Let's hope you haven't lost track of all the streaming platforms being introduced because it's time to add another one to the list. HBO Max is next, having released on May 27. The cable channel extension will include classic programs, such as Friends, as well as original series. Most importantly, there are nearly 100 movies on HBO Max right now. The HBO Max movie catalog includes some movies that are available on other platforms like Hulu, but most are movies you can only watch if you have HBO Go, HBO Now, or HBO through your cable provider. Currently, movies don't overlap with any options on Netflix, but don't worry. There are still plenty of options for you to enjoy. If you're in the mood for rom-coms, HBO Max has you covered with Can't Buy Me Love, A Walk to Remember and Crazy Rich Asians. Do you prefer a fantasy movie or action movie? Check out The Wizard of Oz or The Lord of the Rings trilogy. There's something for all movie lovers of all ages on the new site. There are 96 movies that HBO Max has available on the first day, these are the ones that excite us. HBO Max is the streaming service recently launched from Warner Media. But what happened to previous streaming services, HBO Now and HBO Go? We're here to let you know you're both done. Read: Best HBO Max Movies Here's a look at what HBO Now and Go used to be, and how both have been replaced by Max. You can sign up for Max now at the link below if you can't get it at no additional cost. HBO Go has already registered with HBO through its local cable or satellite TV provider, previously being able to access the Go app with its cable or satellite login and access all movies in the HBO library, along with all of its TV shows, miniseries, documentaries and specials. WarnerMedia has made agreements with a number of major and smaller cable providers that allow its HBO customers to log in to Max at no additional cost. In fact, iOS and Android users of HBO Go have already seen those apps updated to HBO Max. As of July 31, Go has now completely disappeared, replaced for most users by Max.HBO Now this service was for customers who did not have HBO via cable television or satellite connection. It was released in 2015 and allows those people to access cable channel content through smartphones, smart TVs, set-top boxes and game consoles. It costs $14.99 a month. Prior to December 17, THE HBO Now apps were renamed as simply HBO for Amazon Fire TV and Roku device owners. However, as of December 17, those apps have been replaced by HBO MaxEnter HBO MaxHBO Max is the latest service, basically replacing all older ones. Not only does it have all the content of the cable network, but a lot of other movies and TV shows as well. That includes classic TV comedies like Friends, The Big Bang Theory, Theory, The Fresh Prince of Bel-Air and television dramas such as Doctor Who and Pretty Little Liars. He also has classic and current Warner Bros. films that are not currently on the cable channel, such as Casablanca, The Wizard of Oz, 2001, and all the Harry Potter and Lord of the Rings films. It can also stream shows from several of WarnerMedia's other cable channels such as TNT, TBS, TruTV, Adult Swim, Cartoon Network and CNN. Finally, there are selections of Criterion movies, along with anime from Crunchyroll and Studio Ghibli.Read: The best Studio GhibliAs movies we mentioned, most cable companies are giving their HBO subscribers access to Max at no additional cost. In short, there are now only HBO Max apps, as the Now and Go apps have been retired. Hopefully, that answers your questions about these three services. In the meantime, have you signed up for the service? There are so many different networks that introduce their own streaming services, but few have traveled the HBO route. In addition to its regular subscription to premium channels, HBO released HBO Max last spring, a direct-to-consumer video service that gives you access to all of your favorite HBO shows, as well as much, much more that isn't included with HBO's regular package. HBO Max offers something for everyone from preschoolers to teens and adults, scripted and scripted series, competition shows, documentaries, animation for kids and adults, movies and more. It is also the first step in a review of the HBO model. Now, consumers need to figure out exactly how they want to access the content on the premium streaming network, and if they feel all the extra content HBO Max offers is worth it. HBO Max has many special features that make it stand out and some peculiarities that make it not ideal for all consumers, including the fact that it is not available on Roku or PlayStation 5 (although it is now available on Fire TV Stick). Here's what you need to know about HBO Max. When did HBO Max launch and how much does it cost? HBO Max was released on May 27, 2020 and costs $15 a month, making it more expensive than other streaming packages. Netflix's most popular package costs $13, a Hulu subscription is $6 (or $12 if you want to skip ads), and Disney+ will push you back just $7 a month or $70 a year. However, given the amount of additional content HBO Max provides and the fact that HBO currently costs around $15 through cable providers or HBO Now, the higher price seems justified. Most HBO paid subscribers were automatically updated or changed from their HBO Go accounts to HBO Max when the platform was released. That's because HBO Go was gradually while HBO Now was renamed to HBO only. Your HBO Go account credentials should still work for HBO, but you'll need to download a new app. On which platforms is HBO Max available? HBO Max is AT&T customers who are already subscribed to HBO. AT&T customers with some newer unlimited plans also have free access to HBO Max, which is available on most Apple devices, including Apple TV, Android TV devices, Chromebooks, Google Chromecast and Chromecast, Xbox Series X, and even YouTube TV. After releasing without Amazon Fire TV Stick support, HBO Max was finally available on the Fire TV Stick in November 2020. However, it is not yet available on Roku or PlayStation 5. HBO Max with cable providers HBO also has agreements in place with a number of other cable providers and platform makers. Altice USA is giving all of its existing Optimum and Suddenlink HBO and HBO Now subscribers immediate access to HBO Max and its expanded programming at no additional cost. Other Altice customers can purchase HBO Max directly from the company as part of a cable TV package, as an add-on to a video package, or as a standalone streaming service available to Internet-only customers. Xbox One or Series X users who subscribe to HBO Max can also access the HBO Max app on existing consoles and through the Microsoft Store. However, HBO Max is not currently available on PlayStation 5. Finally, HBO Max is offered on some Samsung TVs. The owners of model Smart samsung made from 2016 are able to download and buy HBO Max directly on their TVs. What shows and movies does HBO Max include? HBO Max included 10,000 hours of premium content at launch. The library includes all HBO service, past and present Warner Bros. titles, content from around the world, and a monthly offering of new Max Originals, including Seth Seth comedy An American Pickle, Robert Zemeckis' adaptation of Roald Dahl's The Witches, Jordan Peele's lovecraft country horror series, and Ridley's sci-fi series Scott Raised by Wolves. Check out our list of the best HBO Max shows right now, for the latest additions. The streaming service comes from WarnerMedia's deep content library, including movies and television from Warner Bros.'s 100-year-old content collection, New Line, DC, CNN, TNT, TBS, TruTV, Cartoon Network, Adult Swim, Crunchyroll, Rooster Teeth, Looney Tunes, a curated selection of classic movies in partnership with TCM, and more. HBO Max also offers a wide selection of series and films acquired by third parties. In November 2020, the platform made headlines when it announced that it would make Warner Bros. Wonder Woman 1984 available to subscribers at no additional cost on the same day of the premiere hall performance. A week later, Warner Bros. doubled, saying they would release their entire day and 2021 whiteboard date into the streamer. That includes highly-awaited films such as The Matrix 4, Dune, The Suicide Squad and The Prequel to The Sopranos. Warner's Great Portfolio of Programming and Acquisitions that were available on day one include the complete libraries of Friends, The Big Bang Theory, Rick and Morty, The Boondocks, The Fresh Prince of Bel-Air, Anthony Bourdain: Parts Unknown, and many more popular shows. In the first year of launch, the platform will add libraries from South Park, Gossip Girl, The West Wing and more classic shows. Also, if you're among the legions of fans who enjoy Doctor Who through streaming services, HBO Max is going to be a must. On the release, HBO Max became the exclusive online home for the puckyish Time Lord, with all 11 seasons of the modern Doctor Who series available. Future seasons of the show will also air exclusively on HBO Max, coming to the service sometime after making his BBC America debut. The full list of the HBO original series, including Lovecraft Country, Westworld, Watchmen, Veep, Curb Your Enthusiasm, The Larry Sanders Show, and upcoming projects by J.J. Abrams and Joss Whedon, to name a few, is also available in some form on the HBO max series. Beyond and specials, HBO Max will also feature a library of more than 2,000 feature films in the first year. Immediately on release, audiences will have access to 700 hit films through HBO, including Crazy Rich Asians, A Star Is Born, Aquaman and Joker, as well as films purchased specifically for HBO Max through Warner Bros., the Criterion and the acclaimed Studio Ghibli. A few days after a Studio Ghibli representative told reporters that Japanese studio films would never make it to streaming services, WarnerMedia announced that the 21.21 Ghibli's animated features would be broadcast exclusively on HBO Max. That lineup includes the family-friendly favorite My Neighbor Totoro, Oscar Spirited Away and The Wind Rises. Twenty of these films are currently available. HBO Max will also exclusively launch Zack Snyder's court justice league sometime in 2021. WarnerMedia's portfolio also gives HBO Max the ability to select its 100-year film offerings. On release, available films will include Casablanca, The Wizard of Oz, Citizen Kane, The Matrix, The Goonies, When Harry Met Sally, The Lord of the Rings, Gremlins, all Lego movies and all the DC films of the past decade, including Wonder Woman, Justice League, and all Batman and Superman films of the past 40 years. WarnerMedia also covers the Films Godzilla and King Kong MonsterVerse, which will not be immediately available on release. Another major property of Warner Bros. Pictures that will not be included in the release is Harry Potter's Wizarding World, to which NBCUniversal purchased exclusive streaming rights in an agreement that runs until 2025. We regularly updated our list of the best movies on HBO Max, too. What about the original series and movies? Max Originals' list currently available to viewers includes the scripted comedy Love Life, starring Anna Kendrick; Sundance 2020 Official Selection Feature Film In the Register; Legendary Underground Ballroom Dance Contest; Craftopia, presented by YouTube star LaurDIY; new Looney Tunes Cartoons; and Sesame Workshops' The Not Too Late Show with Elmo. Ridley Scott's Raised by Wolves, on HBO Max Over time, Max Originals will continue to premier on HBO Max in a regular cadence during the summer and fall. The first HBO series Max Original to air was Ridley's sci-fi series Scott Raised by Wolves. Some other great content in the series has continued promptly, including The Flight Attendant, starring and produced by Kaley Cuoco, based on new York Times bestseller Chris Bohjalian's novel of the same name; new original episodes of the Doom Patrol, a favorite of DC fans; a new season of the Mystery-comedy Search Party; the three-part documentary series Expecting Amy, an intimate and unfiltered view of comedian Amy Schumer's life during her difficult pregnancy; J.G. Quintel's adult animated comedy Close Enough, creator of Cartoon Network's regular Emmy-winning show; and Adventure Time Distant Lands, the first of four breakout specials to relive the beloved Cartoon Network Adventure Time franchise. At the beginning of the new year, HBO Max will broadcast the very Friends' scriptless cast reunion special. As for the creators, the largest weapon in HBO Max's arsenal is J.J. Abrams, who recently signed a $250 million production agreement with WarnerMedia to new content for the company. That's less than the first $500 million rumors said the deal was worth it, but the rest of the facts seem to remain true, namely that Abrams signed with WarnerMedia because he was interested in his plans for HBO Max and that he's going to create a series of original series for the platform. The Star Wars director's first three one-hour shows will include Dark Justice League, Overlook and Duster. Justice League Dark was previously conceived as a film for the DC Expanded Universe, but will now be a series on HBO Max. Based on the comic book series of the same name introduced in 2011, Justice League Dark follows supernatural characters such as Zatanna, Deadman, Swamp Thing and John Constantine as hidden characters are taken. Overlook is a 10-episode horror thriller that is a near-spinoff by Stephen King's The Shining. It will feature some of the same characters from King's story, but will focus primarily on the haunted hotel at the center of Stanley Kubrick's 1980 film. Duster is set in the 1970s Southwest and revolves around an escape driver who works for a fast-growing criminal syndicate. HBO Max will also eventually deliver four young adult films produced by Greg Berlanti, the producer behind many of The CW's popular superhero programs, as well as two (or more) original films produced by Reese Witherspoon's production company Hello Sunshine. Let Them All Talk, a Steven Soderbergh-directed film starring Meryl Streep, Dianne Wiest and Candice Bergen, will also be an HBO Max exclusive, which will premiere on December 10. Berlanti will also produce two new DC Comics shows for HBO Max: Green Lantern and an anthology series called Strange Adventures. The service will also be the exclusive streaming source for the new Warner Bros. dramas produced for The CW, including Batwoman and another Riverdale spin-off, Katy Keene. Other scripted originals include a serial adaptation of James Fenimore Cooper's classic historical novel The Last of the Mohicans, directed by Cary Fukunaga and Watchmen director Nicole Kassell; Fat: Rydell High; a comedy directed by Cristin Milioti called Made for Love; and limited series Station Eleven, starring Mackenzie Davis. A reboot of Gossip Girl is also currently in development for HBO Max, while Kaley Cuoco of The Big Bang Theory will produce and star in The Flight Attendant, an upcoming murder mystery. Series based on the novels Made for Love and Circe are in production, while Starstruck, a film by comedian Rose Matafeo, will be a collaboration between WarnerMedia and BBC Three. Baby Star Driver Ansel will star in Tokyo Vice for the streamer. HBO has also announced plans to produce a one-hour series based on Adam Silvera's best-selling novel, More Happy Than Not. Kaley Cuoco of the Big Bang Theory returns in The Flight Attendant HBO Max will also try his luck in unscripted unscripted The Voguing Legendary series will be presented by Dashaun Wesley and judged by Jameela Jamil (The Good Place), Megan Thee Stallion, Law Roach and Leiomy Maldonado, along with a weekly rotary guest judge, while comments will be provided by DJ MikeQ. The Greatest Space design contest comes from the producers behind Queer Eye and The Amazing Race. Both are expected to be released in the spring of 2020. Other original series planned for the service include an animated prequel by Gremlins and Dune: The Sisterhood, a spin-off series inspired by Denis Villeneuve's upcoming adaptation of author Frank Herbert's sci-fi classic. HBO Max is also developing a film adaptation of Stephen King and Joe Hill's novel Throttle, produced by David S. Goyer's Phantom Four label. Does HBO Max support 4K? THE daily premiere of HBO's 1984 WONDER Woman Max will also feature her 4K HDR debut. The film will be presented in 4K resolution with Dolby Vision high dynamic range (HDR) and Dolby Atmos surround sound, marking significant improvements over previous platform formats. Since its release, HBO Max has supported nothing better than Full HD resolution and has refrained from making any promises about future HDR releases. Wonder Woman's announcement 1984 hopefully bodes well for the future of 4K on HBO Max. What about the DC Universe? In the fall of 2020 we learned that HBO Max would become the provider of all the video content currently on the DC Universe. When DC Universe changed its brand to DC Universe Infinite in January 2021, it will only offer digital comics, and all of its streaming content will make a move to HBO Max. This makes HBO Max the service to have to pick up all of his favorite DC Entertainment movies and series like Titans and Doom Patrol. Of all HBO's viewing options, HBO Max is the latest, so we look forward to seeing more changes in HBO Max, and its content in the near future. Parents will love HBO Max because it's HBO's first offering that offers children's programming. You'll find everything from Sesame Street and Adventure Time to South Park, Friends, The Office and more. If you have a compatible device, HBO Max is definitely worth a look.
