Ikea sofa beds australia

Eric Strong through Youtube IKEA hacks are not new, so you have to be creative to impress the internet design community today, and this creative father reinforces it altogether, encouraging his toddler son to switch. Eric Strong's big baby cot creates the best sleep settings —complete with secret clubhouses, color changing lights and even slides! Our inner children are totally jealous now. The most impressive part of the project, which Strong noted on Youtube, is that the bed comes with three IKEA furniture: a loft bed, a storage piece and a small shelving set, to ensure that more parts are synchronized, he buys a second loft bed and uses the pieces to create a slide wall and a Eric Strong clubhouse via Youtube, while the bed looks impressive from the outside, the coolest child features are hidden, pulling the green books open, opening the secret door to the clubhouse under the bed with brightly colored LED lights. In the event that the secret door fails, Strong quickly builds a one-way escape hatch into the other shelf (he also combines other safety elements such as sharp polished corners), also a running ball (think of a marble play) and a pulley system behind the slide.
