But in the new version, the red thing that tells you which direction the damage comes from when you get injured is completely broken, indicates a random direction, please fix it. Otherwise, thanks so much for making my life better with this game, me and my friends play all the time! Emma Jane Flick: I absolutely love the game! Its amazing! My only request is that you can do or do you want this? Option every time you hatch eggs or open chests. Well, I think I have two conclusions. Can you make van traders just have cheaper things? Let's say my dream gun was $5.59, but then the van traders came in and there were 250 coins. If you can make these changes and I really appreciate it. Milkshake: The game is great and addictive, but my only problem is that it is now more complicated and just greedy for money. Then, when the game was not thirsty for money, it was very simple and much more enjoyable. Now, instead of winning the actual weapon from your chest, you will only get parts. It also really annoys me that now you have to be on some level to change skins. It's really annoying and it's sad that once a simple and funny shooter turned into it.
