Georgia (June 17, 2013) - New program offers students options to spread payments throughout the KENNESAW, Ga. semester (June (June (June 2013) - Kennesaw State University has teamed up with Nelnet Business Solutions to offer an online payment program to help students pay tuition, mandatory fees, college meal plans and housing in monthly installments, rather than a down payment at the start of the semester. The interest-free payment plan will be launched on July 1 and covers up to $5,500 per semester for tuition and fees. We strive to provide effective options and services for our students in Kennesaw State, said Rita Adams, university bursar. The Nelnet Tuition Payment Plan is a resource that we hope will be easier for students to budget for tuition-related costs each semester. The payment plan data is based on how quickly a student enrolls in the program, which can be equated to a lower payment and more time to pay, extending the monthly fees from two to four months. The cost to sign up for the payment plan is $50 per semester. Students who receive financial assistance can also participate in the payment program. Nelnet Business Solutions will calculate the tuition and fees due after the application of financial aid. The minimum amount to participate in the payment plan is $500. Kennesaw State is one of four University System of Georgia institutions to offer a payment plan by a third-party provider.
