We understand that a well-designed air conditioning system goes beyond simply heating and cooling your living space. It provides clean and healthy air to stay comfortable all year round and uses efficient equipment to save time and money. Unique Indoor Comfort uses only the most reliable and high quality air conditioning products and equipment made by leading manufacturers such as: American Standard, Aprilaire, Buderus, Burnham, Carrier, Dynamic, Honeywell, Johnson Controls, LG, Mitsubishi, Puron R410, Tekmar, Triangle Tube, Unico, Uponor, Viessman, SPACEPAK and Weil-McClain. We stand out especially in sustainable green and environmentally friendly air conditioning products that provide exceptional value. Our focus on Unique Indoor Comfort has been the same for over a quarter of a century - we are dedicated to providing superior facilities and customer service. Founded in 1967, Unique Indoor Comfort made its name by installing central air conditioning in homes that used radiators for and has become a full-service residential and commercial air conditioning business in recent decades. Unique Interior Comfort is a owned and operated business with more than 30 years in the air conditioning sector. We've built a reputation for superior quality, through years of putting the customer first and doing the job right the first time. As neighbours, our family and the team of specialist technicians think of our clients as neighbours; Our goal is to maintain our reputation as a quality organization, continue to deliver superior heating and cooling services to the Boston area and ensure that you can be proud of our work and products for years to come.
