get you from $0 to $5k per month. They teach you how to set up sales funnels (essential for your online business today), how to create email sequences to track with customers and leads, and more importantly teach traffic. They give templates and even import one whenever they can, where you can click one button and import paths into ClickFunnels accounts. As the above shot shows, they are also very organized with tasks, quizzes and even a free coaching conversation with some products that will help you make the most of your training (and of course you' cisell). Training is most beneficial to affiliate marketers because it's David Sharpe's background and comes out in what he teaches. Lets Talk Products Legendary Marketer website currently offers 6 different products, although many more are available through upsells and other private channels. One of my favorite things about their products is that they range from totally free, to thousands of dollars, where they do everything for you. But you can get to the door with free products, earn some money and then move up the ladder from there. This route is recommended in this overview. Business Builder Challenge is their main front-end product that they give away for free. Honestly, in the space in there are very few free products that are of such high quality. The challenge for business builders is essentially a 15-day step-by-step training plan to get your business online from the ground. It is easy to follow, sequential, and leaves full activity at the end. While Legendary Marketer obviously sells additional products, the goal is to make you work before these products ever come into play. It includes daily tasks, quizzes, tasks and even coaching (which is crazy for a free product). If you're on edge about registration, this is the most logical first step because it's free and you can test their style without spending money. Click here to sign up for the challenge (it's free). Legendary Marketers Club named after Netflix online marketing training, this one consists of various mini-courses designed to help entrepreneurs grow and scale their businesses online. You'll also get access to weekly live activities, each of which is provided by someone on the Legendary Marketer team. The only downside to this is that they often don't let you know the subject beforehand, so you'll usually be better off watching replays. But live participation has many more benefits because you can actually ask questions to amazing experts and get them answers on the spot. I know I don't have another program for $30 a month that can get you live a week coaching with 7-figure experts in the online/affiliate marketing field. Speaking of mini-courses, at the time of writing there are only 7 available, but each contains from 4 to 21 video lessons. Combined, you're looking at over 30 hours of content covering a wide variety of online marketing industries. Training includes a way of thinking (the skipped part of most training), sales paths, products, email marketing, everything else you can Z. When it comes to the quality of the lesson production, most of the content is shot in front of a live audience. Selects all the appropriate fields in terms of the topics covered and how it is delivered. The speakers clearly know what they are doing and it has a very fresh feel. In general, you will find all the usual marketing basics are well covered here as well as some fairly advanced hacks that some of their members are doing. This is another easy low ball offer. It's only $30 a month, so you can take it for a month, watch all the training and cancel if you want. You can sign up for the club here. Rolodex Bundle Time movement to get to more expensive things. This training is designed to make it easier to route traffic to your website or landing page. It consists of 8 different modules surrounding the most popular/effective motion generation methods. Here you will learn how to increase traffic from Google, Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, Youtube and Google Display Network. You will also receive a crash course on the landing page of the building, which passes compatibility checks on different advertising platforms. Each module is taught by someone who is an expert in this module. I love this teaching method because you can choose one that really works with you and focus on it all. Don't just watch all the modules or just wasted a lot of time. I don't know anyone who is an expert on Facebook, Google, Twitter, Instagram and YouTube at once. My only problem with Traffic Rolodex is that most content is based on running paid road campaigns through services like Facebook, Instagram and YouTube. Anyone who wants to use free traffic channels will be disappointed with this one. I think a lot of scam complaints come from these people. I'm a big fan of organic methods (like this blog post) to make money. However, David has been putting experts talking about organic much more lately, including platforms like Tik Tok. There are students who blew themselves up on Tik Tok in literally weeks. It is a huge platform of potential for the development of the company. In general, if you have a budget and are looking to use paid channels for affiliate marketing purposes then it is worth buying. However, if you're looking for organic, stick to the club until you're ready to go for a paid one. The Traffic Rolodex Bundle is $247 as a one-time payment, which is still relatively cheap compared to the rest of the products offered by Legendary Marketer – though the cost of upfront paid traffic is another factor to consider. Conclusion: No cheating. Affiliate Marketing Business Blueprint Affiliate marketing is easily one of the most popular online business models in 2019 because it offers a very low barrier to entry with high scaling potential - you will have difficulty finding with other models. This training runs through the partner base such as: What affiliate marketing is like affiliate marketing actually works how to choose products to promote actionable tips on how to start earning first commissions once again, while you can apply these lessons to other affiliate opportunities, a lot of training revolves around promoting legendary marketer products, and if you remember from earlier, you have to pay a monthly fee to get the best commissions. You may want to start seeing their training combine in a way that makes it difficult to resist the next offer, but whether you agree with this type of marketing is up to you (and your portfolio). Affiliate Marketing Business Blueprint is $2,500 as a one-time payment. Honestly I think it would be better taking my training on affiliate marketing, watching a seminar and even buying my full course for a fraction of the price. I have hundreds of successful students, and teach movement, funnels, and everything you need. Is it a shameless plugin? Yes, but I really believe I have an advantage over that. Conclusion: Not a scam, but not a great investment. Click here to buy Affiliate Secrets 2.0. Digital Products Business Blueprint This training is about creating digital products such as written ebooks, video content and audio files for sale through a membership style portal. (True, you can endure shipping nightmares and logistics.) Make no mistake, this is still a powerful and very unused method of earning. While most online marketers focus on promoting other products to cut profits, this approach allows you to keep 100% of each sale. This training is divided into two basic stages: the transfer of knowledge and passion to a full-fledged information product, including what medium to choose and how to organize the information in a way that makes sense. Get this information product before your target audience, including topics like marketing channels to use and how to find this sweet spot in terms of pricing. Speaking of pricing, Digital Marketing Business Blueprint is $2500 as a one-time payment, which, once again, is a pretty hefty investment for any online training course. Conclusion: No scam, but not worth the investment. Coaching & Consulting Business Blueprint Are You Not Ready to Go On Affiliate Marketing Fashion? Don't feel like creating and selling digital products? Well, you're not out of options yet. If you have the time, knowledge and experience to offer, then becoming a trainer or consultant will allow you to build a highly profitable service-based business without having to sell to the masses. This training will show you: How to identify a specific niche for your coaching and consulting service How to find qualified potential clients who will benefit from your service How to develop a winning pitch close leads How to find the best industry platforms and technologies to run your business How to choose an invoicing platform to collect payments from customers How much will this wean you? You guessed it, Coaching & Consulting Business Blueprint will set you back another $2500 as a one-time payment. Although this business model is much less scalable than the previous one, there is no doubt that being a successful trainer or consultant will easily bring a return on this investment. With that said, this one is still relatively overstated. Conclusion: Not a scam, but a little overstated. Events & Masterminds Business Blueprint this is the last training on the list, but by no means the least significant. This is one high-end investment I actually think it's worth it. For me, if you are going to pay more than $1,000 you should get some personal contact or coaching this product comes with this. Despite the growing popularity around online ventures, events and masterminds have remained viable business opportunities for those who prefer a more personal approach. This can be used for almost any industry such as digital marketing, self-recovery, or health and fitness. In this training you will learn: How to plan an event in the right way (avoiding common pitfalls) How to slash overheads and increase profit margins Who to hire and where to organize events How to create a productive atmosphere for participants How to encourage people to come back (and pay) It is also worth mentioning that it is based on live events personally, so those who want to organize virtual summits or regular group conversations mastermind will find little in it. Accessing Events & Masterminds Business Blueprint will require an investment of $2,500 as a one-time payment. Conclusion: No cheating, and indeed worth it if you want to go the way of the event and talk to people. Note: Legendary Marketer has other products that are not listed on the website but are offered as upsells through their core products. This review only covers the basic products found here. Facebook Group Community You didn't expect me to complete this review, not to mention the legendary Facebook Marketer group, right? The good news is that no matter which (or how many) products you buy, you'll be able to join the Facebook community with over 16,000 other legendary Marketer users. The first time you join a group, you will be asked to provide your account email address for verification purposes: approval may take several days, but once inside you will be able to: Discuss course lessons and takeaways Get help at related sticking points Get insight into other business ventures Network with other members Despite videos, PDF files to and endless bonuses, the vibrant community is often the most overlooked perk you gain from purchase in this way. You will find that it is also often the most valuable for your business in the long run. The legendary marketer has one of the best online communities, second only to my group – Automation Nation. True, to finish things, let's go back to the title of this article: Is the legendary marketer a clever scam or a worthy business investment? This is a very subjective question and you can expect a different answer from almost everyone you ask. (Though it's best not to ask affiliates if you know what I mean.) Here are my general thoughts. I recommend some legendary marketer products wholeheartedly, while others I'm careful to put my weight behind. TikTok challenge and business builder challenge, which I would absolutely receive, and for now I can abstain from products with higher tickets. PROS Content covers all major areas of digital marketing High quality content presented by experienced marketers Generous affiliate commissions (on a paid affiliate plan) Access to a committed facebook community group of like-minded entrepreneurs 30-day return policy on all CONS content products are heavily divided and sold as individual products Partner training are too focused on promoting promotion Legendary Marker products Some video content data is recycling from live recordings Commissions on Legendary Market products scale based on free/paid membership Some of the products are overrated for what they are the best route if you are new to the all is to get their free and their $1 products and start working your way through them. If you like them, learn from them and feel good about them, you can move on to higher things. Check out my other reviews below: below:
